AND NO FOOLING

San Rafael Buses To Fold For Lack Of Passengers

San Rafael's local bus service will make its last runs tomorrow evening.

Moreover, Marin Transit Authority, which has operated the buses since last October, will ask the California Public Utilities Commission on Monday to either cancel or hold in abeyance an application for a permit for scheduled bus operations extending to Hamilton Air Force Base, Terra Linda and Marinwood, and on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard from Greenbrae through Ean Anselmo.

There are not enough riders, and it appears "there never will be," president Robert L. Peterson of Marin Transit said today.

Peterson said he and other members of his company attempted to work out an arrangement through the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce to provide free bus service to downtown San Rafael, underwritten by merchants. But only 26 merchants signed up, and the cost figured out at $40.22 per month each, which they regarded as prohibitive, he reported.

"There are about a half-dozen downtown merchants who practically told us to write our own ticket," Peterson reported. "But it would be unfair and too expensive for so few to try to carry the load."

The bus service was started by the newly formed company last Oct. 24, with four routes and hourly service. In January, one route was eliminated and service on two others was reduced to every two hours. Fares have been 30 cents per ride.

In March, the company, which has been operating under a city license, aplied to the PUC for the additional routes outside San Rafael. When a hearing on the application opened at the Civic Center on April 5, PUC accountants re-

KENNEDY, PEARSON IN PATCH-UP TALKS

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—President John F. Kennedy welcomed Canadian Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson today as an old friend of the United States as the two leaders got together in an attempt to patch up relations between the two countries.

The president spoke at nearby Otis Air Force Base on Cape Cod where he and the Canadian leader landed in their jet planes a few minutes apart.

Pearson, who took office less than a month ago, also indicated a desire to heal the differences which developed under conservative Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker.

Pearson and Kennedy planned to begin their talks at a luncheon arranged at the Hyannis Port home of Joseph P. Kennedy, the president's father.

The two leaders plan two days of informal talks at this vacation resort on all outstanding problems between the two countries, including nuclear defense and trade.

The two leaders were to spend most of today and tomorrow reviewing the issues which have built up friction between the two countries during the past six years.

Pearson has had similar talks with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan in London, as part of his announced program of trying to restore Canada's prestige in world affairs.

The meeting between Kennedy and Pearson finds relations between the United States and Canada at the lowest point in years. Former Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker was highly critical of the United States on many questions, and he ran in the recent election campaign on an anti-American platform.

HARRY J. MACK
Held on felony counts

Ex-Marinite Accused Of Embezzlement

Harry J. Mack, former executive director of the Marin branch of the American Cancer Society, was jailed in San Mateo County yesterday, accused of embezzling $4,930 from the San Mateo County Heart Assn.

He became executive secretary of the San Mateo County Heart Assn. last September, on resigning after five years with the Cancer Society in Marin. He resigned the San Mateo post March 14.

Sgt. John Borcherding of San Mateo police said Mack admitted taking the Heart Assn. money, saying: "I needed more money than I was making. There were things I wanted for the family."

He was charged with grand theft and forgery.

Dr. John H. Manwaring, president of the Marin branch of the Cancer Society, said there was no hint of any embezzlement of its funds by Mack, and an audit had been made after last year's successful fund raising campaign. However, "we're going to have an immediate additional audit," Dr. Manwaring said.

He commented that Mack left the Marin post for a better paying job—"he got around $500 per month here." His pay in San Mateo was reported at $8,250 per year.

While in Marin, Mack lived simply and there was no indication that he was living beyond his means, Dr. Manwaring said.

Mack is 41, married, and father of two children. While on the Marin job, he lived in San Anselmo and operated a one-man office in San Rafael.

Probe Of Fairfax Police Ruled Out

Marin County Grand Jury last night decided to take no action, after an investigation of "conflicting aspects" of a burglary investigation by Fairfax police officers last Jan. 28.

The jury heard testimony for about four and one-half hours yesterday afternoon. Then Foreman Edwin A. Wells released this brief statement:

"There was not enough evidence to support an action of any kind. The investigation is completed as far as the grand jury is concerned, and we decided there's nothing here to act on."

A statement by Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety failed to shed any further light. Said Garety: "In view of the fact that the grand jury has decided to take no action, I feel further comments from me at this time would not be appropriate."

Garety added: "Chief (James) Orr cooperated fully in the investigation, and his officers were quite willing to testify and did so."

Among witnesses called by the jury yesterday were Sgt. Lee A. Perry, who submitted his resignation on April 13 to enter private business; Sgt. William Dooley, who passed the street department examination and became superintendent of streets; Officer David Sturges, and Gordon Corson, 27, of Oakland, who was arrested on Jan. 28 on suspicion of attempted burgalry of Rubini's Restaurant.

Sergeant Perry, whose resignation from the Fairfax Police Department takes effect next Wednesday, said his quitting had nothing to do with the Corson arrest or the subsequent grand jury investigation.

"I think the grand jury statement will silence rumor mongers who like to throw suspicions toward the police department," said Perry. "And you can quote me on that."

Perry said the grand jurors quizzed him about a glove found on the roof of the restaurant. "Reserve Officer Paul Simpson and I both saw Officer Sturges find the glove on the roof," he said. This glove was similar to another glove found in Corson's car. Corson insisted he was never on the roof of the restaurant.

Corson was later charged with trespassing on the roof, but the district attorney moved to dismiss the charge on April

Mayor Hints Drainage Bond Issue In Ross

If Ross is to undertake complete drainage improvements to the town, it could cost more than $100,000 and have to be financed by a bond issue, the town council heard last night.

Town Engineer John C. Oglesby presented the second phase of a townwide drainage system for Winship Park. He estimated the cost for the system in this area at $23,500.

Cost for the whole system "could well go over $100,000," commented Mayor Henry C. Scott.

"It is beyond the taxing power of the city and may have to be submitted to the people as a bond issue."

Oglesby will submit further cost estimates of the drainage system at the June 13 council meeting.

Bridge Board To Study Bus Service

Marin County commuters won a victory today when Golden Gate Bridge directors, reversing a formerly hostile position, voted unanimously to participate in a committee for improvement of Marin-San Francisco bus service.

Their action technically involved a resolution lining up with the San Francisco City and County Board of Supervisors in support of a proposal by Marin County supervisors for formation of such a committee.

On a basis of this, the San Francisco supervisors are expected to appoint three members of the committee at once. Marin has already named Supervisor Peter Behr, chairman, with Supervisors William D. Fusselman and William A. Gnoss.

Today's action was a personal triumph for Thomas D. Hardcastle of Novato, chairman of the bridge board's Commuters Affair Committee.

Hardcastle and Behr were jointly responsible for the idea of a committee. First action was taken by Marin supervisors who put the proposal forward without specifying the size of the group.

Bridge directors at first showed suspicion and hostility, much of this apparently based on fear that they might find themselves running a new bus service. They indicated general readiness to seek means of improving existing service but Hardcastle had a hard fight at recent meetings to prevent tabling of the whole bus question.

Meanwhile San Francisco supervisors endorsed the formation of a committee and said it should comprise nine members, three from each of the jurisdictions concerned. It was stipulated that committee work would be confined to study of the bus problem and that no money is to be spent.

Hardcastle's committee met at 9:30 a.m. today and its five members, including Marin director Leland S. Murphy of Inverness, voted a recommendation that the bridge board follow the San Francisco lead.

Shortly after 10 members of the full 15-member bridge board met at 10:30 p.m., Hardcastle presented the commuter committee's recommendations and moved that the board go on record in similar sense.

Director Dan E. London of San Francisco promptly second the motion.

"Is there any discussion?" asked Chairman Ben D. Lerer. Nobody answered and roll-call brought only "aye" responses.

Clearing Weather Is Due Tomorrow

Scattered showers in Marin County today left .15 of an inch of rainfall in Woodacre, the highest measurement reported for the last 24 hours.

Clearing weather was forecast for tomorrow, except in the Sierra and southern San Joaquin Valley. The five-day forecast called for clear weather at least until Wednesday.

Rainfall measured .10 in Tamalpais Valley, .9 in Belvedere and Point Reyes Station, .8 in the Chevy Chase district of Larkspur, .7 in San Anselmo, .5 in Novato, .8 San Rafael and a trace in Mill Valley.

Film Shown Of Protest At Quentin

A brief movie, showing young demonstrators being dragged away from San Quentin's east gate last week, was shown to a Marin Municipal Court jury this morning.

Defense lawyer Hadden W. Roth introduced the film, a portion of a television newscast, in an effort to show that the demonstrators had nothing but peaceful intent, and the officers used considerable force.

Robert D. Polansky, 20, and Peter R. Raskin, 18, of Berkeley are being tried before Judge Harold J. Haley for failing to disperse.

Teen-aged girls and boys took the stand to describe their sit-down demonstration as a "type of silent vigil" similar to the tactics used by Mahatma Ghandi and by Negro demonstrators in the South. The youths said they were at San Quentin to protest executions.

One girl testified she was

Agreement Believed Near To End Demonstrations In Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — The Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. took a personal hand today in biracial negotiations which could lead to cessation of mass demonstrations in this restive steel city.

A King lieutenant, the Rev. Fred L. Shuttlesworth, said he believed an agreement would be reached today. But he warned that mass demonstrations would be resumed if negotiations fail.

It was learned that the National Maritime Union (AFL-CIO), had sent a check for $32,692 to an organization of which King is honorary chairman.

The money apparently was being used to put up bond for persons arrested during the mass demonstrations which were almost a daily occurrence since April 3 until a suspension was announced by Negro leaders Monday.

The Rev. Wyatt Tee Walker, another King aide, confirmed that mechanics were in process for releasing the demonstrators on bond. Still another leader, the Rev. Andrew Young, said that most of the demonstrators apparently would be released shortly.

A check of the Birmingham jail showed that the demonstrators were being released in a steady stream.

One of the four points sought by King's group is dropping of charges against the demonstrators. King said last night that an agreement had been worked out except for minor details.

Any agreement by the biracial group has no official status, but King indicated that he would go along with the agreement for a limited time.

Officials from both the City Commission and the newly elected Mayor-Council said last night that any agreement worked out by the biracial group was not binding on them.

The committee is composed of business and civic leaders.

The Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy and King both have warned that mass demonstrations will be resumed if no agreement is reached today.

For the second straight day, there were no massive demonstrations yesterday.

Child Is Blamed In Apartment Fire

A child playing with matches was blamed by county firemen for a fire today which caused $1,050 damage to a San Geronimo apartment.

One of Mrs. Connie Booth's two children started the fire which broke out at 6:47 a.m. in a closet in her upstairs apartment on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, opposite the Lagunitas School, said County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom.

The two-sotry building is owned by Joseph Drosihn of Ross. Damage to the structure, mostly from smoke, was estimated at $750, and to the contents, $300.

Bishop Pike Asks Full Report On 'Tongues' Session

Episcopal Bishop James A. Pike called today for a full report on a "glossolalia session" last night at Holy Innocents Episcopal Church in Corte Madera.

The bishop said he wants to determine whether the session violated his pastoral order of last week which forbid encouragement by Episcopal clergy in his diocese of "speaking in tongues" at parish services. If it does, according to canonical law, Rev. Tod W. Ewald, pastor of Holy Innocents, might face admonishment, suspension, or even unfrocking.

The diocese's chancellor for canon law, San Francisco attorney Philip Adams, was present at the session last night.

A dozen men linked arms, praying, then began "speaking in tongues," stringing syllables together in no formal language.

(AP Wirephoto)

BUT ROMNEY'S POPULAR

Barry Gets A Big Boost

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater won the biggest round of applause last night when Republican leaders gathered to honor him at a $1,000-a-plate dinner.

But many of those who cheered the Arizonan said later in interviews that they thought the best vote-winner as the 1964 GOP presidential nominee would be Michigan's Gov. George Romney.

There was some talk of California's Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel for vice president.

Goldwater himself has indicated he doesn't think the "kingmakers" would stand for him as the 1964 standard bearer. And he told a newsman he's unhappy "because of all this pressure" on him to seek the nomination.

The off-stage consensus among some GOP leaders was that Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York has grievously, if not irreparably, damaged his chances by his divorce and marriage to a divorcee.

At last night's affair, Goldwater, a 14-carat conservative, was presented a silver coffee urn for his years of service as chairman of the GOP's Senatorial Campaign Committee.

The applause for him far surpassed that for anybody, including Romney. But applause often is not decisive, and a tip-off came when Romney, a middle of the roader who plumps for a "citizens party" seemed allergic to having his picture taken in a twosome with Goldwater.

In fact, Romney walked right out of camera focus. It was not until Kuchel, who has roundly denounced rightist extremists, appeared on the scene and struck a stance between the two men, that the picture taking could proceed.

As for Goldwater, he confessed to a reporter that he was both unhappy and happy.

Unhappy because of pressure on him to seek the presidential nomination.

Happy because he is getting back the money he shelled out for last year's congressional campaigns. It seems he bankrolled the GOP to the extent of $30,000 and the dinner, grossing more than $400,000, means he will be repaid.

"But don't publicize this too much," he said. "I don't want people bothering me trying to borrow money."

Two notable absentees sent telegrams to the dinner, praising Goldwater:

1. Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, who is at one of his favorite golfing bases, Augusta, Ga., promised to do his best to help the Republicans sweep the nation next year.

2. Rockefeller, honeymooning in Venezuela, said that only a "conflicting commitment" kept him away from the dinner. He called for unity in "the challenging year ahead of us."

Many Congress members, several governors and other GOP prominents attended the dinner. Romney made a short talk opposing "unlimited government" and excesses by big labor unions or big corporations. He called for a "coalition of Americans through the Republican party" to do away with all forms of bondage.

At the entrance to the hotel dining hall a big papier mache elephant was set up. It was a mechanical elephant, wagging its trunk and tail. But unaccountably, just as the crowd started to file in, its inner machinery failed and it became motionless.

Two green bows drooped from the elephant's tusks.

Asked to explain what the bows meant, Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky, former Republican national chairman, said:

"I assume it means we are going to get the Irish vote."

He did not explain how this could be accomplished against a man named Kennedy.

But Sen. Everett M. Dirkson of Illinois cheered everybody up by calling for heroism such as the ancient Greeks displayed.

Riots At 3 Campuses

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A touch of spring fever struck three New England college campuses last night and sent students swarming into the streets of New Haven, Conn.; Providence, R.I., and Waltham, Mass.

Before dawn broke today, what began as spring larks turned into riots at the campuses of Yale and Brown universities.

At New Haven it took nightstick swinging policemen to bring 1,500 Yale students under control early today.

Providence police used dogs, motorcycles and nightsticks to drive the Brown students back to their dormitories.

At Brandeis University in Waltham 1,500 students swarmed toward the girls' dormitories but quickly dispersed when police cruisers showed up.

Tax Cut Held Essential For Economy Rise

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP) — President John F. Kennedy's chief economist warned industry leaders today that the spring business upswing, although surprisingly strong, is insufficient to make a real dent in unemployment.

Dr. Walter W. Heller brought to the Business Council, holding its spring meeting here, an appeal for active industry support for a substantial tax cut this year.

Without the kind of stimulus that a tax cut could bring, Heller estimated, it would take nearly 10 years of uninterrupted business growth at the present growth rate of expression to restore full employment. And the stimulus of tax reduction, he argued, would have its greatest impact if injected into an economy that already was in the recovery phase.

Heller apparently did not need to make a hard sales pitch. At least a score of the council's 165 members, including some of the biggest names in industry and finance, have joined Henry Ford II, board chairman of Ford Motor Co. in a movement to mobilize nationwide business support for an early tax cut of some 10 billion dollars.

These include the council's chairman, Frederick M. Kappel, board chairman of American Telephone and Telegraph Co., and its immediate past chairman, Roger M. Blough, board chairman of U.S. Steel Corp.

Each year U.S. farmers use 5 million tons of steel in the form of farm machinery, trucks, cars, fencing and building materials.

160 Inmates Take Another Step Toward Rehabilitation

By LOREN MacARTHUR

It was not a stereotyped graduation last night at Bayview High School.

The class was definitely integrated. And as the traditional graduation march sounded, it was the audience who rose to depart, leaving the graduates behind.

The teachers got more credit than the usual valedictorian thinks to offer, and the graduates talked less about the future than about the past.

It was commencement night at San Quentin Prison for 160 high school, eighth grade and vocational training graduates. The school is administrated by the Marin County superintendent of schools.

"This is not my first incarceration," said 34-year-old salutatorian John V. Divine. "I spent seven years in prison in Arkansas (Tucker Farm). This a place where the whip is still used daily. The working hours are from sun up to sun down. Recreation is non-existent; education is unheard of.

"There is an overabundance of human suffering. The threat of insanity was imminent. Upon my release, I hated everything. Needless to say, I hated myself.

"In a short while I was caught again, this time in California.

"My first reaction here (at San Quentin was one of wonderment. I adopted a flippant attitude and asked the former principal at Bayview (Norman McCollom, who retired last year) what they wanted of me.

"He said, 'We want to help you.' His answer was the beginning for me. Two weeks later I went back.

"When I leave a few months from now, I will take with me a love for the society I am entering and a confidence in myself. I owe this to those who have helped to educate me."

Pierre P. Le Blanc, a 30-year-old French Canadian, won top scholastic honors among the 34 high school graduates. In his valedictory, he individually honored each teahcer who had taught him.

"I have never owed so much to so few," he said. "My first teacher gave me an 'A' and said, 'You worked hard and you earned it.' For the first time in my life I knew the feeling of success."

LeBlanc put in a word for programmed learning classes by delivering half his speech in Spanish, which he learned through 46 hours work in a programmed Spanish course.

The graduates listened intently while Peter Behr, Marin County supervisor, told them: "Each of you has had the courage to risk failure; this is the true courage.

"Without self-respect, one goes into society with neither a sword nor a shield. If you don't have it, you'll be bruised by every bumpkin who comes along.

"A person who can't get along with others is imprisoned for life in solitary confinement."

Bayview Principal George Renworth remarked briefly that the graduates had met more than the usual standards to earn their diplomas. "We also meet the qualifications of a neighborhood school," he said, "although I'm sure some would like to change neighborhoods."

The Bayview Glee Club and the band sang and played several numbers.

Summer Teachers' Pay Hike Put Off

Marin Junior College District trustees last night shied away from considering $18,000 a year in pay raises for summer session teachers as they studied a tentative fiscal 1964 budget of nearly two million dollars.

The proposed new College of Marin budget of $1,927,370 is up about $99,000 over the current budget, said Business Mgr. Norman Bird.

He reported the district will have greater expenses because of teachers' pay raises and additional teachers to handle a 15 per cent enrollment increase expected in September.

Bird said he believes the tax rate will be the same as last year.

This was 77 cents per $100 of assessed valuation, consisting of the old basic rate of 42 cents 35 cents to be levied for 10 years, authorized by the voters on June 6, 1962, to raise $11,305,000 for pay-as-you-go financing of expanding the college at Kentfield and establishing a second campus in North Marin.

The question of hiking summer teachers' pay was raised by a report from College President Stephen E. Epler. He and Dean Ellsworth R. Briggs of the adult school urged the teachers be raised $1 from the current $5.50 and $6.50 an hour.

Epler said if summer pay was upped to $6.50 and $7.50 "it should be done before the summer session starts.

Briggs said that when regular day teachers' pay was increased "my evening people were not included." He added, "we aren't very near the top."

(Pay raises totaling $41,644 for the spring semester were voted last Dec. 11 for 70 day teachers, Epler, Dean of instruction Paul Clymer, Dean of Students Irwin P. Diamond, Briggs and Herbert Blanchett, administrative assistant to Epler.)

"I don't like to do it without knowing where the money is coming from," said Trustee-Clerk Kent O. Seymour.

Board President Elizabeth M. Deedy said, "The point probably needs more study." Trustee Robert E. Rogers agreed.

Trustees and architects next Friday will visit four or five sites proposed for a second campus, meeting at the college at 10 a.m.

Girl Held In Jail More Than Two Hours With Broken Knee

A 19-year-old Santa Venetia girl was kept in Marin County jail for more than two hours early yesterday with a broken right knee before being released on bail, it was disclosed today.

Charlene Marie Klingler of 1170 Adrian Way was booked by the California Highway Patrol on a charge of being drunk in and about an automobile after the car she was reportedly driving crashed into a parked car and ripped out two fences on Vendola Drive in Santa Venetia about 10:20 p.m. Wednesday.

Her passenger, Joe Riboli of 20 Sais Avenue, San Anselmo, was treated at San Rafael General Hospital for head cuts.

Miss Klingler refused treatment at the scene, according to the CHP.

Miss Klingler was booked at the jail at 12:04 a.m. yesterday. She was released on bail at 2:30 a.m.

She was treated at 12:40 p.m. yesterday at Marin General Hospital for multiple contusions and a broken right knee, according to a hospital spokesman.

Miss Klingler was to appear in Marin Municipal Court this afternoon to answer on the charges arising when he auto hit a car belonging to Marion O. Hulbert, parked in front of his home at 64 Vendola Drive, then tore through 15 feet of wire fence in the Hulbert yard and 20 feet of picket fence next door at the home of Wesley Olson of 63 Vendola Drive.

19 on grounds of insufficient evidence.

Although no one else would make any further official comments on what the grand jury was "investigating," this much appears to be fact:

Corson denied being on the roof and said he had been framed. He took two lie detector tests and passed. Dooley and Sturges also took lie tests. Sergeant Perry, who said he does not believe in the validity of lie tests, did not take a test.

There was never any question about police officers taking bribes or being involved in the burglary attempt in any way. The only question was, whether the police officers should have obtained more solid evidence before arresting Corson. In other words, were the police officers or officer over-zealous in the attempt to place Corson at the scene of the burglary attempt?

None of the police officers knew Corson previously.

TRIAL

Yesterday, Sheriff Louis P. Mountanous and Capt. Sidney picked up bodily and removed from the front of the gate five or six times. She said she kept returning to sit down in front of the gate "because I was fighting for an ideal."

"Didn't the sheriff say you had all the right in the world to protest just so you did not block traffic?" asked prosecutor Bruce B. Bales.

"Yes," the girl replied.

S. Stinson testified that all they asked of the demonstrators was not to block traffic in and out of the gate.

Lyle Grosjean, a bearded theological student from Albany, told the jurors he saw boys and girls dragged to the side. In two instances, he saw officers "kick" two demonstrators.

Teacher Rehired

Mrs. Julia Silva, who has been the teacher at the Laguna School for the past six years, was rehired for her seventh year last night by the Laguna Joint School District board, according to Mrs. Agnes Terribilini, president.

Two White Prisoners Attacked By Negroes

An attack on two white inmates at San Quentin Prison yesterday by five Negro prisoners left one of the white convicts in a coma today in the prison hospital.

The Negroes, four of them admitted Black Muslims, pounded the head of Robert Bearden, 25, against the concrete floor of the isolation unit. Bearden, who is serving five years to life for armed robbery in Orange County, was reported "still in a coma and in serious condition" today by Walter D. Achuff, associate warden.

The attack occurred around 9:35 a.m. when the men were released from their cells for an hour's exercise.

"All the five Negroes have been involved in racial incidents," said Achuff. "The men they attacked weren't well known to them; they just happened to be there."

One of the Negroes, James Smith, 23, who prefers to be known as "James X" in the manner of the Black Muslims, took part in a February riot at the prison in which a Negro prisoner, Booker T. Johnson, was shot and killed by a guard. Smith threw himself over Johnson's body and refused to move until a Negro guard coaxed him away.

The second white inmate in yesterday's attack, Russell Dillard, 25, escaped with bumps and bruises. He is also serving five years to life for a Los Angeles robbery.

Acuff said the Negroes will appear before the prison disciplinary board Tuesday. The extent of the charges, he said, will depend upon Bearden's condition.

The other Negroes are: Ulysses McDaniel, 25, serving six months to five years for a Los Angeles car theft, the only member of the group not an admitted Muslim; Robert Harris, 25, a bad check artist from San Joaquin county, serving six months to 14 years.

Carlos Martinez, 41, convicted three times, now serving five years to life for a Los Angeles robbery, and Vernon Rushing, 25, also serving five years to life for a Los Angeles robbery.

BUSES

ported they found the scheduled bus operation was losing $4,000 per month.

Peterson said Marin Transit will remain in the charter bus business, which he said "has been very good, but we've been missing out on charters because we had busses tied up on the transit routes."

It is bidding to provide bus service in three school districts, he said. It already operates service to Redwood High School under a charter scheme arranged by parents.

Nineteen parking meters pulled off San Rafael's Fourth Street and Lincoln Avenue to provide bus loading zones presumably will be replaced.

Peterson expressed regret over giving up the bus service, but said it could not be carried on without some form of subsidy. Merchant subsidy was considered the best possibility, he said, because of alarm of downtown San Rafael merchants over the Northgate Shopping Center, now being built adjoining Freitas Parkway at the north end of the city.

Merchants, through the chamber of commerce, have been urging action by the city to provide more parking lots immediately, including a call for tearing down the city hall and putting city offices into temporary quarters so the city hall property could become a parking lot. Some merchants, however, objected to the buses on Fourth Street at the outset of the operation.

Discontinuing the bus service will have no effect on the Redwood Moving Storage Co., which is under the same ownership, Peterson said.

THEFT

He left to supervise a staff of six in San Mateo.

The San Mateo County Heart Assn. reported his resignation there was requested because he lacked leadership qualifications. An audit taken after he left disclosed the shortage.

The San Mateo charges alleged Mack had withdrawn money from association bank accounts by forging the signature of Dr. Eldon E. Ellis, president of the association. Withdrawals there—as in the Marin Cancer Society chapter—require checks to be countersigned as well as bearing the director's signature.

Mack allegedly also took four U.S. Treasury interest coupons from the association's safe deposit box and cashed them for a total of $1,000, depositing only $500 to the association.

Mack held a master's degree in educational psychology from University of Pittsburgh. He had been a Junior Red Cross director in Salt Lake City and a case worker for the San Leandro Welfare Council before coming to Marin.

On his arrest it was disclosed also that he twice spent time in Atascadero State Hospital, being confined for a homosexual offense and returning voluntarily for further treatment after being once released.

OBITUARIES

John Raffler Dies At 62

John Raffler, 62, didn't pick up his morning paper yesterday. And he didn't sit all day on the bench outside Bill's Superette in Stinson Beach as was his regular custom.

"Everybody missed him," said store owner William Hoffman, who always gave Raffler his morning paper. "He was a man of regular habits."

About 7 p.m. a neighbor, Bernard W. McLaughlin, found Raffler dead in his bed. Deputy Coroner Harold J. Keaton today attributed death to natural causes.

Raffler, Hoffman said, was called "Silent John" by many and "Gentle John" by children because he was quiet and unassuming. He sat on the grocery store bench on Shoreline Highway and Calle Del Mar daily until the store closed. He rarely talked and never bothered anybody.

Raffler lived on Buena Vista Avenue in Hillside Cottage No. 6. He had been in Stinson Beach since 1945 when he retired from the Army as a master sergeant. He served 26 years in the Army.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Russell and Gooch Mortuary in Mill Valley.

FLOYD FISHER

Funeral services for Floyd G. Fisher, 57, of 33 Park Way, San Anselmo, will be held Monday at 9:45 a.m. at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael.

Fisher, a resident of Marin County for two years, was killed Wednesday when a car, driven by Vincent O'Neil of Pacifica jumped the divider strip on Highway 101 just north of the Waldo Tunnel and landed on top of Fisher's car in the northbound lane.

Fisher, a native of New York State, lived in San Francisco before coming to Marin. He was a dairy engineer with Marin Dell Milk Co. of San Francisco. He was a veteran of the Army in World War II.

He is survived by his wife, Charlotte, and a son, Philip Fisher of San Francisco.

Burial will be in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

TORA BLAKNEY

Funeral services for Mrs. Tora B. Blakney, 27, who died at her home at 237 Cobblestone Drive, Marinwood, Wednesday, will be held at 11 a.m. tomorrow at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael.

Mrs. Blakney, a resident of California for eight years and of Marin County for seven years, was a native of Chicago. Her husband, John H. Blakney Jr., is a sales representative with the California Chemical Co.

Other survivors include three daughters, Linda A., Nancy D. and Susan A. Blakney; a son, John H. Blakney III; her parents, Kurt and Sabine Becker of Chicago, and a brother, Otto Becker of Chicago.

CHARLES BROWN

SHOSHONE (AP) — Charles Brown, a Democratic state senator for 24 years, died yesterday at his home in the tiny desert town of Shoshone. He was 77.

An old-time Western lawman who turned lawmaker — and remained undefeated as senator from Alpine, Inyo and Mono counties from 1938 to last November.

He was long a familiar sight in the state capital — a tall, erect, stern-featured man who always wore a Western-style cowboy hat. He was a prominent member of the Senate rules committee and was well-known in mining circles.

The Inyo County coroner's office said Brown died of an apparent heart attack. His body was being taken to a mortuary in Bishop.

POPE GETS PEACE PRIZE IN VATICAN CEREMONIES

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope John XXIII today received the $160,000 Balzan Peace Prize, the first head of the Roman Catholic Church to get such an award.

The stirring ceremony in the vatican and St. Peter's Basilica was marked by the presence of the many high government officials ever to attend such an official Vatican function.

Former Italian President Giovanni Gronchi presented the prize to the Pope. The money will go to relief organizations for World War II refugees.

The 81-year-old Pope was obviously pleased at receiving the award, and showed no outward sign of any return of the ailments which plagued him earlier this year.

Concern for the leader of the world's half billion Roman Catholics heightened abruptly this week when the Pope canceled an expected trip to the Abbey of Montecassino, reportedly on Doctors' orders. There has been no official statement to indicate that the Pontiff is not feeling normal.

The Balzan Foundation which awards the prize is a Nobel-type body established two years ago in memory of the late Eugenio Balzan, an Italian newsman, who chose self-exile in Switzerland rather than live under the former Fascist regime in Italy. The foundation is financed with money willed by his late daughter, Angela.

Hoffa Facing New Charges Of Attempted Juror Bribes

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Teamsters President James R. Hoffa today faced new charges —attempting to bribe jurors in his deadlocked federal court conspiracy trial here last year.

A five-count indictment returned by a special federal grand jury accused the labor leader with "aiding, commanding and inducing" efforts to influence two jurors and a prospective juror to vote for his acquittal.

In Philadelphia, Hoffa said he was not guilty and declined comment because he had not seen the indictment. He appeared before a U.S. commissioner and posted a $10,000 bond for a hearing next Monday.

Six other persons, most of them close friends or associates of Hoffa, also were indicted, and Justice Department attorneys indicated still more indictments might be forthcoming.

The grand jury charged the defendants offered $10,000 to a prospective juror, a similar amount to the son of a juror and a "promotion" to a Tennessee highway patrolman whose wife was on the jury. The two jurors were replaced before the case went to the jury.

Hoffa, 50, who heads the nation's largest single union, was tried on charges he conspired to violate the Taft-Hartley Act by accepting funds illegally from a Detroit transport firm in return for labor peace.

The trial, which began Oct. 22, ended Dec. 23, when U.S. Dist. Judge William E. Miller declared a mistrial, the jury having reported it was hopelessly deadlocked, 7 to 5, for acquittal.

Demo, GOP Units Cut For Blood

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — The Pima County Democratic Committee challenged the county's Republicans to a blood letting contest.

But it was for a good cause.

Both political groups gave blood for the Tucson Chapter of the American Red Cross in a campaign with the theme "Pints for Politics."

The Red Cross said use of the blood would be entirely nonpartisan.

$100-Million Brown School Plan

SACRAMENTO (AP)—California public schools may get a 100-million dollar lift in state aid next year under Brown administration plans disclosed today.

The proposed 1963—64 state budget already carries 800 million dollars to help pay classroom costs. That's an increase of nearly 50 million dollars just to take care of normal growth.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown originally recommended boosting the amount by 30 million dollars tied to a countywide school tax.

Finance Director Hale Champion said the governor probably will seek still another 20 million dollars as a result of an upturn in tax revenues and prospects for a jump in tideland oil income.

If the legislature agrees, the total still would be about half of the extra funds which school people figure they should get to meet their minimum needs.

However, some legislative leaders have said the administration will be lucky to get even the 30 - million - dollar boost.

Champion told the Senate Finance Committee yesterday that new revenue projections indicate the flow of cash into the hard-pressed state treasury will exceed earlier estimates by 30.5 dollars.

It was on this basis that Brown said Wednesday he would ask for an increase in school aid. He suggested 20 million dollars would now be available but made no formal recommendation.

The extra 20 million dollars would be designed primarily to tide over those districts adversely affected by the proposed countywide tax equalization system.

Meanwhile, the governor, who has had a rocky time with his heavy 1963 legislative program, won and lost on two phases of his plan for reorganizing the the state government.

An Assembly committee decided on a between-session study of Brown's request for broad power to overhaul state agencies by executive order.

The same Government Organization Committee approved legislation to create a career executive category in state civil service.

The bill, by Assemblyman John T. Knox (D-Richmond) would authorize the State Personnel Board to designate high-ranking positions for inclusion in or withdrawal from this category.

During the committee hearing, the question arose as to whether they would be abused by an administration and open the way to a return of the spoils system.

"It is very unlikely that an administration could play politics with this law," John E. Fisher, executive officer of the personnel board, said.

Ross 'Being Taken' On Garbage Rates

Ross "is being taken" on its garbage rates, Town Clerk Mrs. John G. Lewis told the town council last night.

Mrs. Lewis cited a report she prepared, comparing garbage rates in Ross to those in Larkspur.

"In some instances we are paying double," she said. "Evidently, the rates are higher in Ross than anywhere else."

Councilman Roy Farrington Jones said one residence in Ross was being billed by Marin Sanitary Service for rates on a home at 1,000 feet elevation when the topographical map showed the property to be only 400 feet elevation.

The council decided to write a letter to the sanitary service asking it to enter into negotiations for granting of a franchise.

The council refused to grant a subdivider of property at 31 Lagunitas Road sold by Mr. and Mrs. Daniel T. Radtke to Dr. John W. Severinghaus before a subdivision request was made to the council.

Mayor Harry C. Scott said the transaction was a "fait accompli" and, "I don't see the slightest reason for granting it now."

The Ross Town Council also:

1. Granted a variance to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Hamilton of 10 Woodside Way for an addition of a studio bedroom and bath.

2. Decided that gasoline tax monies for the next fiscal year would go toward maintenance of streets and no specific project.

3. Adopted ordinances providing for town employees to be under the state employees retirement system, setting up county requirements for septic tanks, and requiring public hearings on informal subdivisions.

4. Approved a form for application for informal subdivisions with a $15 fee.

Teachers' Conference Is Opening

A conference, designed to help elementary school teachers make better use of parents and community business and industry in educating pupils, will open at 7:30 p.m. today at Vallecito School, 50 Nova Albion Way, San Rafael.

Sponsored by the Dixie School District with cooperation from the county schools office, the two-day conference is expected to attract some 500 Marin teachers.

First speaker will be John Goodlad, professor of education and director of the University Elementary School at University of California at Los Angeles. His talk will start at 8:30 tonight.

Tomorrow's program opens at 9 a.m. There will be talks and panel discussions through the day.

Birth Control Proposal 'Killed Out Of Fear'

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Sen. Alvin C. Weingand (D-Santa Barbara), said today his birth control resolution was killed "out of fear rather than conviction."

"I don't think I could have made my case more convincing. The issue wasn't decided on the basis of reason," said the 58-year-old Lutheran hotelman.

The Senate's public health and safety committee yesterday rejected the proposal to put the state in the birth control field after a two-and-one-half hour hearing, the first public debate ever held before the California Legislature on the subject.

The committee, composed of seven members, including one Catholic, also defeated a motion by Sen. John W. Holmdahl (D-Oakland), to give the resolution a between-sessions study.

Publisher, Birch Aide Clash In Heated Debate

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Newspaper publisher Leonard Finder engaged in a heated debate yesterday with a coordinator of the John Birch Society.

Finder, editor and publisher of the Sacramento Union, gave this characterization of the group:

"It proposed, in effect, that if our house is threatened with fire from the left, we should prevent that particular fire from consuming the house by building a fire from the right which will destroy it first."

Tom Manion, Northern California coordinator for the society, argued before a Young Republican group at Sacramento State College that the group's true purpose was to "combat the evil forces that threaten our country" and stop "deepening collectivism."

Finder described Manion as "a professional agitator" and a "paid propogandist" for the Birch Society.

"The John Birch Society has developed a series of techniques which seem closely modeled after those used by the Nazis in Germany and the Communists in various lands," said Finder.

Manion, a former candidate for the State Assembly and a Democrat said "the long range objective of the society is less government, more individual responsibility and a better world."

He claimed that the Communists had "beguiled a lot of very good Americans" into attacking the society. He called them "witch hunters of the lunatic left."

Assessed Value Of State's Utility Firms Is $4 Billion

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The assessed value of California's 11 largest utility companies has risen to a record four billion dollars, despite a decline in the assessment ratio.

The Board of Equalization announced yesterday that the new valuation is 3.2 per cent higher than last year.

However, the board since 1960 has been gradually cutting its utility assessment ratio in line with a 1959 law ordering a levelling off of assessment practices for utilities and other property.

The 11 firms own about 95 per cent of all utility property in the state.

The Return of the Prodigal

The first question before the house is painfully obvious: Has he been away, and who is this nut anyway?

In the face of monumental indifference I am returning to the old stand to opinionate like a man with his head in an empty barrel. The sounds are there, and man is never alone, even though his companion be only an echo.

It is difficult to stiffle an ego grown fat from prosperity and every-widening recognition. It is more difficult when the tab is picked up by a boss like Doug Cowan who is ready to do battle with outside competition, but permissively resigns to the piquancy of a pig-headed subordinate. My dad tried force, but retreated, too, with stinging hands.

In my defense, I must say it is not entirely ego that brings me back to these journalistic (?) efforts. To my ever-lasting gratification, literally hundreds of friends and acquaintances expressed regret that I had decided to devote full time to the pursuit of the elusive automobile customer, and leave writing to those who get paid for their efforts. Some even came to me months after the appearance of my last column to tell me they had enjoyed reading them. It was much like being told we had been seen on television when our exposure was actually limited to newspapers and radio.

A rather large problem looms, however. Subject matter must be diversified enough to sustain continued interest, and expounding on topics relative only to the automobile business would soon become repetitious. Witness the ridiculous variations of the same theme my brother dealers belch forth in their zeal to entice and deceive the unwary buyer.

No, if I'm to pursue this bent, to the horror of the thousands of subscribers who couldn't care less, and the editor who probably entertains private thoughts of even our admittedly commercial offerings, I may at times embrace a topic not so innocuous as to provoke some criticism. I will not espouse causes, but I cannot comfortably wear horse-blinders while driving a T-Bird.

In the other extreme, the columnist whose chief tools of his trade are a pair of sharp scissors, a pot of paste, and an ability to count words and measure space, to fit his solicited and unsolicited offerings from a notoriety-loving public into an allotted space for tomorrow's column, will not be my Messiah.

To amuse, provoke mildly, reveal, instruct, and reminisce will be my basic purpose. Yours, good readers, will be to be receptive or uninterested, as may be your wont, but in no case vent your wrath against Ames Ford. They're only picking up the tab.

Parents Request Teacher Be Rehired

Sausalito School District trustees were asked today to reverse their decision and rehire teacher Evelyn J. Schoenfeld, charging there has been "a deplorable breakdown in communication between teacher and administration."

The request came from the Council on Education of the Sausalito School District and was signed by acting chairman Hardy Westmore.

The organization was formed recently "to provide a vehicle for enlightenment and community action by the parents in the district" and has taken on as its first project an investigation of the dismissal of Miss Schoenfeld.

Miss Schoenfeld, teacher of mentally retarded children at Richardson Bay School, was given notice March 25 of her dismissal at the end of the school year, for "inability to control classes" and "failure to cooperate with principal and administration."

The council directed its letter to trustees and to Dr. Virgil S. Hollis, Marin County superintendent of schools.

It was sent to Hollis, said Westmore, because the Sausalito school board this week voted to transfer the special education program in Sausalito to county schools operation.

With the request for Miss Schoenfeld's reinstatement went a letter from 11 parents, all of whom have children in Miss Schoenfeld's class of 14.

"We think the school administrators have been unfair to her (Miss Schoenfeld) and we think they do not understand what she has been trying to do or how much good she has done," the letter reads.

"We appeared before you (trustees) at a meeting last month to plead with you to keep this teacher and we plead with you now," it continued. It said the children have progressed more this year in their school work than they have before and have attained better grades.

"Instead of feeling like 'dummies,' as they were called at school," the letter states, "they felt like they had done something really great." (This referred to a movie which the children had made under Miss Schoenfeld and teacher Donald Venturini, who was also dismissed at the same time as Miss Schoenfeld but subsequently submitted his resignation.)

The letter was signed by Mrs. Levoy Elder, Mrs. Ivory Jones, Mrs. Marie Casey, Mrs. Joseph O'Brien, James A. Smith, Annie B. Johnson, Lorraine White, Doretha Mitchell, William Lee, Irvin Johnson, and Ruby L. Clay.

Coleman E. Stewart, hearing officer of the office of administrative procedure, state department of finance, held a two-day hearing on Miss Schoenfeld's dismissal April 29 and 30 and said he hoped to make recommendations to the school board within 10 days. Today was the 10th day but no answer has yet been received, Supt. Marcus F. Davis said.

The council on education, Westmore said, invited Davis to speak at its meeting April 23 as well as Miss Schoenfeld. Davis did not respond and so evidence from the council's investigation on the "administration's side" had to be drawn from testimony at the hearing.

The council listed four charges made at the hearing against Miss Schoenfeld which it called "insubstantial."

"What emerged from the entire picture," the council said in its letter, "is that there has been a deplorable breakdown in communication between teacher and administration, that the fault could not be wholly assessed to either side, and that as a result of this breakdown, a good teacher in a highly specialized field in which there is not an overabundance of qualified teachers, was to be dismissed from a school where, if nothing else, she was greatly deloved of her pupils and their parents. . . .

"It is the recommendation of the council that the Sausalito school board reverse its decision not to rehire Miss Schoenfeld, and that a teaching position be offered her in our school district, preferably in a class where her special education training can be put to the best use."

Two Artists Named Winners In Hospital Murals Competition

Mrs. Jeanne Gerhardt Hurt of Mill Valley and Russell Chatham of Kentfield were named today as the winners of the competition to paint murals for the new William Babcock Memorial Wing at Marin General Hospital.

The competition, sponsored jointly by the hospital and the Marin Society of Artists, brought a total of 50 entries from 23 Marin artists.

Mrs. Hurt will win $600. She will paint two murals, one in the pediatric area and the other in the nursery. Chatham, who will receive $300, will paint a mural at the emergency entrance. The murals are expected to be finished in time for the dedication of the new wing, scheduled for 10 a.m., June 8.

Mrs. Hurt and her husband, Jack Hurt, operate the Gerhardt and Hurt Commercial Art Studio in Mill Valley. He will help her paint the murals.

Chatham is a landscape artist.

Judges for the competition were William Gaw, Berkeley artist; Jose Moya del Pino, Ross artist; Robert Stanton of Carmel, hospital architect; Mrs. Roy M. Ibach of Mill Valley, secretary of the hospital board, and Mrs. Walter M. Boland of Stinson Beach, representing the hospital volunteers.

MONTERTY (AP) — A fire engine rushed to a brush blaze on a vacant lot and found 11-year-old Craig Watson had stomped out the flames. He said there was no one around so he used his feet.

Appraisals 'Satisfactory' In Novato

Most Novato property owners seem satisfied with the new appraisals of their land, according to Asst. County Assessor Herschel Johnson.

After conducting "information bureau hearings" in Novato this week, Johnson reported "most owners who came in to ask questions about the basis for our increased property appraisals went away satisfied that the appraisals were done properly."

The information bureaus were operated Tuesday, Wednesday and yesterday at the Novato community house and last week as well. Owners of some 3,800 parcels were notified of the hearings this week, and a total 514 parcels were questioned. Last week 227 parcels were discussed, out of some 3,700.

"Of all those pieces which were discussed, about 25 per cent were submitted to us for revaluation," said Johnson. "During the next few weeks we will investigate them and determine whether a new appraisal should be set."

Johnson said the number of inquiries was "about usual" for reappraised property despite some increases in appraisals up to 500 per cent.

Property owners in Terra Linda and Marinwood received notices this week of new appraisals, and information bureaus will be held next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday from 1 to 9 p.m. in the Presbyterian Church education building in Terra. Linda.

The new appraisals involve a total of about 13,000 properties in one-fifth of the county, embracing Novato south to Santa Venetia.

Property owners in Santa Venetia, Rafael Meadows and Los Ranchitos will receive notices of reappraisals next Thursday, Johnson said.

Gets Probation For Contributing

Ping Shew Lee, 35-year-old store clerk from Novato, will be on three years' probation for contributing to the delinquency of a 13-year-old Sausalito girl last month.

"What do you think your honorable ancestors would say about your behavior?" Judge Leonard A. Thomas admonished Lee during yesterday's sentencing. The judge ordered Lee to stay away from girls under 18.

Sheriff's deputies found Lee and the girl parked on Novato Boulevard near Indian Valley Golf Course on the night of April 13. The girl at first gave her age as 19 but later admitted her correct age.

Of nearly 99 billion dollars that consumers spent in 1960 for food and clothing, about 35 per cent went to farmers and 65 per cent for marketing services.

Organization Unit Member Fires Off Blast At Hollis

A member of the Marin County Committee on School District Organization today leveled a blast at Dr. Virgil S. Hollis, county superintendent of schools, who has already received several blasts this week from departing members of his staff.

Mrs. Frank E. Short of Inverness, a member of the committee for six months, was incensed when she learned yesterday that Hollis attended last month's meeting of the State Board of Education in San Francisco and introduced Trustees Alyce L. Farkas and Supt. Edward Pinot of the Reed School District.

Mrs. Short said she did not learn of this until talking with a member of the state board yesterday. The member, whom she would not name, said the impression he had was that Hollis and the Reed representatives were trying to find out what reaction the state board would have to a Reed unification plan, a plan which has been voted down by an augmented committee which is now studying unification of the Tamalpais High School District as a whole.

Hollis said today he and Mrs. Adele J. Alpers of San Rafael, a member of the county board of education, went to the state board meeting to hear testimony on the proposed state bills, including the credentials and textbook bills.

"I did not know the Reed people would be there," Dr. Hollis said. "But naturally, I introduced them to the board."

Mrs. Short also criticized Hollis for not attending the school organization committee meeting even though he is secretary of the committee. His assistant, Edwin L. Blackmore, in charge of rural education, represents him.

Mrs. Short charged that the arrangement makes for a lack of communications.

"If the Marin County committee has accomplished little over the last few years, most of the blame can be laid at the doorstep of the county schools office," she said.

Dr. Hollis said he once did work directly with the committee, but had to give it up because of the press of time. Blackmore is able to devote most of his time to the committee work, and that is the way it should be, Hollis said.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Better Make Reservations For Mother's Dinner Out

Restaurateurs love their mothers, like everyone else. They also love Mother's Day, for it is their busiest time of the year—this Sunday.

Many places prepare special menus sprinkled liberally with dishes mom generally doesn't cook at home. For it's logical to assume that as it is her special holiday she is going to select something different — not what she can prepare herself. If her choice is satisfying, she'll see to it that the men in her family take her out more often.

Of course, there will be the usual popular standbys like prime rib and steaks. These are principally for the men. Take my word for it — 50 per cent of all men (unless they're chefs) have no imagination when it comes to dining out. It's enough to drive a woman to Metrecal.

But Mother's Day IS a good day to break away from the home festive board, if for no other reason than as a ceremony of remembrance. Just be sure to make reservations in advance, if you can. You'll have plenty of company.

ON THE WEST MARIN COAST, the recognized seafood place is Tarantino's in Bolinas. For something special on Mother's Day it should be a good place for dinner - served complete here at $3.50 from hors d'oeuvres to dessert, or a la carte. But reservations are just as important this Sunday as elsewhere.

FRANCHINI'S RESTAURANTS will observe Sunday with their traditional gift of flowers to the ladies. This year they'll be orchids - both at the Chateau and West End Villa. Dinners will start at 1 p.m. at the Chateau; 3 p.m. at West End.

AT THIS POINT, no one but the weather man is going to predict rain or sun. If it's a sunny Sunday, Eugene's is bound to open up its patio again as it did last week, when for the first time this year Eugene Lackenbach was able to accommodate all morning visitors without making them wait for a table or turn them away.

EXPECTED TO OPEN tomorrow - possibly by tonight - is El Borro in Tiburon. This is the new version of El Burriquito Gordo taken over from Kirby Atterbury by Mesdames Dorothy Boat and Mary Alice (Sandy) Keppel, who have their own ideas on how a Mexican-Spanish restaurant should be operated. In fact, dishes may be more Spanish than Mexican, and there'll be a few that are plain American. In any event, they'll be translated on the menu.

An application for a beer and wine license still remains to be approved.

Look for a number of new decorations. Dinner will be from $3.50 down, with service from 5 to 11 p.m. Tuesdays through Fridays, and opening at noon for lunches on Saturdays and Sundays. Food to take out will be available; special mid-week parties for lunch of 20-25 can be accommodated by reservation.

"Keturah" who has such an unlikely surname that no one would think of using it, still does the cooking. Both Dorothy and Sandy have been associated with Kirby in the past, so they are familiar with the business. He has his hands full at his new Caprice d'elegance on Paradise Drive with seven course dinners by reservation.

DAYLIGHT SAVING does much for Deer Park Villa in Fairfax. As long as the weather is clear, any reasonably early dinner hour gives visitors more of a chance to look out appreciatively on the beautiful four-acre landscape kept trim by (papa) Joe Ghiringhelli. It's really too lovely to be left to obscurity by darkness.

The dining room is so Venetian in its decor since remodeling here, the only thing that might be more suitable for window gazing and atmosphere would be a canal alongside, with a gondolier singing a plaintive "Vieni sul Mar."

Still intensely Italian, Deer Park is one of the few remaining family strongholds of old-time cooking methods (in spite of its glittering new kitchen) where scallopini is served as an epicurean delight and for itself alone. Second and third generations of Italians in this country do not always have the old country touch unless trained from childhood.

SERVICE at the Hill Top in Novato continues uninterrupted, though now under the management of Mrs. Anna Cox, daughter of owner Albert Young. Don McLaughlin and Peggy DeMars have returned to giving their full time to Novato Inn.

Gus Persson of Mill Valley, known for years for his work in Southern Marin and an especially good cook, is the chef. Well worth a visit. No lunches here - just dinners - served from 4 to 10 p.m. Wednesdays and Thursdays and to 11 on Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Answers Asked On Dump In Larkspur

"I am still not satisfied with the city council's answer about county operation of the dump in Larkspur and I intend to pursue the matter," said Chairman Peter Krug of the Larkspur Park and Recreation Commission today.

The commission weeks ago asked for details of the dump agreement with the county. The council declined to investigate it.

Krug commented in reporting the action of a commission meeting Wednesday night. He said Councilman Lesly A. Daveler attended but was unable to answer certain questions about the dump set-up.

The commission last March 13 inquired whether a reported profit from the dump should go to the city instead of the county.

A March 6 Independent-Journal story quoted County Public Works Director Donald R. Frost as saying the county would "net over $5,000 from the dump operation next year with an additional man and purchase of a tractor."

The council decided April 3 it was happy to be getting county fill over debris on the dump on Doherty Drive, planned as a park site, and would not ask City Mgr. Ronald E. Piper to investigate the contract.

Krug said today he still would like to know the terms of the contract. He said Daveler did not seem to know but belileved perhaps it was verbal. Krug said:

"I would still like to know whether the county is getting a profit that perhaps we should enjoy. Also I wonder whether Larkspur residents before long will have to go 30 miles to dump their debris. The dump is filling up a lot faster than I expected."

Krug reported Daveler gave the commission little hope regarding money it will receive for park planning despite a 6-cent increase in the commission tax—raising it to 10 cents —in the fiscal 1963-64 city budget.

The commission has asked the city for $3,000 for planning and developing the park, this to include $1,500 allotted last year and then withheld pending development of a city general plan.

Krug said he was unhappy to hear from Daveler that only $400,000 in revenue is expected in the next fiscal year for the budget currently standing at $461,719. Piper has recommended the council cut $63,000, which would bring it under $400,000.

The council will meet next Wednesday night on the budget.

Commissioners Ted F. Pett and Paul Otis were absent. Otis sent in his resignation, pleading press of his activities in the real estate business.

4th Annual Youth-O-Rama Is Slated For Mill Valley

The fourth annual Youth-O-Rama will be held June 14, 15 and 16 at Mill Valley's Project 17, it was announced yesterday at a meeting of the sponsoring Mill Valley Optimist Club.

For the first time there will be no horse show connected with the event, since horsemen who normally participate will be taking part in Novato's Western Weekend on the same dates.

Carnival time shows, according to club president Frank M. Gelardi, will provide a ferris wheel, merry-go-round, rides for children and 15-18 concession booths. Prizes will be given.

The Optimists will man the Angelo Sabella food booth.

Tickets will go on sale Wednesday at businesses throughout Mill Valley. Money raised from the event will be used to build a grandstand at the Optimist Club ball park on Project 17.

Also announced at the meeting is the fact the club will contribute $50 each to Scouts Dennis Quinn and Paul Goldsmith of Mill Valley to attend Camp Philmont in Arizona for two weeks this summer. Both boys are from Scout Troop 34, sponsored by the club.

Mariner Cove Plans

Decision to push plans for picturesque gas lighting at Paradise Drive and Prince Royal Passage, Corte Madera, as well as extension of planter box decoration was made Wednesday at a meeting of new directors and officers of the Mariner Cove Improvement Assn.

TAM HIGH VOTING IS NOW VOLUNTARY

Tamalpais High School students who in the past have been "forced" to vote during class time will be able to decide voluntarily whether or not they want to vote with a new policy effective today.

In the past, according to student Shelley Smith, students have voted in their classrooms with all students voting. The student body executive board has decided to change this custom, since "some students lack any interest in the elections and the previous mandatory method was confused and childish."

The new policy, which will actually be put into practice at student body elections May 17, will permit students to cast ballots immediately after the campaign rally in their own precincts.

Another new policy will be creation of a workshop for all candidates for student body offices. The incumbent student body officers will meet with candidates and help give them ideas of the things they will be responsible for.

There will be no change in the releasing of the number of votes which each candidate receives in an election, according to Principal Robert H. Prather.

Marin Due $63,544 In Highway Taxes

Marin County has been apportioned $63,544.22 as its share of state highway users taxes distributed during April, State Controller Alan Cranston reported today.

The total tax, $31,019,135, was distributed with $20,251,418 going to the state highway fund, $7,765,784 to counties and $3,001,933 to the cities.

Bolinas Group Names Woman

The Bolinas Public Utility District has its first woman director.

Mrs. Alice Cassidy was appointed to the board Friday to fill the vacancy created by Donald Ingermann who had resigned because of business reasons. Her term runs to May, 1964.

Mrs. Cassidy and her husband, Francis, have been property owners in Bolinas since 1954. She was formerly in the real estate business.

Library Trustees To Discuss Site

Mill Valley library trustees will hold a special meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday to discuss site acquisition for the proposed new library.

Prices may or may not be discussed, according to Dorothy W. Peavey, trustee, in relation to properties of Roy A. Ibach at Miller and Forrest avenues and that of Rose M. Bedeccarrax at 24 Laurelwood Avenue.

Last night the board changed its notice policy regarding overdue books. At present the library makes out multiple forms, sending one copy periodically to the book borrower who has not returned his book. The new policy will mean one post card will be sent to be followed by a certified letter. If the book is not then returned, Mrs. Peavey reported, police will be notified to collect it.

Persons interested in filling trustee positions July 1 are invited to notify the library or outgoing trustees Mrs. Peavey or Mrs. John P. Farnam, Mrs. Peavey said. Their terms are up June 30.

City Councilman Michael Wornum sat last night for the first time as council liaison to the board. He succeeds Councilman William E. Secor.

Audubon Canyon Ranch Gets $3,000 Garden Clubs Award

Audubon Canyon Ranch at Bolinas has been awarded the Garden Clubs of America's Founders' Award of $3,000, it was announced today by William S. Picher, president of Marin Audubon Society.

Actual presentation was made today at the clubs' annual convention in Philadelphia.

The money will be used for planting and landscaping the northerly canyon at the ranch to be known as the Garden Clubs of America Canyon, Picher said.

He said the ranch was nominated for the award by the Woodside-Atherton, Piedmont and Hillsborough garden clubs and that Mrs. Peter Talbot of Woodside presented the Canyon Ranch program at the convention. Lawrence Halprin Associates created a three-panel collage illustrating the Audubon societies program for a wild life sanctuary and nature education center at the Bolinas ranch. Halprin resides in Kentfield.

Two-Alarm Blaze Lights Up Sky

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A two-alarm blaze today lit the San Francisco skyline from the Marina District and drove occupants from the blazing building in their nightclothes.

Firemen said the fire began in the apartment of Hugh Bennett, 32, at 1535 Francisco St. Flames gutted Bennett's apartment and another at the rear of the building, damaged four other dwellings in the two-story building complex.

Firemen estimated damage at $20,000.

Police said Bennett awakened to find his bed in flames. He ran through the building rousing other occupants, and all escaped safely.

The United States hopes to make a manned flight to the moon before 1971.

Open House At College Is Starting

Paintings, music, dances and many lively exhibits promise to make the College of Marin open house tonight and tomorrow a busy and entertaining event.

Visitors will be welcome from 7 to 11 p.m. today. The doors will be open tomorrow from 11 a.m. to 10:30 p.m. Photography, painting and crafts by students will be on display.

Pianist Vince Guaraldi will play and the International Relations Club will present Japanese, Flamenco and Panamanian dances at 12:30 p.m. tomorrow in front of the Austin Science Building. There will be dancing in the student cafeteria from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m. tomorrow. And the college spring concert will begin in Olney Hall at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow.

College officials say the rain will not stop the program. Outside events will be moved into buildings if it is still raining.

Bolinas Fire Group Meeting On Budget

Bolinas Fire Protection District commissioners will meet Monday to attempt to complete the district's preliminary 1963-64 budget, Chairman James Dougan said today.

With this meeting the commission will change its meeting night from th present second Thursday of the month to the second Monday. Reason is, Dougan said, that Thursday has been a conflicting date for several members who belong to military reserve units or have church activities on the second Thursday of the month.

NOVATO SCHOOLS SALARY SCALE SET

A five-grade, 12-step pay scale for teacher salaries was adopted last night by the Novato Unified School District board at an adjourned meeting.

The new scale, which was recommended by the Novato Teachers Assn. at the Tuesday board meeting, was adopted by 4-0 vote, with Chairman Joseph Sereda absent.

The base starting pay of $4,740 remains the same. However, by adding one more grade and year to the scale, the top pay was increased from $9,150 to $9,288.

This pay scale was adopted for the coming school year with the proviso that if the district receives additional revenues that are now expected, teachers' salaries would be further increased, Supt. James G. Bunker said.

Action on the proposed scale was delayed Tuesday night pending a study to see if any teacher's salary would be lowered.

"Not one teacher would take a cut in pay," Bunker stated after a comparison of present and proposed scales.

The board also discussed requested salary increases for non-teaching personnel. It postponed action on this until the expected income of the district is more definitely known.

The board granted tenure to 20 teachers and renewed all the contracts of present teachers.

Gallinas Village CSD Is Not Sure On Sanitary Petitions

Gallinas Village Community Services District directors are having a hard time deciding whether they have enough petitioners for annexation of the district's sewer facilities to the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary Dsitrict.

"Our estimates of the percentage of property represented on the petitions don't seem to agree," said secretary Alys Durenberger today. She said the board decided to ask the county counsel for help in determining whether homeowners representing 75 per cent of the assessed valuation in the district have signed petitions.

"We thought we had 75 per cent," said Mrs. Durenberger, "but Annie Reagan, secretary of the sanitary district, said the total is below that."

Mrs. Reagan has determined there is only a total of 72 per cent and has informed the district it should get signatures from about 30 more property owners to assure the required percentage. If the district obtains 75 per cent of assessed valuation on petitions, it will not have to hold an annexation election.

If the sewer facilities are annexed, the CSD board proposes to spend its budget for recreation in the district.

The occupations that absorbed 60 per cent of last year's college graduates were not in existence when the graduates were born.

Sanitary Maintenance Man Stays On 'Temporary Basis'

Maintenance man Max H. Graefe resumed work on a temporary basis for the Corte Madera Sanitary District today, one week after being fired by William A. Adam, who himself was fired as district manager Wednesday night.

The interim rehiring was made known in a statement Graefe gave the Independent-Journal:

"Mr. Ernest Mock, member of the board of directors of Sanitary District No. 2, informed me that by action of the board during the regular adjourned meeting of May 8, 1963, I was reinstated in my job with the district on a 'temporary basis' pending evaluation of the position and the review of other matters by the board. The reinstatement is effective Friday, May 10."

Adam was fired as secretary-manager, effective immediately, at the same closed meeting. Portia Fitzgerald was named secretary. She has been recording secretary.

Graefe, who has worked for the district since 1955, was told by Adam on April 8 that he was fired. He continued working until last Friday.

The district's board will meet again at 7:30 p.m. next Wednesday to take up regular business which was sidetracked in the row over Adam, and perhaps to consider a successor as district manager.

Novato's Fire Budget Might Be $369,251

The preliminary 1963-64 budget of $369,251 for the Novato Fire District was submitted to commissioners last night by Fire Chief George Cavallero.

This is $176,251 more than the $193,000 current budget. It includes approximately $160,000 in capital outlay items, Cavallero said.

These include a new fire truck, an alarm system, an aerial ladder, expansion of station 1, possible land acquisition for station 3, and radio and safety equipment, he said.

The commissioners set 8 p.m. Monday for a special meeting to go over the preliminary budget.

Auto Salesman Has Job Hazard

MIAMI (AP) — A prospective auto buyer wanted to trade in his motorcycle.

Salesman Hal Nebel figured: "I'd better drive this thing around the block to see how it runs."

Nebel was in an accident half-way around the block and injured both legs. "I should have just kicked the tires," he said later.

Clausen Fights For Seashore Land Funds

"Only added government cost and increased problems for landowners" would result from further delay in land acquisition for the new Point Reyes National Seashore, according to Rep. Donald H. Clausen (R.-Crescent City).

Clausen said he had followed this policy in successfully fighting to prevent another hold-up of federal funds to get the seashore project under way.

"I prevailed upon the Economy Task Force, and other members immediately agreed, that two million dollars for Point Reyes National Seashore land purchases not be a target for budget-cutting efforts," said Clausen in pointing out that the seashore was assumed as a federal responsibility last year.

Similarly he kept five million dollars in the supplemental bill despite efforts to restrict federal appropriations not only for Point Reyes but for a number of other points including the Napa River, Noyo Harbor, Crescent City Harbor and Humboldt Bay. Even so, this measure was cut 200 million dollars, or 13 per cent.

Youth Is Injured As Sports Car Rolls

Paul Milner, 18, of the Starlite Motel, 3951 Redwood Highway, San Rafael, suffered back and right arm injuries when his foreign compact car rolled over on Highway 101 in Corte Madera at 12:35 p.m. Wednesday.

Milner was northbound when the car began to "fishtail." It flipped over when he applied the brakes, he told the California Highway Patrol. He was treated at Marin General Hospital.

California Teachers Assn. Starts It's Second Century

Just 100 years ago yesterday fewer than 100 men met in San Francisco to form what has become the largest state education association in the nation, the California Teachers Association.

CTA evolved from a group called together by John Swett, the state's fourth superintendent of public instruction. They established a professional journal, The California Teacher, which began publication on July 1, 1863, to its 330 subscribers.

Today, CTA has nearly 130,000 members, representing nearly 80 per cent of the state's full time 160,000 teachers and educators. From one tiny unit, it has grown to six sectional headquarters and an imposing state headquarters in Burlingame.

But CTA's accomplishments are not in numbers and buildings alone. From the first, the organization has been dedicated to improvement both of the state's educational system and the role of the teacher. It has had a hand in such things as freeing school districts from subordination to any agency except the state constitution four year terms for county superintendents, and banning use of tax money for sectarian religious purposes.

It was instrumental in obtaining apportionment of state funds for schools, longer school years, free textbooks, free rural transportation, compulsory school attendance, larger libraries, union school districts, kindergarten, junior colleges, vocational education and many other things, including better pay for teachers.

Today it is governed by a 429-member State Council of Education, membership of which is elected from the six CTA sections. There are nearly a dozen standing committees, which carry on its work, and a staff of full time employees.

We do not always agree with the CTA or with some of its poliicies. For example, we violently oppose its present policy of sanctions against school districts which it feels are not operating properly.

But our criticism is, and always has been offered constructively and with a profound respect for the organization and the people who make up the CTA.

We congratulate them on their first century and wish them even greater success in the next.

Parking Meters Will Refund Too?

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I was pleased to read in tonight's (May 7) paper that a device will be tested in San Rafael to beat the "meter cheaters" by locking the meter after a nickel has been deposited so that it won't accept more coins until the car has pulled out.

I assume that, in all fairness to us meter users, another device will be installed soon that, when we leave, refunds us any unused portion of the rent we have paid for the space.

Real Issue In Minister's Stand

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

In all the verbal commotion that the Rev. Karel Botermans' idealistic stand has aroused, nowhere have I seen mention of the aspect of his action that is most disturbing. Perhaps it is considered self-evident, but even your editorialist dwelt only on the argument his views presented. Whether or not we are in accord with Dr. Botermans' opinions is not the point I feel should be stressed.

The fact that should concern us is that the individual has seen fit, for "moral" reasons, to flout the law and thereby defy the government. Such a moral posture should be more carefully examined.

No matter how noble his purpose may appear, his method cannot be condoned by thinking people. Our Constitution provides legal means to show our displeasure with the policies of government, and legal ways to change them, if this be the will of the majority. To resort to rebellion, regardless of the personal courage it takes, is a reprehensible answer.

Suppose that each of us claimed the right to express his disapproval of the policies of federal, state, or even county administration, by refusing to pay his taxes. Imagine the anarchic result!

Undoubtedly, Dr. Botermans has given much consideration to how his action would affect himself and his family, and has accepted the inevitable results. But, as a supposedly responsible citizen of this country, how much consideration has he given to his obligation to the rest of us; we who are bound by a more prosaic conscience to support this government of which we are a part?

Easing English Rules Is Mistake

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I am writing to you with reference tto your news article appearing in the I-J of 5/3/63 captioned, "College English Rules Are Eased." I think that Dr. Stephen Epler, College of Marin president, pulled a classic boner when he said that students struggle with English during four years of high school and then upon entering college "have more of this thrust upon them. It's too frustrating."

Well, isn't this too bad!

What is our educational system coming to? Are the colleges ever going to set and maintain high standards of scholastic achievement or yield to the course of least resistance?

I can well remember the F that I received in the first half of the fall semestere in my Freshman year. For a few days after receiving the F, I thought that the whole world had fallen on me. Instead, after a few days of deep meditation, I accepted the unfavorable grade as a challenge and wound up the semester with a B grade.

Dr. Epler further states that not demanding an English or communications course in the first semester will give the students a chance to "taste success" in other courses and encourage him to go on.

Go on to what, without an intelligent line of communication? What kind of fuzzy thinking is this?

I wonder if Dr. Epler realizes that the rapid growth of private schools in Marin County is due primarily to lack of proper teaching of the fundamentals in the public schools.

I have great faith in the ability of young people in reaching great intellectual heights, but they need challenges, mental discipline, and above all, a sense of creativity.

Life is made up of many failures before the successes arrive. Let's maintain high standards in all of our educational institutions, particularly, at the College of Marin. I'm really surprised that the college board were taken in by Dr. Epler's recommendatioins.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

MILE-A-MINUTE BIRDS

Do you realize that ducks can fly a mile a minute? In fact, the ring-necked duck can wing its way through the air at 66 miles an hour.

These speeds have been accurately measured by a radar device, similar to the traffic speed-trap unit used by highway patrols.

Captured birds of many types are released in front of the unit and their speeds are checked as they fly a predetermined course towards a wooded area near a field research station in Long Island, N.Y.

Studies are being conducted to determine the velocity of birds in flight in relation to the different shapes and activities of their wings.

Humans have much to learn from the astonishing power that God has put in even the smallest insects and birds. But with his noble faculties of intellect and will, man remains, under God, master of all creation.

It is both his privilege and responsibility to uncover and put to constructive use the energy and creativeness hidden in both mankind and nature.

"All you birds of the air, bless the Lord; praise and exalt Him above all forever."

(Daniel 3:80)

May I always see the reflection of Your love and power, O Lord, in every creature.

THE LIGHTER SIDE

Blistered Heels, Stiff Joints, Sore Muscles Are One's Reward

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Hard on the heels of the American expedition to Mt. Everest comes news of another expedition that also was hard on the heels.

An intrepid group, of which this correspondent was a member, has just returned from the summit of Old Rag Mountain, Virginia.

That craggy, forbidding pinnacle, known as "The Roof of Madison County," had previously been conquered only by approximately 325,275 Americans, give or take a Brownie troop and the Young Republicans Club.

Setting forth from Washington, which is the capital of the United States, we crossed the wide Potomac, a river, and drove through a region of thick, virgin suburbs.

To our delight, the roads were passable. We had been warned that they might be clogged with native vehicles.

EVENTUALLY WE came to the foothills of the Blue Ridge chain and established a base camp where we took on extra supplies of ginger ale and cheese crackers.

By unanimous agreement, the post of group leader was assigned to Myron Glaser, a travel writer who was instrumental in organizing the expedition.

Glaser was chosen mainly because he has a pair of shoes with leader laces. Nothing inspires confidence like leather shoelaces.

Having assured ourselves that everything was in order, we began our ascent, our eyes fixed on the distant summit.

After running into a couple of trees, we took our eyes off the summit and began to watch where we were going.

Among mountain climbers, there is a closeness and camaraderie that sort of brings a lump to your throat, particularly when you have been eating cheese crackers.

It would be a pity if the fraternal spirit that bound our group and made it possible for us to achieve our goal were shattered by rival claims over who beat whom to the summit.

IT REALLY DOESN'T matter which of us was approximately the 325,276th American to conquer Old Rag. The honor belongs equally to all of us.

Someone had to be content with being approximately the 325,277th, the 325,278th, etc. There wasn't room up there for everybody at the same time. Besides that, crowds make me nervous.

Rather than bicker over individual credit, I propose to end my account of the expedition on a philosophic note.

Why would a man of sedentary habits lame himself with blistered heels, stiff joints and sore muscles climbing a mountain?

My wife asked me that question and I responded with the traditional reply:

"Because," I said, "I'm stupid."

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Frank Meyer, president of the Marin Coast Chamber of Commerce, told county supervisors that a proposed road from the south end of Taylor State Park past the new Big Carson dam and over the mountains to the Shoreline Highway six miles south of Olema would cut 10 and one-half miles from the present 14 and one-half-mile Bolinas to San Geronimo route.

20 YEARS AGO

Frank J. Kelly was elected San Rafael police chief by vote of 1,797 to 1,246. Kelly led in 20 out of 26 precincts.

First tanker to be constructed at Marinship yards was launched with contract calling for 35 more.

Marin County was told to produce 10 per cent more butter, a total of 700,000 pounds, during 1943 if the set quota were to be reached.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

A distinguished young man-about-town was driving his sports car at a cool 80 miles an hour when an uncooperative motorcycle cop flagged him down and demanded to see his license. He looked it over carefully, then barked, "Besides everything else, you're supposed to be wearing eyeglasses." "Think nothing of it, officer," said the M.A.T. airily. "I've got contacts." "I don't give a darn who you know," declared the cop righteously. "You're getting a ticket anyhow."

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By AL BOCK

If We Could Only Communicate Things Would Go Along Smoother

It's not an easy thing to decide just what we're all talking about sometimes, and this difficulty no doubt causes considerable public uneasiness.

By now, some political science student must have worked up a thesis on the amount of time spent at public meetings simply trying to straighten out everybody's language long enough to get down to business.

Edmund Wilson has suggested that the language barrier between us and the Russians is no idle joke. It's no joke among ourselves.

MEMBERS OF the Marin County Board of Supervisors and most other people in charge of our local affairs speak English in some form or another. Thus a basic language obstacle has at least been overcome and we are off to a halting start.

But a good deal of time and energy is spent running frantically about the Civic Center trying to figure what somebody "really" said, and beyond that, possibly what they meant to say.

Some supervisors frequently have second thoughts about a motion they may have voted on. There is no end of trouble in getting the discussion, or as those in the political know like to say nowadays, "the dialogue," back to the point of negotiations.

THIS EFFORT to establish smooth conversation is sometimes helped along by someone, like the county administrator, who decides to clarify the board's thoughts by explaining to the clerk a day or so later exactly what the motion was.

Thus properly informed of its views, the board moves cheerfully along to the next semantic exercise, only to be brought up short by one of its members who grumbles that he and his fellows must not be speaking the same language.

By this time, nobody is much interested in what the motion was anyway and the dissenter concludes the most easily understood thing to do is to change his vote.

A SEARCH for the right words, along those lines, took place this week in Marin's blue and gold Palace of Artful Dodging. It was only one of many such struggles toward clear communication.

Hours, in fact whole afternoons, drift by at Planning Commission meetings while commissioners try to come to terms among themselves on such shifty concepts as "property rights" and the possible aesthetics, if any, of a new rest home. Members of the planning staff stand by as interpreters, or, now and again, it's the other way around.

Members of the County Board of Education have to be alert if they expect to find any significance in what their school administrators tell them, let alone what they don't tell them.

AND IF HIS FIRST newsletter is an indication, our man in Washington, Don Clausen, is apparently having a tough time understanding economics. Like many other congressmen, a language other than that of a "balanced budget" is hard for him to grasp.

Of course, once everyone understands each other, we may all be even less convinced.

THE ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

Missing $7.5 Million In Bonds Were Stolen

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—Those $7.5 million in negotiable U.S. bonds that vanished from the Federal Reserve Bank in San Francisco were stolen and not "accidentally burned" as claimed by bank officials.

That is the belief of the special House Banking Subcommittee investigating this still-unsolved mystery.

The probers will not formally pronounce this judgment in their preliminary report later this month. All they will say is, "There is not enough evidence now to know what happened to the bonds . . . They were either stolen or burned."

But privately the House investigators are leaving no doubt they are convinced the securities were pilfered.

THE SENATE Interal Security Committee, which also is digging into this affair, is checking information that some of these bonds are in an American-owned "numbered" account in a Swiss bank. Reputedly they were deposited around the time of the Cuban missile crisis last fall.

While the three House probers, headed by Representative Henry Reuss (D-Wis.) will withhold their verdict on what happened to the seven $1 million and five $100,000 bonds, they will blister both Treasury and Federal Reserve officials for the lackadaisical and inept handling of the search for the securities.

THE FEDERAL Reserve Board will be castigated for (1) secreting the loss of the bonds for more than six months, and (2) failing to notify other banks to be on watch for them.

San Francisco Reserve Bank officials will be blasted for the astonishing lack of security that prevailed there in the handling of bonds running into the hundreds of millions.

A retired custodian of the bond vault told the investigators he could have walked out with half its contents. No one would have stopped or questioned him.

Eliot J. Swan, president of the San Francisco Federal Reserve Bank, placed the disappearance of the $7.5 million in negotiable bonds as between May 29 and August 8—the dates when they were deposited and then asked for by another Reserve bank.

But the loss was kept secret until this March. The story was then leaked by the Federal Reserve to a hand-picked San Francisco newsman when Rep. Wright Patman (D-Tex.), chairman of the House Banking Committee, got wind of the affair and demanded a full explanation.

During a routine study of the minutes of the New York Federal Reserve directors, Patman came across a notation that the bank was absorbing part of a $7.5 million loss caused by the destruction of government securities in the San Francisco bank.

ASKING QUESTIONS about this curious matter, Patman learned the bonds actually were "missing," and that a quiet Treasury investigation had produced no evidence to back the claim they had been "accidentally burned." To get at the bottom of the mystery, Patman sponsored the three-member subcommittee headed by Reuss.

The probers have ascertained that when the Treasury and Federal Reserve finally "invited" the Secret Service into the case, only three agents were assigned to it.

Also that a private company was employed by the Secret Service to give lie detector tests to 18 bank employees.

THESE POLYGRAPH examinations took place between Aug. 27 and Sept. 25, and drew a blank, according to the report of Thomas Hansen, special agent in charge of the San Francisco office.

That was the end of the Secret Service inquiry.

The FBI has never been brought into the case — although it has followed it closely.

Marin Schools Featured On TV Show

Television cameras' visits to San Rafael and Dixie District schools and to a pathologist's laboratory provided a story of Marin County educational advances to be shown on station KPIX (Channel 5) at 1:30 p.m. Sunday.

Seven San Rafael schools were surveyed for a depiction of the city's "More Able Learner" program.

Two Dixie District programs were depicted at a single school. Santa Margarita. These were the "mothers' aid program" and "special teacher" work conducted throughout the district to give intensified aid by special teachers sent into specified classes.

On the television depiction in explanatory roles will be Robert E. Shore, coordinator of the San Rafael "More Able Learner" program; Raymond Riley, principal of Santa Margarita School, and Penrod Moss, curriculum consultant for Dixie district.

Science projects, creative writing, abacus arithmetic, debate, primary grade science, instrumental music, slide rule instruction and a special program for junior high school students will be included on the San Rafael portion of the program. The doctor's office visited was that of Dr. John H. Manwaring, pathologist, who has been working with a group of junior high school students on a microbiology project.

THEY HIT THE SPOT IN 'HIT THE DECK'
Crowd pleasers in the Ross Valley Players' production of the Vincent Youmans musical, "Hit The Deck," are Linsday Ouellette (as Bilge Smith) and Linda Pavlow (Loo Loo). The musical will be repeated tonight and tomorrow at 8:30 p.m. in the Barn of the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross.

Rotating House In Novato Open To Public

The rotating round house on Harkle Road in Novato will be open to the public for the next two weeks, said Sam A. Harkleroad, owner.

"More than 5,000 people have visited the house so far," Harkleroad said, with 300 to 400 curious people coming by each weekend.

The revolving house is next door to Harkleroad's other oddity, a parabolic house at 13 Harkle Road. Both are plainly visible on the hill above Highway 101.

Harkleroad said that during the 20-minute tour of the house, he turns it on so that people get a full 360 degree ride around it. There is an admission charge.

He plans on moving into the house in about two weeks and will probably close it to the public then, he said.

Aluminum Flashing Dumped On Hillside

A quantity of aluminum flashing in the sun on a hillside south of San Rafael wasn't result of an airplane crash as feared, but only of someone dumping scrap metal, county Fire Chief Louis Bloom reported today.

The waste siding apparently was carried up a fire road by some person unknown and thrown onto the hillside above Black Canyon at a point where it was visible from Glenwood. Bloom said the culprit hasn't been identified but notification has been set to the owner of the property.

Breakfast Planned

The College of Marin Athenium Club will sponsor a breakfast from 9 to 10 a.m. tomorrow on the lawn in front of the library for persons who worked to produce the two-day campus open house tonight and tomorrow.

"Our city is more competently governed as a result of your persistent and dedicated efforts"

These words are from Philip S. Ehrlich, Jr., former mayor of Sausalito, in a letter to one of our Independent-Journal reporters.

They go far beyond being a compliment to your newspaper. They point up the role which a responsible newspaper must assume if it is to further good local government.

They bring to focus the image of our reporters . . . sitting in council chambers throughout Marin County, night after night . . . sitting in for you, by proxy, to report and to inform you of issues which concern you as a citizen.

Were you in their place you would see that reporting of public events never can be just another job. You would soon see that the REAL ISSUE for society is that public affairs are reported . . . freely and openly that all who read may know.

That is the role of your newspaper. A guarantee in writing, you might say, that the gavel falls only on issues . . . never on your freedom and the right to know.

April 2, 1963

Mr. Bruce Coleman
42 Corte Madera Ave.
Corte Madera, Calif.

You have unfailingly reported our business in accurate, fair, and very intelligible stories which have helped to keep our citizens well informed of the Council's actions.

I know it must at times be very burdensome to sit night after night without being able to put in your "two cents' worth". However, it is obvious that you enjoy your work and that you have a knack for catching the essence of these meetings. Your restraint and good judgment is manifest in your reporting. Our city is more competently governed as a result of your persistent and dedicated effort.

Both the Council and the citizens are very dependent upon you and your paper. Keep up the good work.

Sincerely,
Phil Ehrlich

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Don't Be Brilliant With Wrong Partner When Playing Bridge

It's very unlucky to be born too soon.

My uncle Throckmorton was drummed out of his regiment just 30 years ago for failing to return the Colonel's lead. If it happened today, the Colonel would shake his hand.

The Colonel opened the jack of spades from the West hand. South won with the king of spades and returned the nine of clubs for a finesse.

UNCLE WON

Uncle Throckmorton won with the queen of clubs and did some thinking. Clearly, the Colonel had the ace of clubs. Just as clearly, South had the queen of spades; so there was not much future in the spade suit.

After deep thought my uncle returned the deuce of diamonds. This gave declarer a diamond trick, but paved the way for the defeat of the contract.

When the Colonel took his ace of clubs he could return a diamond, and three diamond tricks would put South down.

STUBBORN PARTNER

Unfortunately for Uncle Throckmorton, he had a stubborn partner. The Colonel stared at the deuce of diamonds and rasped "No spades, young man?"

When the Colonel got in with the ace of clubs he led another spade instead of pushing a diamond through dummy's king.

Naturally, South made the contract; and my uncle returned to civilian life.

MORE FLEXIBLE

Today's colonels are a more flexible breed. They would see the brilliance of the switch to diamonds, and they would keep a fine tactician in the army.

Still, I sometimes wonder how accurately my uncle gave me the hand. Perhaps South had five diamonds and only two spades. A spade return would put South down three; and only a diamond return would allow South to make the contract.

Neither the army nor the bridge table is the place for a man who picks the wrong time to be brilliant.

Today is Friday, May 10, the 130th of 1963 with 235 to follow.

The moon is approaching last quarter. The morning stars are Venus, Saturn and Jupiter. The evening star is Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1775, Ethan Allen and his "Green Mountain Boys," the colonial militia of Vermont, stormed the British-held fortress at Ticonderoga, N.Y.

In 1865, Jefferson Davis, Confederate president, was captured and arrested as he was fleeing from Irwinville, Ga.

A thought for the day—American lawyer Robert Ingersoll said: "In nature there are neither rewards nor punishments . . . there are consequences."

Grid Great 'Big Daddy' Lipscomb Dies Mysteriously

BALTIMORE, Md. (UPI)—Gene (Big Daddy) Lipscomb, 290-pound tackle of the Pittsburgh Steelers pro football team, died suddenly today and a preliminary autopsy report said "there is a certain suspicion of narcotics in this case."

Lipscomb, 31, was found fully clothed and unconscious on the kitchen floor of a friend's apartment. An ambulance took him to Lutheran Hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

A preliminary autopsy on the body of the famed football star, noted for his huge size and strength, was made by Dr. Rudiger Breitenacker, assistant city medical examiner.

"We are checking a makeshift syringe found near the body for possible traces of narcotics," Dr. Breitenacker said.

Dr. Breitenacker said the preliminary autopsy did not disclose the cause of death "at this time."

The assistant medical examiner said a report on the syringe might be made later in the day but that it would not be known until next week whether narcotics were present in the organs of Lipscomb's body.

Lipscomb was found on the floor of a house belonging to Timothy Black, 25.

Police said Black told them he and Lipscomb took two girls to a party last night. Later they took the girls to their home and, after leaving them, went to Black's house. Black said he stopped at a local lunchroom to eat while Lipscomb went ahead to the house. Black told police he found Lipscomb unconscious when he arrived.

A spokesman for Lutheran hospital said Lipscomb arrived at the emergency entrance at 7:55 a.m. EDT.

Police said Lipscomb was unconscious and breathing heavily when the ambulance arrived at the house but he apparently died en route to the hospital.

The six-foot, six-inch Lipscomb, whose playing weight was 283 pounds, achieved all-pro distinction in the National Football League without ever having played college football.

A native of Detroit, the huge tackle learned to play the high-powered kind of game favored by the pros while serving in the marines.

He signed with the Los Angeles Rams for the 1953 season and for three years was known as little more than a routine lineman in the NFL.

But in 1956 he was traded to Baltimore and it was with the Colts that he blossomed into one of the most feared linemen in the league.

Gifted with amazing agility for a man his size, "big daddy" was one of the key factors behind the Colts' championship drives in 1958 and 1959.

He later was traded to the Steelers and after two mediocre seasons, he regained his peak form last fall when Pittsburgh became a championship contender.

In his last professional game, the playoff bowl in Miami last January, Lipscomb played one of his finest games against the Detroit Lions.

Dodgers Not Easy To Overpower, But We Pick Giants To Win Two

CONNOLLY

As the old professor used to say—"Und comes it now."

Tonight in Los Angeles, before as many people as can crowd their way into the ball park and before a Northern California TV audience of millions, the mighty Giants of S.F. and the once-feared Dodgers collide in the first of a three-game series that could come mighty close to establishing, for the season, the largest outpouring of baseball fanatics.

Both clubs are at the peak of their form. The Dodgers, with turmoil and wrangling and back biting put aside, come into this three-game set-to with their three best pitchers ready.

The Giants, redhot and forging ahead in the flag chase, are primed also. It is really remarkable that the S.F. club can spare the hefty bat of Willie Mays and still roll along. But that is the truth.

Don Drysdale, ace right hander; Sandy Koufax, strike-out southpaw of the league, and Johnny Podres, a lefty midget with the heart of a lion, were especially picked for this series against S.F.

Manager Alvin Dark likewise wiggled his pitching staff into form and has Jack Sanford, Juan Marichal and either Jack Fisher or Billy Pierce ready to throw their pitching weight around.

ALL OF the National League has been aware of the Dodgers' wrangling, but apparently those involved are straightening out matters for, of late, they have been clicking and nobody has called anybody else names.

Walter Alston, Dodger skipper, has been given the green light by owner Walter O'Malley and Buzz Bavasi, the general manager, has put the silencer on Lippy Durocher or, so it seems, for the moment.

There is nothing spectacular about the Dodgers as a fielding ball club. They've had a leaky infield, a good outfield and fair to middlin' pitching. Only of late has Tommy Davis, their big gun last year, begun to make his move. And when he and Willie Davis and the other blaster—Frank Howard—shoot the works, they are not an easy club to overpower.

MAURY WILLS, the base stealing terror of the 1962 Dodgers, hasn't started to steam up yet. He's been hurt for a spell but is prepared tonight to turn his speed loose. John Roseboro, catcher, and his sidekick, Doug Camilli, possesses very potent bats. Add them to the clubs carried by Bill Skowron, Don Fairly, Jim Gilliam and a kid named Nate Oliver and you readily understand the Gants are in for a crucial test.

No ball team could do much better than the Giants have on their first eastern road trip. They lost one game, were rained out in another and bounce into the Dodgers series as the hottest they've been all year.

The loss of Chuck Hiller, the injury to Jimmy Davenport and the slow start of Willie Mays hasn't seem to check the National League champions. Anyone who knows Willie and has followed his record, knows he gets his hits in bunches. And this three-game tussle beginning tonight might be just what the "Say Hey Kid" needs to take off.

THE NICEST surprise package to the Giants was the pitching of Jack Fisher. After two bad starts he came to life on the road and, while he staggered in his last time out, had enough runs to chalk up his second victory of the season.

One of the remarks Fisher made when he was acquired by the Giants was to the effect he knew he could win with a club who could get him some runs.

Billy Pierce, popular southpaw who has been clobbered in his last three starts, might get the nod against the Dodgers. He handled them nicely last season and now that he is properly rested might do it again.

Drysdale, Koufax and Podres are a real rough hand to draw to but with Stanford and Marichal in the pink, I'll still pick the Giants to grab the odd game out of three.

San Rafael To Keep Swim Title

San Rafael High School will keep its championship honors of the Marin Athletic League swimming meet held last Saturday, it was announced today.

The Bulldog varsity swimmers won the five-team meet, scoring 88 points, with Tamalpais High placing second with 76 points. But after the close of the meet it was found that one of the members of a winning San Rafael relay team was not listed for the event.

The technicality caused a stir, because a disqualification of the San Rafael team from the race would give the first place points to Tam, which finished the 200-yard medley relay in second place. With the added points, Tam would then have been the meet winner.

But after a meeting yesterday of the MCAL Board of Managers, made up of principals of the schools in the league, it was determined that San Rafael would not be disqualified from the race and the point margin would remain.

Actually, there was not an official vote yesterday because there was not an official protest.

Protests must be made within 24 hours after the event and Tam principal Robert H. Prather had not made one. The meet was held Saturday and Prather had not been informed of the matter until Monday morning, he said today.

ERROR DISCOVERED

The San Rafael error had not been discovered until after the close of the meet. League commissioner George Corson found the mistake while checking the list of boys who qualified for the North Bay Section Division III trials scheduled for tomorrow in Santa Rosa.

San Rafael's Tom Brockbank swam in the relay instead of Steve Graham, who was the listed entrant.

Said Prather today:

"My feelings are that the disqualification should have been automatic. This is a gray area of the league rules and needs clarification. But I am accepting the majority ruling."

Robert McKeay, president of the board of managers, said today there wasn't any action to take because there was no formal protest.

"There were too many people that should have picked up the inaccuracies before the race," McKeay added.

Novato '9' Wallops Marin Catholic

Novato High School's baseball team blasted the Marin Catholic nine 11-0 yesterday in a Marin Atheletic League game played on the Novato field.

Novato hurler Chuck Overmyer scattered four hits in quelling the big bats of Marin Catholic which didn't ever threaten. Overmyer helped his own cause by hitting three for three, which included a double and a run batted in.

Sophomore catcher for Novato, Ron Rowell, got three singles and two RBIs and Rusty Druba smashed three singles and got one RBI. Other big hitters for Novato were Tom Miller with two singles and a run batted in and Bob Paris with two singles and a RBI. Paris is the only senior on the Novato team.

Marin Catholic hurler Ron O'Connell, who was relieved in the fourth, suffered the loss for the Wildcats.

Line score:

Marin Catholic	000 000 0	0	4 4
Novato	100 217 x	11	17 1

GIANTS INVADE L. A.

Sanford, Drysdale Battle In Opener

Combined AP & UPI

LOS ANGELES — The San Francisco Giants are five full games ahead of the Los Angeles Dodgers as the teams collide tonight in their first meeting of the National League season.

The Giants took the last game, Oct. 3, 1962, by a 6-4 score—and with it went the pennant—in a playoff series that became necessary when they tied for the league championship.

GAME ON TELEVISION

Tonight's game will be televised by KTVU, Channel 2, starting at 7:40 o'clock.

Don Drysdale, who has been ineffective in recent starts, is tonight's pitching nominee for the Dodgers. He will be opposed by Jack Sanford (5-1), and always tough on the Dodgers.

Drysdale has been trying to recuperate from a bruised and sore muscle in his throwing arm and a foot injury.

The Dodger business office says the first game of the three-game series will draw 45,000 or more.

Southpaw Sandy Koufax is scheduled to pitch against the Giants' Billy Pierce, also a southpaw, Saturday night, and Bob Miller of the Dodgers faces Juan Marichal Sunday.

The National League's top hitter, Felipe Alou, and catcher Ed Bailey each batted in three runs in Milwaukee yesterday as the Giants whipped the Braves, 8-2, behind lefty Billy O'Dell's seven-hit pitching. It was the ninth win for the Giants in their last 10 games, and it enabled San Francisco to remain two full games ahead of Chicago and St. Louis, who are tied for second place in the standings.

Alou's seventh homer of the year accounted for two runs in the third inning and he doubled home another in the sixth. Alou also tallied four times.

Bailey singled in a brace of runs in the fifth after accounting for the first with a sacrifice fly during the preceding frame.

A single by Willie McCovey drove across another Giant run in the sixth inning and Willie Mays' second single of the contest chased in the final run during the ninth.

One Milwaukee run scored on Joe Torre's sacrifice fly. Spahn came across with the other as second baseman Joe Amalfitano erred on Frank Bolling's grounder.

O'Dell became the seventh San Francisco pitcher to go the distance during the Giants' nine victories against one loss on an amazing road trip.

Manager Alvin Dark, who leans heavily on the time-worn phrase "we're playing one game at a time," was pleased by O'Dell's route-going performance, but insisted complete games don't mean too much.

With a flock of good hitters and a tight defense, the Giants' only weakness in pre-season forecasts appeared to be pitching. However, they have been sailing along with starters Jack Sanford, Juan Marichal, Jack Fisher and O'Dell, and Billy Pierce in standby for spot assignments.

"We went out to get another starter pitcher last winter and came up with Fisher in a trade with Baltimore," Dark said. "He has been doing a fine job for us, winning three games so far."

Encinal Yacht Club To Host Opening Regatta

By ALFRED MATSON

The Encinal Yacht Club of Alameda is sponsoring the curtain raiser on the summer program of racing for the sail boats of YRA qualifications this weekend.

The regatta is in the nature of a stop gap, a fill in for the classic Vallejo Race, an officially casualty because of an unresolved difference of opinion between the Yacht Racing Assn. and the sponsoring Vallejo Yacht Club. However, in this regard, all is not lost as on the following weekend, May 18-19, there will be a semi-private, bob-tailed version, under the auspices of the IC class officers and open to boats of certain one design classifications only.

To fill up the gaping hole on the program, the good officers of the Encinal club offered to stage a two day regatta. Their noble gesture was given the nod of approval by YRA but on the basis that no season's points would be given. Without this incentive, it will be interesting to see how many boats show up at the starting line, for pleasure and a possible bauble.

Tomorrow's racing will be confined to the Cruising Club and Division entries. The start will be from an imaginary line between the Committee Boat and a flagged stake boat, approximately 1,400 yards south-southeast of the end of the Berkeley Pier. First out of the chute will be Cruising Club "A" at noon with the other divisions following at 5 minute intervals. Sunday will be class day with the ICs heading the parade at 11 a.m.

Judo Matches For Youngsters Set Tomorrow

Competitive judo matches for juniors aged six through 17 will be held tomorrow at 1 p.m. at the Marin Catholic High School gymnasium.

More than 100 contestants are expected to participate. Marin schools participating are Novato Dojo, San Rafael Military Academy, Tiburon Recreation Center and the Marin School of Self Defense, Larkspur.

In addition to the matches, there will be demonstrations of advanced judo, ju jitsu, aikido and karate techniques. Mel Augustine, who placed third in the United States National Judo tournament, will be the chief referee.

The matches will be free of charge.

More Trout Plantings Planned; New Bait Introduced To Market

STEVENS

The select few who have been wont to fish St. Helena Creek in Lake County (and what a bonanza that has been) will be forced to other waters due to the F&G not stocking that stream because of access problems.

However the planting of various central coast area waters is scheduled for this week, depending, of course, on water and road conditions.

They are: LAKE COUNTY—Anderson Creek, Big Canyon Creek; MARIN COUNTY—Rodeo Lagoon on Fort Cronkhite; SAN FRANCISCO COUNTY—Lake Merced Impoundment; SAN MATEO COUNTY—Gazos Creek, Pescadero Creek, Purisima Creek; SANTA CLARA COUNTY—Stevens Creek Reservoir, Upper Uvas Creek from Svedal upstream to county park area; MONTEREY COUNTY—Arroyo Seco Creek upper section, Carmel River, Los Padres Reservoir, Nacimiento River upper section; SAN LUIS OBISPO COUNTY—Atascadero Creek, Chorro Reservoir, Lopez Canyon Creek, Reservoir Canyon Lake, San Simeon Lagoon.

ALWAYS, it seems, something in the way of fish bait appears on the market. We're all used to seeing canned salmon eggs, which we know are effective for trout. We've seen dried grasshoppers, which anglers have found effctive in the taking of black bass when properly handled, and, naturally, we are well familiar with the many artificial lures imitating minnows, frogs, crawfish and eels. But most of us know full well that any artificial lure is inferior to a natural bait.

Why talk about it? Just because I have had on my desk for over a month two plastic bags containing the real thing—preserved. One bag contains minnow so fresh looking it is a temptation to pick one up and drop it in the frying pan. The other bag has grubs, also apparently the real thing. I haven't the slightest idea who sent those baits, but I sure will test them out.

BUT TO top all artificial or preserved baits is something that came in the mail yesterday. It is called Miracle Shrimp, and believe it or not it is a real shrimp. By a new process known as "Freeze Drying"—a combination of fast freezing and vacuum drying—99.94% of the moisture has been removed.

Following directions, I took one of the bait-size pieces and dunked it in water. The thing looked, felt and tasted like a freshly caught shrimp. I'm wondering how many local anglers know how good a bit of bait such as a lare shrimp is. It's a killer for almost all species of fish we have in the bay waters—yes that includes the striper.

I only have a couple dozen of these shrimp baits, but to the first 10 readers who send me a self addressed and stamped envelope I'll share them. It will be a good way to prove or disprove the question of how good shrimp bait is for our local waters.

MARIN TRACK FINALS

Preps To Assault Records Tomorrow

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Marin's prep track men will be out after more records tomorrow when the finals of the Marin Athletic League meet are held on the San Rafael High School field.

Field events are scheduled to start at noon, with the running events getting underway at 2:30 p.m.

Marin's athletes showed some great times and distances last Friday when the trials of the MCAL were held on the Redwood High School oval. Five varsity records, seven Class B and two Class C records were shattered in the trials.

Top show of the day was put on by San Rafael's Bob Olsen who snapped records in both the 100 and 220-yard dashes. He flew the century in 9.9 and sprinted the 220 in 21.7. He'll be out to duplicate his performance tomorrow.

The top eight finishers in each of last week's events qualified for the finals. The first five finishers in the varsity and Class B events tomorrow will qualify for the North Coast Section Division III trials which will be held May 18 on the San Rafael High School track.

In the hurdles, Redwood's Tam Strathairn should provide a pair of wins for his Giant team. He won the 180 low hurdles last Friday in record time of 20 flat and won the 120-yard high hurdles with a time of 15.4.

Another record-breaker who should provide quite a show around the broad jump pit is Ellis Williams of Tamalpais High School. Ellis broke his own 1962 record last week with a jump of 22-4 and ¾.

REDWOOD RELAY

The other varsity mark to fall last week was the 880-yard relay which was won by Redwood's team of Bob Piro, Pete Holter, Dave Auerbach and Strathairn. Their time was 1:32.3.

San Rafael's Mike Shafer will be after a new mark in the 440, and will be going all out. He set the MCAL record of 49.9 last year and breezed to a 50.1 in the trial last Friday.

The high jump and pole vault events could produce records. The high jump record is 6-1½. Tam's Art Foster, who won last year at 6-1, and Henry Solen of San Rafael, who has cleared 6-2 this year, stand the best chance. Strathairn can't be counted out of this event as he has cleared 5-11 this year.

VAULT RECORD

In the pole vault, Drake's Tom Farber has gone 11-7½ and Redwood's Bill Dimpfl has gone 11 feet. Record for the MCAL is 11-4½. In both the high jump and pole vault events last Friday, the athletes performed only to qualify so nothing startling happened.

In the class B competition, top stars will be Dean Lazzarini of Drake in the sprints, Redwood's Jack Lindahl in the 660, Rick Edwards of Terra Linda in the 330, Clem Glynn of San Rafael in the discus, Mike Holloway of Tam in the broad jump and Terra Linda's Edwin Stenberg in the 1320.

Class C record breakers who will put out their best are Drake's Manuel Saenz in the broad jump and Tom Jones of Novato in the sprints. San Rafael's fleet Jeff Chan will be out to avenge his defeat last Friday in the 75-yard dash. It will be the last meet for the Class C cindermen.

Redwood Golfers Remain Unbeaten

Redwood High School golf team remained undefeated yesterday with a 4-2 win over Terra Linda and Drake High handed Marin Catholic its 10th straight loss, 4-2, in Marin Athletic League action yesterday.

Doug Ferguson of Terra Linda was the medalist yesterday at the Marin Golf Club with 38. Redwood winners were Rick Webb, Bob Scheffer, Fred McDougall and Buzz Beatie. Other T.L. winner was Fritz Porter.

Medalists in the Drake-Marin Catholic match were M.C.'s Russ Taylor and Drake's Bob Brackett, who lost his match 1 up to Taylor. Both shot scores of 39 on the Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club course.

Drake winners were Mike Meherin, Russ Richeda, Gordy Nelson and Phil Baiocchi. Other winner for Marin Catholic was Steve Schilling.

League standings for the prep golfers:

	W	L	T
Redwood	9	0	1
Novato	6	1	2
San Rafael	5	2	1
Tamalpais	3	2	2
Terra Linda	1	4	2

Marin Swim Stars In NCS Meet

Marin's top prep swimmers will leave tomorrow for the North Coast Section Division III qualifying heats which are scheduled for the pool at Santa Rosa High School, beginning at 10 a.m.

The top six finishers in each of the varsity and Class B events last Saturday in the Marin Athletic League meet qualified for tomorrow's meet. The top six in each of tomorrow's events will compete May 18 in Santa Rosa in the North Coast Section finals.

Besides the MCAL, top swimmers in the North Bay, Northwestern and Catholic Leagues will be clashing tomorrow. There will be three heats in each event, with the top six times qualifying for the "big meet."

Representing the Marin Athletic League will be swimmers from San Rafael, Tamalpais, Redwood, Drake and Terra Linda.

Track Meet Off

The fifth annual Riemcke Relays for youngsters in the Redwood elementary district, scheduled for tomorrow at 9 a.m. at Redwood High School, has been cancelled, it was announced today.

San Rafae Tennis Stars In North Coast Net Playoffs

Harvy Klyce, Bill Pendergrass and Warren DeGraff — all from the undefeated San Rafael High School tennis team—will represent the Marin Athletic League in the North Coast Division III tennis playoffs tomorrow in Berkeley.

The matches are scheduled to start at 9 a.m. on the Berkeley High School courts. Singles champion Klyce and the doubles team of Pendergrass and DeGraff will be competing against the top players of the other Division III leagues.

In San Rafael's last dual match in the MCAL, the three stars were among the winners as the Bulldogs shut out Tamalpais High School 5-0 last Tuesday for their seventh league win without a defeat.

Other singles winners for San Rafael in that match were Greg Parkerson and Ron Klyce, Harvey's brother. The other doubles winners for San Rafael were Rick Dykes and Bob Howe.

Sohner Softball Action To Start

Sohner Tree Service will open its 1963 softball season tomorrow when the Treemen host Nicasio at 6:30 p.m. at San Anselmo's Memorial Park.

In an attempt to repeat as Marin County softball champs, the San Anselmo nine will send either Jay Leatherwood or Lou Perazzo to the mound against Nicasio's Dick Johnson.

Sohner's probable starting lineup and batting order: Ken Cuneo, rf; Earl Beyer, 3b; Art Donati, c; Ron Jerome, ss; Milt Hain, 1b; Dan George, lf; Keith Fraser, cf; Bob Gini or Earl Ramponi, 2b; Leatherwood or Perazzo, p.

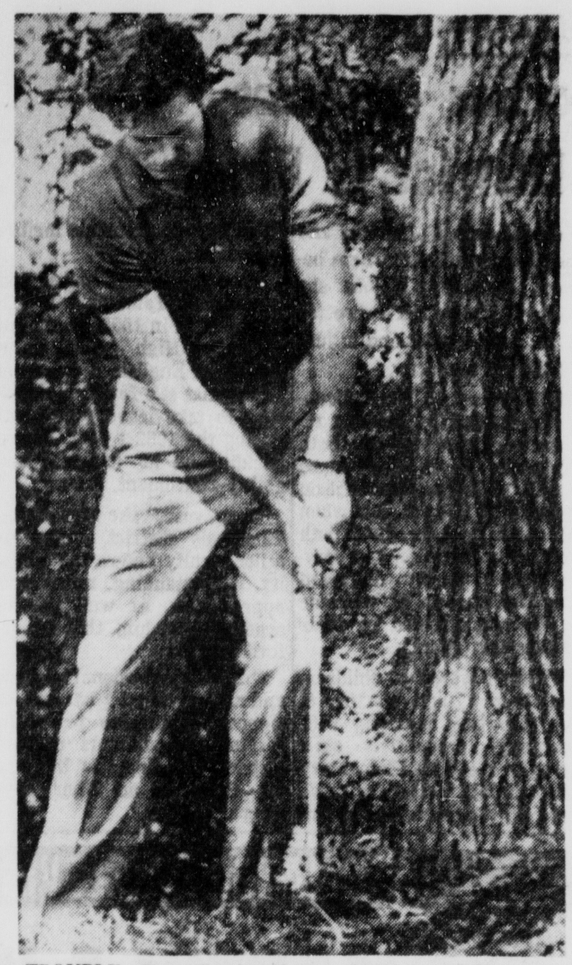
Cars Race Again At Vallejo Track

The speed-happy lead-footers of the Bay Cities Racing Assn. will roll again tomorrow night at Vallejo Speedway in their weekly 10-event race program.

A total of 58 cars participated in last week's action-packed, crash-packed program —with two sensational flips and a pulse-throbbing spinout into the crash wall highlighting the action.

The 8,500-seat speedway is located three miles north of Vallejo on Napa Highway.

Gates swing open at 6 p.m. The time trials get underway at 7:30 p.m., and the first of the heat races starts at 8:30 p.m.



TROUBLE—Doug Sanders hits a shot from behind a tree on 18th hole during first round of Colonial Invitational tournament in Fort Worth, Tex., yesterday. Sanders bogeyed the hole, but his round of 67 was good enough to take the lead. (AP Wirephoto)

Sanders Grabs Lead In Colonial Tourney

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Personable Doug Sanders, brandishing a blazing putter, carried a one-shot lead into the second round of the $60,000 Colonial National Invitational golf tournament today.

The easy-going Georgian with the unorthodox swing whittled three strokes from the grudging Colonial course yesterday during an afternoon marked by the disqualification of Don January.

January, who was invited to the tournament only after a lengthy PGA-Colonial controversy, played the wrong ball on the eighth hole and was forced to withdraw when he discovered his error.

Sanders' 67 gave him a one-stroke lead over Bill Collins of Grossinger, N. Y.

Seeking to regain the title he won here in 1961, Sanders one-putted 12 greens while rambling 17 holes without a bogey.

A wind-whipped approach shot at the final green landed in the lake and it took a miraculous recovery to salvage a bogey and preserve his lead.

Jerry Barber and Bob Rosburg were the only other pros to dent the sprawling 7,021-yard layout's regulation 70, each registering 69s.

Packed in a six-way tie for fifth with 71s were Jack Nicklaus, Bruce Crampton, Gardner Dickinson Jr., Phil Rodgers, Tony Lema and Julius Boros.

Nicklaus, with three tour titles including the Masters already tucked away this year, played far below his standard from tee to green but a magic putting wand held his game together.

Defending champion Arnold Palmer started with a birdie on the first hole but steadily gave way to par and wound up in a crowded group of 74 shooters.

NATIONAL LEAGUE ROUNDUP

As Frank Robinson Goes, So Go The Cincy Redlegs

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

There's fresh proof today that the Cincinnati Reds go as Frank Robinson goes.

National Leaguers actually put it another way.

"When Robinson's not hitting," they say, "it's like playing a team tha't blind-folded when it bats."

The 1961 N.L. champions seemed blind-folded, at that, for the first three weeks of the season. They were shut out four times and held to one run three other times as they stumbled around in a hit famine that was enough to make Manager Fred (The Bear) Hutchinson tear up the clubhouse furniture.

Then, Robinson, the N.L.'s most valuable player in 1961 and a .342 hitter with 39 homers and 136 runs-batted-in last season whose average this year had dwindled to a sickly .261, suddenly burst out of his slump. And what a coming out party it was!

5-FOR-5

All Robinson did last night was go 5-for-5, with two homers, a double and two singles, score three runs and drive in seven to pace the Reds to a 13-3 rout of the Houston Colts. Teammate Vada Pinson weighed with 3-for-5, three runs scored and four RBI's to make it a breeze for Jim Maloney to chalk up his fourth victory against one loss.

Robinson's splurge raised his 1963 average 40 points to .301 and gave him six homers and 22 runs batted in.

The San Francisco Giants downed the Milwaukee Braves, 8-2, the St. Louis Cardinals turned on the Los Angeles Dodgers, 10-7, the Chicago Cubs beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 3-1, and the New York Mets defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 3-2, in other N.L. action.

Robinson hammered a two-run double to cap a four-run third-inning rally, hit a two-run homer in the sixth and added a three-run round-tripper in the eighth to round out his one-man attack on Houston pitchers.

GRAND SLAMMER

Bill White hit a grand slam homer, Charlie James connected for a three-run round-tripper and Gene Oliver connected for a two-run blast as the Cardinals collected 17 hits against five Dodger pitchers. Bob Gibson went 6⅔ innings to win his first game for the Cardinals.

The Cubs ran their winning streak to six games, longest since 1961, on the strength of the two-hit pitching of Dick Ellsworth. Billy Williams and Ron Santo had two hits for the Cubs, who have won nine of their last 10 games.

The Mets ran their winning streak to four games when reliever Johnny Klipstein's ninth-inning wild pitch let pinch-runner Al Jackson score from third with the winning run. Relief pitcher Ken MacKenzie, who pitched a perfect ninth inning in relief of Roger Craig, received credit for his third straight victory.

Retiring Teacher Declares Tam High District Is Finest

WONDERFUL SCHOOLS—Mrs. Annie Beth Watson, retiring after a teaching career that began in 1927, declares that Tamalpais High School District is the finest. Her most recent post was teaching English at Sir Francis Drake High School.

Mrs. Annie Beth Watson of 27 Cypress Avenue, San Anselmo, admits she sometimes hears criticism of California schools.

"But none of it ever applies to the Tamalpais Union High School District," she staunchly declares. "It's the finest, and I'm sure it will never change."

A teacher since 1927, Mrs. Watson feels qualified to judge. Ill health now is forcing her to retire from service in the Tamalpais district which she has served since 1945 but though she hadn't planned on retirement for several years she finds consolation in the fact that "I've been with wonderful schools."

Mrs. Watson was born in Waco, Texas, and did her first teaching near there. This was over a seven-year period. She is a graduate in English and French of Baylor University and did graduate work there.

Other graduate work was done at East Texas State, College of Pacific and San Francisco State. She also studied at a special school of drama and speech arts in Texas where between teaching jobs she worked in radio, as a director of dramatic schools and in junior theater projects.

Her interest in Marin County was fanned by glowing reports from two brothers, both physicians—Dr. A. B. Goddard of Mill Valley and Dr. Wilson Goddard of Bolinas. But when she came here in 1945 both brothers were off in war service, which hardly detracted from the warmth of welcome for she was greeted by their families and friends.

With her were two children, Sam, then 7, and Martha, 8. She started teaching with emergency credentials and served at the Park Elementary School in Mill Valley for three years. As time went on she fulfilled the requirements for life credentials.

Then she taught speech and English at Tamalpais High School until in 1952 she moved to Drake High School as a teacher of English. It was from Drake that she found it necessary to take leave for illness during the 1962-3 year, before deciding on an enforced disability retirement.

"I am sure," she says of the Tamalpais district, "that no other faculty knows the security, understanding, regret and appreciation, as well as the academic freedom, that are afforded ours.

"As a professional person and an individual I have experienced justifiable pride in serving the students of this district. Tamalpais is the finest—there is no finer anywhere."

CAMPUS RECITAL—Violinist Mary Ellen Mullan will appear with pianist William Armstrong in a recital of sonatas in Angelico Hall on the Dominican College campus in San Rafael Monday at 8 p.m. The recital is a presentation of the college's music department.

School Board To Act On Contaminated Well

Trustees of the Bolinas-Stinson Union School District Wednesday declared they will either have to chlorinate or dig a new well at Stinson School and decided to look into chlorination.

The well has been closed off for two months since it was found to be contaminated with bacteria in the water. Paul Ryan, Bolinas plumber, was asked to discuss chlorination with the County Health Department.

Trustees also discussed revisions in the 1963-64 salary schedule, including a 3 per cent across-the-board increase in salaries and upgrading of plateaus on the schedule. No action was taken. The subject will be discussed again at a budget meeting to be held at 8 p.m. May 22 at Bolinas School.

Trustees voted to continue speech therapy with the county for $2,100, of which about $1,800, according to clerk Arthur E. Carpenter, will be reimbursed by the county.

Crown Painting Co. of San Rafael was awarded a contract of $2,965 to paint Bolinas School, inside and out, the job to be done this summer.

Registration for first graders will be held between noon and 3 p.m. at Bolinas School Tuesday, Carpenter said.

Sausalito's Planning Head Going To Europe

Robert L. Nissen, vice chairman of the commission, will act as chairman during Wax's absence.

ENJOYING A breathtaking panorama of lower Marin and San Francisco on a hilltop not far from their home in Mill Valley is the John Hopkins family. The Hopkins adopted their two sons, "Shag" William Francis, left, Joey and daughter "JJ" Jennifer Jeanne through the offices of the Children's Home Society of California, a statewide, non-profit, private adoption agency now in its 77th year. (Bob Hax photos)

A Family That Loves To Love Most Of All

This will be the third time in court for John and Lorraine Hopkins. First it was to complete the adoption of "Shag," William Francis, 3½ years, then for "JJ," Jennifer Jeanne, 2½ years, and next Wednesday it will be for "Joey," Joseph Ignatius, not quite a year old. The informal hearing before a Marin County Superior Court judge will conclude a procedure which began last July with the arrival of Joey in the Hopkins household.

"AS SOON AS Shag was placed with us we made known our desire for another child," says John Hopkins, a successful young attorney who, with his wife and their three adopted children, lives in a hillside home in Mill Valley with a commanding view of lower Marin and a breathtaking panorama of San Francisco. "Frankly, our original goal was three children, but now our minds are far from closed," he says.

The Hopkinses adopted their two sons and daughter through the good offices of the Children's Home Society of California, a state-wide, non-profit, private adoption agency which is now in its 77th year of service.

Charming Lorraine Hopkins points out that all of the children were under two months of age when first placed in their home by Children's Home Society.

"Procedurally, agency adoption is quite simple, despite the insistence upon certain safeguards for the protection of the children and the natural and adopting parents, says attorney Hopkins, who has himself handled adoptions for clients in Marin and other counties. He recently represented the Beardsleys in their "mass adoption" in Monterey County which involved a total of 19 children.

IN URGING prospective parents to consider adopting through an agency in preference to a so-called "private" adoption, Hopkins points out that the intermediate activities in an agency adoption which lead up to the relinquishment of the child by the natural parent and which thereafter determine the placement of the child, performed by skilled and sympathetic social workers, tend to provide a better system for evaluation of the natural parents, the children, and the adoptive parents, and convince him that an agency like Children's Home is best suited to perform these services. Hopkins stresses that "doctors and lawyers are not by nature or profession skilled social workers." Moreover, unlike in most private adoptions, anonymity of all parties is assured in an agency adoption through Children's Home Society.

A Salute To Women In The Service

By DOROTHY NEWELL

Attention is being focused on the men and women at Hamilton Air Force Base as Armed Forces Week is observed all over the nation next week. The women in the Air Force (WAF) are an integral part of the base.

The WAF was established on June 12, 1948 with 32 of the 44 airmen specialties open to the women.

At Hamilton, WAF are assigned as air traffic control and warning specialists, medical and dental assistants, parachute rigging, communications specialists, administrative clerks, stenographic technicians and as an off duty assignment, four of the WAF are members of the Base honor guard which takes part in ceremonies and parades and public events in the Bay Area.

The local unit also claims the only WAF to be stationed at the radar station at Mt. Tamalpais and a reserve WAF officer who is a lady provost marshal.

TAKING THEIR basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, the girls divide their time between drill, marching, scrubbing dormitories, polishing shoes and keeping themselves well-starched and presentable.

Young women who have a college degree can apply for a direct commission and if selected, attend a short course at the Officer Training School at Lackland. They are selected for promotion comparable to promotion for men. The air force also has the airman commissioning program which is operated on a co-educational basis.

COMMANDER OF the WAF Squadron Section, 78th Bomb Combat Support Group is Lt. Doris J. Patterson, formerly of Pennsylvania. She served during a previous tour at Hamilton and came back to Mill Valley to make her home. While attending College of Marin, and as an active reserve, she was asked to return to active duty as commander of the WAF squadron at Hamilton.

As commander, her duties are much the same as a dean of women's position in college. Her main job is to oversee the welfare of the women, the standards of clothing, uniforms, behavior, and counsel on personal problems.

M/Sgt. Betty L. Arnold, the first sergeant of the squadron, assists Lt. Patterson in her duties. Among Sergeant Arnold's duties are inspection of quarters, directing new personnel in squadron policies, and showing the new arrivals the advantages in the area in regards to hobbies, shops, trips, theaters and entertainment. A great deal of office work is also included in Sergeant Arnold's duties.

Sergeant Arnold will be retiring July 31, following 20 years in the service. She said she would change to just plain Miss as of that date, but if she found an eligible bachelor she wouldn't mind changing it to Mrs.

Her favorite hobby is bowling and she will be in Colorado Springs this week competing in the division bowling tournament. If the team wins it will be eligible for the world wide tournament at Dyess, Tex.

A tour of duty during the occupation in Japan, and stationed at Yokahama was one of the best times she had while in the service, Sergeant Arnold said.

A/3C Brenda Ogle of North Carolina is one of the many airmen stationed at Hamilton. Living on WAF hill, where the view is superb, the girls have their individual rooms in the barracks. The girls are encouraged to decorate their rooms in any way they choose, with pastel shades of paint given to them. Airmen must live on the base unless they are married. Brenda is an administrative helper, or clerk typist with the 78th Combat Support Group.

The oldest women's branch within the air force is the Air Force Nurse Corps.

CHIEF NURSE at Hamilton hospital is Lt. Col. Edna L. Phariss, a veteran of battlefield service with the 47th Field Hospital in Europe. Assisting her is Maj. Mary A. Tonne, a flight nurse who served with air evacuation units during the Korean War and is among a selected group of nurses assigned to air force recruiting duty. Maj. Tonne is also chief nurse of Ward 6 at Hamilton Hospital.

Lt. Nancy Richardson is among the many married nurses at Hamilton. Her husband is a pilot with the 41st Air Rescue at Hamilton, whom she met after coming to Hamilton.

Serving as a corpsman or nurses aid with the hospital group is another young airman, A/2C Judy Burson of Peoria, Ill. Judy will be married in July to A/3C Grant Bailey, whom she met while stationed at Hamilton. Her reason for joining the Air Force was to travel and learn while earning some money.

According to a spokesman at Hamilton, there are 13 men to every woman at Hamilton.

ANOTHER DIVISION at Hamilton is the manpower organization. Assistant Chief is Capt. Marjorie Balch, a University of Washington graduate who stated that she had been no further east than Chicago when she joined the service 11 years ago. Since that time she has traveled half way around the world.

The manpower organization division determines the number of workers needed in any area. In essence, the number of cooks, bakers, etc. required for base operations, Capt. Balch said.

CAPTAIN BALCH was formerly commander of the WAF at Hamilton, the job now held by Lt. Patterson. She will be leaving Hamilton this summer for a three year tour of duty at Mildenhall Air Force Base in England.

Armed Forces Day will be celebrated at Hamilton on May 18 with the public invited to attend.

LT. NANCY Richardson, right, checks A/2c Judy Burson as she gives a bottle to 9 months old William A. Lopez, Jr., son of A/2c and Mrs. William A. Lopez. William was one of six child patients in Ward 6 at Hamilton Air Force Base hospital. (Independent-Journal photos)

Republican Women Will Sponsor Study Group On Legislation

The Marin Federation of Republican Women will sponsor a study group on "Congress and Legislation" on May 21 at the home of Mrs. Robert T. Brown in Greenbrae. This is a departure from the club's usual monthly luncheon meetings.

Ray Paschke of Santa Rosa, field representative for this area for Congressman Don H. Clausen (R-Crescent City) will address the group, after which two groups will be formed for discussion and study. Our discussion unit will concentrate on Congress and how we can help our Congressman, while the other studies current legislation, according to Mrs. Robert S. Milmoe, vice president and program chairman.

Coffee and rolls will be served upon arrival at 9:45 a.m. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Matt A. Graham, Mrs. Patrick Ness or Republican headquarters.

Paschke, who has established the local Congressional office in Rosenberg Building in Santa Rosa, was formerly legislative assistant to John Busterud, who represented San Francisco's 21st District in the California State Assembly. He is a graduate of UCLA.

Three members of the club attended the Northern Division meeting of the California State Federation of Republican Women in Richardson Springs on May 6 and 7. They were Mrs. Lee Sherry of San Anselmo, vice chairman of the Marin County and the California State Republican Central Committees, Mrs. J. Lee Chaille of Sleepy Hollow, president of the local club, and Mrs. Genevieve C. Longley of Larkspur, local parliamentarian.

The club's next event is a champagne-tea on the grounds of the D. C. Gabrielsen estate in Ross on May 23. General chairman is Mrs. William Ghilotti of San Anselmo.

Sausalito P-TA President Enjoys Music, Traveling

When Mrs. Eugene M. Huggins assumes the presidency of the Sausalito Central-Bayside Parent-Teacher Assn. for the next year, she will be no stranger. A member of the P-TA for six years, she served as chairman of the "Family Night Dinner" in 1962 and was historian in 1958.

Mrs. Huggins feels the P-TA is a vital organization of the school in that the ultimate purpose should be to improve communications between parents, teachers and school administration.

She and her husband have lived in Marin for nine years. He is technical liaison officer with U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. Edmonton, Alberta, Canada is her birthplace, and she received her basic education there and in Calgary and attended Edmonton Business College.

Three children, Chrissie, 10, Eugene, 6, and Rachel, 3, and her husband are the big joys of her life, but she also likes music in all forms and traveling. Collecting art catalogues of exhibitions of the past 20 years is also a pet hobby of hers along with restoring and refinishing furniture.

MRS. EUGENE HIGGINS

Her other local interests are the Sausalito Presbyterian Church and the Sausalito Theater.

Other officers serving with Mrs. Huggins will be Mesdames Harold Sleight, first vice president; William Hillebrand, third vice president; Jackson Perry, treasurer; Leon Adams, secretary and Stanley Stock, historian. Benjamin Farnham will be second vice president.

Hopkins Referred To Society By Catholic Social Service

Service. They attended a group meeting at the San Francisco office of the Society and sat with other couples interested in adoption. "A pleasant and relaxed experience," was how Lorraine Hopkins put it.

"The social worker who took our first case was a revelation," Mrs. Hopkins said. "She understood our needs and helped us to realize that the agency's primary thought is for the child and how he or she will fit in or relate to the prospective parents."

LORRAINE HOPKINS confessed that many of her friends doubted that Children's Home would approve their home for child rearing, sitting as it does on a steep slope in Mill Valley. "But we learned that people come first," she said. The Hopkinses also learned that income is not of primary importance in an adoption, either. "A good home is more important," John said, "and if the couple's income is such that the adoption fee would be a hardship, the fee can often be adjusted."

"SHAG" AND "JJ," brother and sister, resemble Lorraine Hopkins very strongly. Joey has dark eyes and hair like his Dad, John. Shag and JJ love puzzles and reading, and the whole family loves to hike. All of Mount Tamalpais lies right at the Hopkins' front door, and few trails remain unexplored. John and Lorraine look forward to the day when the children can join them on the ski slopes and tennis courts.

MANY ARE THE activities of this busy family, but most of all it loves to love. Guess that's what does make the world go round after all, especially a little world on the top of a hill in the sleepy town of Mill Valley.

Strawberry Round-Up To Feature Games

Stanley J. Gallagher, president of the Strawberry Point School Parent-Teacher Assn., will be head "Cow Poke" when the association presents "Round-up Day" on May 18 from 1 to 5 p.m.

A new game, the "Fishing Pond," will be provided for the toddlers this year and the smallest "fry" may fish for prizes. Other games will be Grab Bag, Goldfish Booth, Swing the Villain, Shooting Gallery, Baseball, Rope-a-Steer and Wet Sponge. Sixth grade Girl Scouts will run the Wet Sponge booth and serve as targets for the soggy missiles. Mrs. Roy Montgomery and Mrs. Alden Wuoltee are games chairmen.

Other chairmen are Mrs. Richard Burns, fun house; Erland Koski, hayride; Verne Bonette, golf; Mrs. Herbert Maher, make-up; Harold Roberts, hamburgers and hot dogs; Mrs. Bliss Woodland, cake and coffee; Mrs. Edward Smith, ice cream and milk; Mrs. Horton Hinshaw and Mrs. Kenneth Duffin, candy; Mrs. Leon Willat, cotton candy; Mrs. John Linker, popcorn; Mrs. John Reidel, sno-cones; Mrs. Ed Shugart, balloons, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert McGough, food.

Cub Scout Pack 33, which is sponsored by the P-TA, will set up its Indian teepee and display hand crafted articles made by the Cubs.

Especially for adults is the plant booth featuring driftwood arrangements, cuttings and plants gathered by Mrs. John Binkley and Mrs. William Praun, co-chairmen; the white elephant sale run by Mrs. Charles Drolla and the art and hobby show run by Dr. and Mrs. William L. Clark.

Chuck wagon dinners will be served by chief chef Mrs. C. B. Crowell and her assistants, Mrs. William Moschette and Mrs. James Sullivan, from 4 to 6 p.m.

Mrs. Lindy Kell, sixth grade teacher, will ride herd on the "teachers' bake sale" with parents and teachers donating.

Others helping are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Toso and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Van Houten, decorations; Mr. and Mrs. John Fixes and Mrs. Edward Dill, finance; Mrs. Burns, tickets; Mrs. Alfred Goldberg, publicity; Koski, construction; Thomas Merrill, electricity, and Jay Fiske, public address system.

The Wrist Is Focal Point

The simple, untrimmed lines in women's clothes are an excellent background for the new fashions in gold filled jewelry, according to the Jewelry Industry Council. These exciting jewelry creations were designed to meet today's fashion needs and are most effective in dramatizing a Spring ensemble — without fracturing even small budgets.

THE FOCAL POINT in today's new gold filled jewelry is the wrist, with bracelets in a variety that blend with the trend toward shorter sleeves and the simple lines of women's dresses and suits. Gold filled bracelets styled in today's new fashions lend themselves beautifully to these new simple lines.

Combinations of good taste may be attained by the use of three or four bracelets from any of the following groups; bangles, plain or engine-turned, turned tubes, scarabs, twisted wire, and a variety of chains.

ALL OF THESE are available at your jewelers' and may be selected from a wide variety, including bracelets of cultured pearls and gem stones.

Earrings, a "must" in every feminine life, may be selected to complement the bracelets and necklaces. When used as a classic or conversation piece for the hip, shoulder, or glove cuff, pins of contrasting or harmonizing design are effective.

Marin MAGAZINE
Bright reading for the whole week

Featured this Saturday:

National Hospital Week will be observed in Marin and throughout the country starting Sunday. The theme this year is the vocational and professional opportunities which are open to young people in the hospital field. In keeping with that theme, the Independent-Journal Marin Magazine salutes the four general hospitals of Marin tomorrow with a story about their junior volunteer programs.

Marinites are an artistic—and a versatile — lot. Tomorrow's Marin Magazine will feature stories about practitioners of two of the more unusual and interesting art forms. Mrs. Audrey York of Fairfax will tell you about her hobby of silkscreening. And the second article will deal with the many professional dancers who reside in the Bay Area and continue here their study of dancing.

Among the most popular features in the I-J Marin Magazine are the frequent pictorial stories it presents on some of Marin County's finest and most unusual homes. Tomorrow's magazine will offer a "tour" of one of the most attractive and most extraordinary dwellings yet covered—the residence of Dr. and Mrs. Morris R. Katkov and family, especially planned for its sylvan Ross setting.

Marin's own magazine . . . picturing and reporting life in Marin today . . . personalities, recreation, coming events, book reviews, gardening, music, home improvement, weekly TV log. A week of good reading. Look for it, Saturdays.

Low Tide At Bolinas, From High Up

Bolinas is in the foreground, San Francisco in the far background, of this lofty aerial photograph including a considerable part of western and southern Marin County though stopping short of the national seashore-to-be on the Point Reyes Peninsula.

Most of the immediate foreground is actually under water, but it's at low tide which clearly exposes the narrowness of existing channels leading in from Bolinas at the lower right closely confronting the tip of the Stinson Beach sandspit. New homes on the sandspit may be seen extending up from close to its tip. At the upper portion and to the left of the spit is the newly dredged lagoon, a haven of quiet water to be surrounded by luxury dwellings all boasting the finest marine facilities.

Above, the town of Stinson Beach may be seen with the Shoreline Highway snaking along the cliffs to the south, then emerging to pass the lagoon enclosure and finally reaching, at lower left, the Audubon Society's Canyon Ranch and tidelands bird refuge. Ultimately it is expected that this road will be carried above the town of Stinson Beach to prevent mixing of through and local traffic. The lower Panoramic Highway also may be seen.

At upper left may be found Angel Island beyond the tip of the Tiburon Peninsula, with Strawberry Point also visible and Mill Valley homes inland. Marinship may be detected but the main part of Sausalito lies behind the high ground of Waldo.

Towers of the Golden Gate Bridge are barely perceptable over the hills. Point Bonita is the most projecting Marin point at the south. Rodeo Lagoon lies back out of sight but Tennessee Point can be observed this way from Point Bonita.

Various San Francisco areas stand out clearly, the most obvious being the Presidio and the long dark strip of Golden Gate Park, with Lincoln Park including Fort Miley between. Mount Sutro and the Twin Peaks may also be found.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Difficult To Determine If Patient Should Continue Cathartic Habit

VAN DELLEN

Many oldsters have spent a lifetime fighting the battle of constipation because of the laxative habit. It is difficult to determine whether they ought to continue as before or try for more natural movements. In my opinion, they should follow the line of least resistance and continue with the laxative, provided it is not irritating the intestine.

Most of these men and women have used a variety of cathartics. It is the same old story: Constipated today; a laxative tomorrow. This results in emptying the entire bowel. No stool on the following day because there is nothing to pass. The man then regards himself as constipated and the cycle repeats itself. The regular use of a massive colonic irrigation is even more vicious. Such practices remove completely the desire to let nature take its course.

THERE ARE OTHER causes of constipation among the aged. The muscles involved in the act of defecation may lose their tone with the passing years. In many instances, this follows or becomes more noticeable after a prolonged illness or because of obesity.

Poor dietary habits or lack of teeth may reduce the amount of bulk consumed. An inadequate fluid intake also plays a role. The oldster also is prone to neglect the signal that a movement is in order. In time, the reflex is lost and constipation ensues.

MOST CONSTIPATED individuals have no distress except gas or a feeling of fullness. Others develop a dull ache in the lower abdomen. Headaches and dizziness are noted occasionally but these symptoms are not the result of auto-intoxication, or the absorption of poisons from the intestine as once was thought.

No one dies of ordinary constipation but the oldster should not ignore the condition, especially if two or three days elapse without a movement. There always is a possibility of an impaction or that the hardened material will aggravate rectal disorders such as hemorrhoids. A suppository or small enema usually does the trick. Thereafter, an attempt should be made to correct the cause.

(Dr. Van Dellen will send leaflet on constipation if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

BOARDER LIKES GARLIC

L. P. writes: I board an elderly man who insists on eating raw garlic every night because he thinks it helps hardening of the arteries. I'm much against this practice because it smells up the house. Does garlic really affect arterio-sclerosis?

REPLY

No, but you might find it difficult to convince your boarder, especially if he is Italian or Greek.

CAN'T TAKE THYROID

W. K. writes: Why is it some people can't tolerate thyroid tablets after a thyroid operation?

REPLY

Because they may not need them. In such instances, enough thyroid tissue remains to maintain normal metabolism.

BALDNESS INHERITED

I. V. writes: Is baldness due to anxiety and hypertension?

REPLY

No. The majority of male baldies can blame their ancestors.

NO CURE YET

A. S. writes: Is it true that newspapers, radio, and TV soon will announce a definite cure for arthritis?

REPLY

Not to my knowledge. If a cure is found, I hope you will read about it first in this column.

Today's Health Hint — The oldster who has dizzy spells should get out of bed carefully and slowly.

Graduation Is First In Eight Years

The first graduation in eight years will be held at the Union Elementary School, the board of trustees decided at its meeting Wednesday night.

This year the school will graduate three eighth grade students, said Mrs. Eleanor Pomi, clerk of the board. Tentative plans call for graduation ceremonies to be held at 1 p.m., June 14, at the school, she said. Dr. Virgil Hollis, county superintendent of schools, will be the speaker.

For the past eight years there have been no graduates, because pupils have moved away before reaching the eighth grade.

The school registered three first-grade students for next year, she said. However, there will be a drop in enrollment for next year from 13 to 11 students because two students are moving from the district, Mrs. Pomi said.

Radio, TV Award

Robert H. Glassburn of Greenbrae, program director of KRON-TV, last week accepted the "Outstanding Industry Award" from the Radio and Television Guild of San Francisco State College, for the documentary series "Assignment Four."

Youth 'Mayor' Announces Staff

Appointments of city staff members for "Youth in Government Day" on Monday have been announced by San Rafael "Mayor" Rick Raznikov.

San Rafael High School students will tour city offices with their counterparts. The San Rafael Kiwanis is sponsoring the day.

The appointments are: Bob Gunnarson, city manager; Doug Childress, planner; Karen Childress, superintendent of schools; Tom Degenhart, recreation director; Steve Smith, director of public works; Bruce Wold, fire chief; Sue Knopf, building inspector; John McKinnon, city engineer, and Mike Riggs, photographer.

Census Bureau figures indicate that only 3 per cent of the population spends an entire lifetime in one dwelling and only 15 per cent remain in the same county throughout their lives.

'Eddie's Father' A Family Comedy

By LESLIE DARD

A look at what is new this weekend in the Marin movie houses:

RAFAEL THEATER

"The Courtship of Eddie's Father" is a good family comedy. It stars Glenn Ford, Shirley Jones, Stella Stevens, Dina Merrill, Roberta Sherwood, and a 7-year-old newcomer, Ronnie Howard, who plays Eddie.

Eddie and his father's lives have been shattered by the sudden death of his mother. After a while Eddie realizes their luxurious apartment needs something more than a motherly housekeeper.

He sets out to find daddy a wife.

The boy plays cupid, as he gets guidance from grown-ups with a series of precocious questions. In fact the engaging boy steals the show from adults of the cast.

MOTOR MOVIES

"Damn the Defiant" is a sea drama filmed with color, scope and skill, starring Alec Guinness and Dirk Bogarde with an all male cast.

Based on Frank Tilsley's novel, "Mutiny," it sketches the barbarous conditions under which British seamen labored in the early 19th century. It illustrates Britain's battle with Napoleon.

Guinness, as captain of the HMS Defiant, is an advocate of the "happy ship" theory. Bogarde plays the sadistic type who believes in laying on the whip with the rope.

When Guinness is injured in battle, Bogarde assumes command, and his brutality brings about mutiny.

"Best of Enemies" stars David Niven and the Italian comic Alberto Sordi, and is a delightfully amusing comedy.

SEQUOIA THEATER

You'll never feel quite the same about your pet canary after you've seen Alfred Hitchcock's "The Birds".

You could enjoy "The Birds" half way through as if it were a good romantic comedy set in the more glamorous environs of San Francisco, then moving to the quaint fishing village of Bodega Bay. But suddenly—from out of nowhere—bam! comes the Hitchcock horror.

Starring beautiful blond newcomer Tippi Hedren, Rod Taylor, the male lead, Suzanne Pleshette as his ex-girl friend, and Jessica Tandy as his neurotic mother.

LARK THEATER

Held a second week are two British comedies.

"Kill or Cure" starring Terry Thomas as a slightly myopic private eye retained to operate in a health-fad sanitarium. He's a bumbling gumshoe, and the "health" treatments take constant kidding.

Co-featured is "All at Sea" with Alec Guinness managing to portray a mere seven roles: a retired salt and his sea-faring ancestors.

101 DRIVE-IN

Jerry Lewis romps again in "It's Only Money".

The hare-brained comedian plays a TV repairman who has a yen to be a private detective. His first case is to uncover the heir to an electronics fortune. It turns out to be—you guessed it—Lewis himself.

Co-featured is "Girls, Girls, Girls! with Elvis Presley, in which he manaegs to sing no less than 14 songs.

NOVATO

Hollywood is justifiably proud of its film translation of the six-million copy best seller "To Kill a Mockingbird". It is one of the most moving and eloquent pictures of this or any other year.

Essentially, it is the story of how two motherless children learn the values of life as they grow up in a sleepy Alabama town during the depression.

Gregory Peck received for his role as a lawyer and widowed father of the 10 year-old boy and his 6 year-old sister.

The children's lives are greatly altered by appointment of their father to defend a young Negro accused of raping the simple-minded daughter of a shiftless white farmer.

While the trial of the innocent Negro is but a small part of the film, it nevertheless contains the most profound meanings for the children, and thus the audience.

TAMALPAIS

"My Six Loves" and "Advise and Consent" combine to make a fine evening's entertainment.

In the former Debbie Reynolds plays a musical comedy star heading for a rest at her Connecticut home. There, she finds six abandoned waifs camping on her property — and the fun begins.

"Advise and Consent" brings to life the novel by Allen Drury with all the force of history in the making.

It has a star-studded cast, and specifically the story deals with a Senate investigation for secretary of state, and the pressures and prejudices brought to bear upon it.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

"State Fair" has a big, bright, and brilliant cast which includes Pat Boone, Bobby Darin, Pamela Tiffin, Tom Ewell, Alice Faye, in her first picture in many years, Wally Cox, and the new beauty, Ann-Margaret.

This fine musical includes melodies like "It Might As Well Be Spring" "It's a Grand Night For Singing" and at least five new songs.

Co-featured is the satirical farce "I like Money," which Peter Sellers directs and stars in.

FAIRFAX THEATER

"Miracle Worker" and "Manchurian Candidate" holds forth at the Fine Arts.

The former is the stirring story of blind, deaf, mute Helen Keller and her first awareness of the world around her. It concerns the 7 year-old child and her encounter with Annie Sullivan, the Irish girl who was her first teacher.

Anne Bancroft won best acting honors and Patty Duke the best supporting actress Oscar for their exceptional performances as the teacher and the young Helen, respectively.

"Manchurian Candidate" stars Laurence Harvey, Frank Sinatra, Angela Lansbury and Janet Leigh in the film about brainwashed GIs.

Tam High School Sets 'Bermuda Day'

May 22 will be "Bermuda Day" at Tamalpais High School, a senior function to raise money for the senior ball.

Students in all classes may buy tickets which entitle them to wear Bermuda shorts. Any student wearing Bermudas without buying a ticket may be subject to a fine.

Bermuda Day is an annual affair. However, last year the event was not held because in 1961 some students became over-exuberant, resulting in water balloon fights.

Grocers predict that within 10 years 75 per cent of the nation's potato crop will go to processors.

Showman Is Divorced

LAS VEGAS (UPI)—Showman Harold Minsky, producer of girlie package shows in New York, Las Vegas and at the Seattle World's Fair, was divorced here yesterday by his wife of 16 years on grounds of mental cruelty.

Now being shown at the gallery are paintings by Glenna Bolland of Stinson; driftwood and stone sculpture by Ernest Stainton of Stinson; jewelry by Winifred Stewart of Bolinas, and pottery by Farhad Moezzi of San Rafael.

Also being shown are paintings by Kent Rupp, Belvedere; paintings by Margaret Brunn, Bolinas; ceramics by Betty McClure, Inverness; jewelry by Nina of Sweden; photographs by Jurgen Snyder, San Francisco; scarves by Jane Olds, Stinson; batik by Joann Grohman, Stinson, and shell dolls by Sarah Baroni, Bolinas.

West Germany is about the size of Oregon.

AT PARK SCHOOL

Players Open Season With 'Tea, Sympathy'

The Homestead Players will open their third season May 25 with "Tea and Sympathy" at 8:30 p.m. at Park School auditorium in Mill Valley. Following performances will be June 1 and 8.

The play, by Robert Anderson, is being directed by Lew Levinson, drama teacher at San Rafael High School. Initially it was to have been presented at Brown's Hall but the site was shifted after the damaging March 14 fire.

Cast members are from Mill Valley, Tiburon, San Rafael, Novato and Hamilton Air Force Base.

Bob Landis, a San Rafael High School senior who resides at Hamilton Air Force Base, plays the lead role of Tom Lee, a victim of cruel treatment of his prep school classmates. Julie Shearer of Mill Valley plays Laura Reynolds, the headmaster's wife; Jack Eshleman, Mill Valley, her husband, Bill.

Steve, Al and Ralph, Lee's classmates, are played by David Suhl of Tiburon, Joe Robinson of San Rafael and Pete Rockwell of Novato. Others in the cast are Mac McDonald as Herb Lee, Sylvia Bijok as Lilly, and Leo Liederman as Harris, all of Mill Valley.

Tickets may be obtained through Mrs. Barton W. Shackelford of 219 Meda Lane, Mill Valley, or at the door. The Players, according to president Barbara Aleshire, welcome production crew volunteers. They are invited to see Mrs. William Kelly of 143 Carlotta Circle, Mill Valley.

Mill Valley Chamber Board Gains Three

Lawrence A. Mayer, Herman Boldetti and Granville L. Beedle were appointed Wednesday by the Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors to work with a city council subcommittee discussing a council proposal to raise business and professional licenses in the city.

The proposal has been suggested in an effort to keep the 1963-64 budget down. Council subcommittee men are councilmen Michael Wornum and George D. Monardo and City Mgr. A. E. Almcrants.

California is the leading honey-producing state in the nation.

Large Tiburon Group Talks Of Incorporation

About 30 persons, a large group compared to previous similar meetings, showed up Wednesday at the first in a series of six public meetings of the Tiburon Peninsula Incorporation Committee.

Among them were representatives from the Bel Aire, Belveron Gardens and Paradise Drive property owners.

Although previously announced that boundaries would be discussed, the meeting was devoted to answering questions about plans for incorporating the proposed city of Tiburon by the committee and its legal counsel Leland H. Jordan.

"The large attendance shows increased interest by the property owner associations in such questions as the second bridge crossing and the proposed annexation of portions of the Tiburon business district to Belvedere," Mrs. Elva Paske, chairman, said.

Families Needed For Emergency Children Care

Marin County's Welfare Department is receiving applications from families wishing to provide emergency temporary care to children from newborn to adolescence, according to announcement today.

Because such homes are on call at all times they are paid a $100 monthly subsidy additional to $2 a day for each child received. Homes must be able to accommodate a minimum of three children, at short notice.

"Children who need receiving home care," says a department announcement, "are in a crisis and need to have foster parents who can lessen the shock."

Two of three present homes are closing shortly, it was explained, creating an immediate need.

Paper Salvage Drive Announced

A newspaper salvage drive May 25 and 26 has been announced by the Terra Linda Guild of the Boyd Natural Science Museum to raise money for the museum's Christmas bazaar.

The drive to which the I-J has donated 1,000 pounds of paper, will take place in Scotty's Market parking lot, Terra Linda.

Goal of the drive is to fill two 10-ton vans, bringing an estimated $120 to the Guild, said drive chairmen, Mrs. Edwin P. Brennan and Mrs. Urban E. Wild Jr. of Terra Linda.

The drive will last from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. May 25 and 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. May 26. Approximately 25 members of the guild will participate

German Shepherds Win Prizes

Two young German shepherd dogs, owned by members of the San Geronimo Valley 4-H Club, were prize winners at the fourth annual San Mateo County Guide Dog Puppy Field Day held at Half Moon Bay.

Portia, owned by Melinda Tarr won a second prize, and Ryme, owned by Mary Gilstrap, won a fifth prize. Their dogs were among entries from 57 4-H Club members from nine counties.

Army Captain In On Intelligence

HEIDELBERG, Germany (UPI) — The Army announced yesterday that Lithuanian-born Capt. Alfred Svenson, who crossed into East Germany Saturday, was a former intelligence officer who has some access to security information.

An Army spokesman said the 30-year-old Svenson had been intelligence officer of his unit, the Second Medium Tank Battalion, First Cavalry, Third Armored Division, until January, when he was made assistant executive officer.

Svenson has not been classed as a defector by the Army, although the East German news agency ADN has claimed he asked for political asylum.

Water District Lets 3 Contracts

Marin Municipal Water District directors Wednesday awarded three contracts and accepted a deed from the Housing Authority of Marin County for right-of-ways for a water tank, access road, and pipeline.

The board accepted the following bids:

1. $3,295.23 for 23 tapping valves and sleeves from the Goeniger Materials Supply of Oakland.

2. $1,937.32 for electrical materials to furnish three pump installations from the Graybar Electric Co. of San Francisco.

3. $336 for a microscope from the Aloe Co. to use in the laboratory to analyze water.

Liquor License Fee Share Is $62,479

Marin County and its cities have been paid $62,479 by the State Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control as their share of liquor license fees and fines collected during the six months ending on Feb. 28 of this year.

The allocation included $18,865 for the unincorporated area of the county.

Hub Youth Admits Two Car Thefts

A 14-year-old San Anselmo youth was questioned by San Anselmo police Wednesday and admitted two car thefts and two petty thefts, according to Chief Raymond Buchignani.

The youth was booked at juvenile hall on the charges.

A pint of vodka was removed from the glove compartment of a car belonging to Thomas Anderson of 69 Legend Road, Sleepy Hollow in the Magnolia Avenue parking lot.

Also stolen Wednesday by the youth was a half-carton of cigarettes and two Golden Gate Bridge commute books from the car of Joseph Evanchek, parked in the same lot.

The youth admitted to the theft of a car belonging to Fred Gowan of 75 Gustafson Avenue, Novato, Wednesday and another car taken on April 17 and later recovered on Crescent Road.

Three Suspected Of Stealing Gas

Three teen-aged boys in Marin City are suspected of stealing gasoline and damaging trucks of the Marin County Housing Authority Tuesday night or Wednesday morning.

Robert W. McAllister, maintenance superintendent, told sheriff's deputies the trucks are parked at the housing authority's maintenance yard in Marin City.

A wallet, found in one of the trucks, led Deputy William N. McKillop to track down the youths, aged 14, 16 and 17. The boys are cited to appear before juvenile authorities next Tuesday.

Hub Couple 'Adopt' Vietnamese Boy

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Case of 258 Butterfield Road, San Anselmo, have "financially adopted" Truong Van Dong, an 8-year-old Vietnamese boy, through Foster Parents' Plan of New York.

This involves a pledge to contribute $15 monthly toward the child's support for at least a year. A photograph accompanied by complete case history is provided. Letters to foster parents report on school progress monthly, explaining improvements in physical condition afforded by the gifts.

Car Wash Slated

A "Lavage a la Francais," or French car wash will be held by Terra Linda High School French Club students tomorrow from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Mobile Gas Station in the Terra Linda Shopping Center. Funds collected will go to the school's American Field Service student exchange program.

San Rafael Girl Gets $25 Science Award

A certificate and $25 cash award was made to a San Rafael girl last night for accomplishment in natural science.

Directors of the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum were recently asked by the Explorers Club of San Francisco to select a recipient of the Dr. Carl Eklund Memorial Award in this field.

Eleven-year-old Donna Louise McHugh of 129 Clorinda Avenue was announced today as the winner.

Museum officials said Donna had attended all classes conducted by the museum including marine life, reptiles and lapidary work. She was rated highly for her accomplishments in each class.

Hospitals Says No Drugs Gone

San Rafael police will not charge Dale Lyle Addison, 40, of 911 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, with stealing drugs because they are unable to find a hospital which is missing them.

Addison, facing a forgery charge in Marin Municipal Court, told police Sunday when he was arrested that he stole the drugs, which include procaine, from Ross General Hospital last week.

That hospital and other county hospitals, according to police, have not found any of their drugs missing. The drugs, taken after the arrest, will be destroyed because of spoilage after being taken out of refrigeration.

Terra Linda Weed Control To Start

Weed control in Terra Linda will begin next week along Las Gallinas Avenue, recreation-parks district director Richard T. Conzelmann announced today.

The district board Wednesday authorized continuation of the weed spraying program which has already been completed under contract on Manuel T. Freitas Parkway.

The board agreed to ask Terra Linda merchants about the possibility of operating the district's snack bar at the swimming pool on a concession basis. If no private operator is interested, the snack bar will be managed by pool employees.

AND NO FOOLING

The new sign at Corte Madera Town Park is no place for several things. Here pupils from Neil Cummins School (from left) Jean Thompson and Gail Foster, fifth graders, and Janet Thompson of the third grade, wonder what other bans are going to be added. The sign now says "no vehicles, no dogs, no golfing, no model airplanes." And the Corte Madera Park and Recreation Commission has room on the sign to increase the list.

San Rafael Buses To Fold For Lack Of Passengers

San Rafael's local bus service will make its last runs tomorrow evening.

Moreover, Marin Transit Authority, which has operated the buses since last October, will ask the California Public Utilities Commission on Monday to either cancel or hold in abeyance an application for a permit for scheduled bus operations extending to Hamilton Air Force Base, Terra Linda and Marinwood, and on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard from Greenbrae through Ean Anselmo.

There are not enough riders, and it appears "there never will be," president Robert L. Peterson of Marin Transit said today.

Peterson said he and other members of his company attempted to work out an arrangement through the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce to provide free bus service to downtown San Rafael, underwritten by merchants. But only 26 merchants signed up, and the cost figured out at $40.22 per month each, which they regarded as prohibitive, he reported.

"There are about a half-dozen downtown merchants who practically told us to write our own ticket," Peterson reported. "But it would be unfair and too expensive for so few to try to carry the load."

The bus service was started by the newly formed company last Oct. 24, with four routes and hourly service. In January, one route was eliminated and service on two others was reduced to every two hours. Fares have been 30 cents per ride.

In March, the company, which has been operating under a city license, aplied to the PUC for the additional routes outside San Rafael. When a hearing on the application opened at the Civic Center on April 5, PUC accountants re-

KENNEDY, PEARSON IN PATCH-UP TALKS

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—President John F. Kennedy welcomed Canadian Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson today as an old friend of the United States as the two leaders got together in an attempt to patch up relations between the two countries.

The president spoke at nearby Otis Air Force Base on Cape Cod where he and the Canadian leader landed in their jet planes a few minutes apart.

Pearson, who took office less than a month ago, also indicated a desire to heal the differences which developed under conservative Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker.

Pearson and Kennedy planned to begin their talks at a luncheon arranged at the Hyannis Port home of Joseph P. Kennedy, the president's father.

The two leaders plan two days of informal talks at this vacation resort on all outstanding problems between the two countries, including nuclear defense and trade.

The two leaders were to spend most of today and tomorrow reviewing the issues which have built up friction between the two countries during the past six years.

Pearson has had similar talks with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan in London, as part of his announced program of trying to restore Canada's prestige in world affairs.

The meeting between Kennedy and Pearson finds relations between the United States and Canada at the lowest point in years. Former Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker was highly critical of the United States on many questions, and he ran in the recent election campaign on an anti-American platform.

HARRY J. MACK
Held on felony counts

Ex-Marinite Accused Of Embezzlement

Harry J. Mack, former executive director of the Marin branch of the American Cancer Society, was jailed in San Mateo County yesterday, accused of embezzling $4,930 from the San Mateo County Heart Assn.

He became executive secretary of the San Mateo County Heart Assn. last September, on resigning after five years with the Cancer Society in Marin. He resigned the San Mateo post March 14.

Sgt. John Borcherding of San Mateo police said Mack admitted taking the Heart Assn. money, saying: "I needed more money than I was making. There were things I wanted for the family."

He was charged with grand theft and forgery.

Dr. John H. Manwaring, president of the Marin branch of the Cancer Society, said there was no hint of any embezzlement of its funds by Mack, and an audit had been made after last year's successful fund raising campaign. However, "we're going to have an immediate additional audit," Dr. Manwaring said.

He commented that Mack left the Marin post for a better paying job—"he got around $500 per month here." His pay in San Mateo was reported at $8,250 per year.

While in Marin, Mack lived simply and there was no indication that he was living beyond his means, Dr. Manwaring said.

Mack is 41, married, and father of two children. While on the Marin job, he lived in San Anselmo and operated a one-man office in San Rafael.

Probe Of Fairfax Police Ruled Out

Marin County Grand Jury last night decided to take no action, after an investigation of "conflicting aspects" of a burglary investigation by Fairfax police officers last Jan. 28.

The jury heard testimony for about four and one-half hours yesterday afternoon. Then Foreman Edwin A. Wells released this brief statement:

"There was not enough evidence to support an action of any kind. The investigation is completed as far as the grand jury is concerned, and we decided there's nothing here to act on."

A statement by Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety failed to shed any further light. Said Garety: "In view of the fact that the grand jury has decided to take no action, I feel further comments from me at this time would not be appropriate."

Garety added: "Chief (James) Orr cooperated fully in the investigation, and his officers were quite willing to testify and did so."

Among witnesses called by the jury yesterday were Sgt. Lee A. Perry, who submitted his resignation on April 13 to enter private business; Sgt. William Dooley, who passed the street department examination and became superintendent of streets; Officer David Sturges, and Gordon Corson, 27, of Oakland, who was arrested on Jan. 28 on suspicion of attempted burgalry of Rubini's Restaurant.

Sergeant Perry, whose resignation from the Fairfax Police Department takes effect next Wednesday, said his quitting had nothing to do with the Corson arrest or the subsequent grand jury investigation.

"I think the grand jury statement will silence rumor mongers who like to throw suspicions toward the police department," said Perry. "And you can quote me on that."

Perry said the grand jurors quizzed him about a glove found on the roof of the restaurant. "Reserve Officer Paul Simpson and I both saw Officer Sturges find the glove on the roof," he said. This glove was similar to another glove found in Corson's car. Corson insisted he was never on the roof of the restaurant.

Corson was later charged with trespassing on the roof, but the district attorney moved to dismiss the charge on April

Mayor Hints Drainage Bond Issue In Ross

If Ross is to undertake complete drainage improvements to the town, it could cost more than $100,000 and have to be financed by a bond issue, the town council heard last night.

Town Engineer John C. Oglesby presented the second phase of a townwide drainage system for Winship Park. He estimated the cost for the system in this area at $23,500.

Cost for the whole system "could well go over $100,000," commented Mayor Henry C. Scott.

"It is beyond the taxing power of the city and may have to be submitted to the people as a bond issue."

Oglesby will submit further cost estimates of the drainage system at the June 13 council meeting.

Bridge Board To Study Bus Service

Marin County commuters won a victory today when Golden Gate Bridge directors, reversing a formerly hostile position, voted unanimously to participate in a committee for improvement of Marin-San Francisco bus service.

Their action technically involved a resolution lining up with the San Francisco City and County Board of Supervisors in support of a proposal by Marin County supervisors for formation of such a committee.

On a basis of this, the San Francisco supervisors are expected to appoint three members of the committee at once. Marin has already named Supervisor Peter Behr, chairman, with Supervisors William D. Fusselman and William A. Gnoss.

Today's action was a personal triumph for Thomas D. Hardcastle of Novato, chairman of the bridge board's Commuters Affair Committee.

Hardcastle and Behr were jointly responsible for the idea of a committee. First action was taken by Marin supervisors who put the proposal forward without specifying the size of the group.

Bridge directors at first showed suspicion and hostility, much of this apparently based on fear that they might find themselves running a new bus service. They indicated general readiness to seek means of improving existing service but Hardcastle had a hard fight at recent meetings to prevent tabling of the whole bus question.

Meanwhile San Francisco supervisors endorsed the formation of a committee and said it should comprise nine members, three from each of the jurisdictions concerned. It was stipulated that committee work would be confined to study of the bus problem and that no money is to be spent.

Hardcastle's committee met at 9:30 a.m. today and its five members, including Marin director Leland S. Murphy of Inverness, voted a recommendation that the bridge board follow the San Francisco lead.

Shortly after 10 members of the full 15-member bridge board met at 10:30 p.m., Hardcastle presented the commuter committee's recommendations and moved that the board go on record in similar sense.

Director Dan E. London of San Francisco promptly second the motion.

"Is there any discussion?" asked Chairman Ben D. Lerer. Nobody answered and roll-call brought only "aye" responses.

Clearing Weather Is Due Tomorrow

Scattered showers in Marin County today left .15 of an inch of rainfall in Woodacre, the highest measurement reported for the last 24 hours.

Clearing weather was forecast for tomorrow, except in the Sierra and southern San Joaquin Valley. The five-day forecast called for clear weather at least until Wednesday.

Rainfall measured .10 in Tamalpais Valley, .9 in Belvedere and Point Reyes Station, .8 in the Chevy Chase district of Larkspur, .7 in San Anselmo, .5 in Novato, .8 San Rafael and a trace in Mill Valley.

Film Shown Of Protest At Quentin

A brief movie, showing young demonstrators being dragged away from San Quentin's east gate last week, was shown to a Marin Municipal Court jury this morning.

Defense lawyer Hadden W. Roth introduced the film, a portion of a television newscast, in an effort to show that the demonstrators had nothing but peaceful intent, and the officers used considerable force.

Robert D. Polansky, 20, and Peter R. Raskin, 18, of Berkeley are being tried before Judge Harold J. Haley for failing to disperse.

Teen-aged girls and boys took the stand to describe their sit-down demonstration as a "type of silent vigil" similar to the tactics used by Mahatma Ghandi and by Negro demonstrators in the South. The youths said they were at San Quentin to protest executions.

One girl testified she was

Agreement Believed Near To End Demonstrations In Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — The Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. took a personal hand today in biracial negotiations which could lead to cessation of mass demonstrations in this restive steel city.

A King lieutenant, the Rev. Fred L. Shuttlesworth, said he believed an agreement would be reached today. But he warned that mass demonstrations would be resumed if negotiations fail.

It was learned that the National Maritime Union (AFL-CIO), had sent a check for $32,692 to an organization of which King is honorary chairman.

The money apparently was being used to put up bond for persons arrested during the mass demonstrations which were almost a daily occurrence since April 3 until a suspension was announced by Negro leaders Monday.

The Rev. Wyatt Tee Walker, another King aide, confirmed that mechanics were in process for releasing the demonstrators on bond. Still another leader, the Rev. Andrew Young, said that most of the demonstrators apparently would be released shortly.

A check of the Birmingham jail showed that the demonstrators were being released in a steady stream.

One of the four points sought by King's group is dropping of charges against the demonstrators. King said last night that an agreement had been worked out except for minor details.

Any agreement by the biracial group has no official status, but King indicated that he would go along with the agreement for a limited time.

Officials from both the City Commission and the newly elected Mayor-Council said last night that any agreement worked out by the biracial group was not binding on them.

The committee is composed of business and civic leaders.

The Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy and King both have warned that mass demonstrations will be resumed if no agreement is reached today.

For the second straight day, there were no massive demonstrations yesterday.

Child Is Blamed In Apartment Fire

A child playing with matches was blamed by county firemen for a fire today which caused $1,050 damage to a San Geronimo apartment.

One of Mrs. Connie Booth's two children started the fire which broke out at 6:47 a.m. in a closet in her upstairs apartment on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, opposite the Lagunitas School, said County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom.

The two-sotry building is owned by Joseph Drosihn of Ross. Damage to the structure, mostly from smoke, was estimated at $750, and to the contents, $300.

Bishop Pike Asks Full Report On 'Tongues' Session

Episcopal Bishop James A. Pike called today for a full report on a "glossolalia session" last night at Holy Innocents Episcopal Church in Corte Madera.

The bishop said he wants to determine whether the session violated his pastoral order of last week which forbid encouragement by Episcopal clergy in his diocese of "speaking in tongues" at parish services. If it does, according to canonical law, Rev. Tod W. Ewald, pastor of Holy Innocents, might face admonishment, suspension, or even unfrocking.

The diocese's chancellor for canon law, San Francisco attorney Philip Adams, was present at the session last night.

A dozen men linked arms, praying, then began "speaking in tongues," stringing syllables together in no formal language.

MARIN MUNICIPAL WATER DISTRICT

BUT ROMNEY'S POPULAR

Barry Gets A Big Boost

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater won the biggest round of applause last night when Republican leaders gathered to honor him at a $1,000-a-plate dinner.

But many of those who cheered the Arizonan said later in interviews that they thought the best vote-winner as the 1964 GOP presidential nominee would be Michigan's Gov. George Romney.

There was some talk of California's Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel for vice president.

Goldwater himself has indicated he doesn't think the "kingmakers" would stand for him as the 1964 standard bearer. And he told a newsman he's unhappy "because of all this pressure" on him to seek the nomination.

The off-stage consensus among some GOP leaders was that Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York has grievously, if not irreparably, damaged his chances by his divorce and marriage to a divorcee.

At last night's affair, Goldwater, a 14-carat conservative, was presented a silver coffee urn for his years of service as chairman of the GOP's Senatorial Campaign Committee.

The applause for him far surpassed that for anybody, including Romney. But applause often is not decisive, and a tip-off came when Romney, a middle of the roader who plumps for a "citizens party" seemed allergic to having his picture taken in a twosome with Goldwater.

In fact, Romney walked right out of camera focus. It was not until Kuchel, who has roundly denounced rightist extremists, appeared on the scene and struck a stance between the two men, that the picture taking could proceed.

As for Goldwater, he confessed to a reporter that he was both unhappy and happy.

Unhappy because of pressure on him to seek the presidential nomination.

Happy because he is getting back the money he shelled out for last year's congressional campaigns. It seems he bankrolled the GOP to the extent of $30,000 and the dinner, grossing more than $400,000, means he will be repaid.

"But don't publicize this too much," he said. "I don't want people bothering me trying to borrow money."

Two notable absentees sent telegrams to the dinner, praising Goldwater:

1. Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, who is at one of his favorite golfing bases, Augusta, Ga., promised to do his best to help the Republicans sweep the nation next year.

2. Rockefeller, honeymooning in Venezuela, said that only a "conflicting commitment" kept him away from the dinner. He called for unity in "the challenging year ahead of us."

Many Congress members, several governors and other GOP prominents attended the dinner. Romney made a short talk opposing "unlimited government" and excesses by big labor unions or big corporations. He called for a "coalition of Americans through the Republican party" to do away with all forms of bondage.

At the entrance to the hotel dining hall a big papier mache elephant was set up. It was a mechanical elephant, wagging its trunk and tail. But unaccountably, just as the crowd started to file in, its inner machinery failed and it became motionless.

Two green bows drooped from the elephant's tusks.

Asked to explain what the bows meant, Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky, former Republican national chairman, said:

"I assume it means we are going to get the Irish vote."

He did not explain how this could be accomplished against a man named Kennedy.

But Sen. Everett M. Dirkson of Illinois cheered everybody up by calling for heroism such as the ancient Greeks displayed.

In his celebrated organ tones, Dirksen said: "Be of good cheer. There was only a little band at Thermopylae."

Riots At 3 Campuses

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A touch of spring fever struck three New England college campuses last night and sent students swarming into the streets of New Haven, Conn.; Providence, R.I., and Waltham, Mass.

Before dawn broke today, what began as spring larks turned into riots at the campuses of Yale and Brown universities.

At New Haven it took nightstick swinging policemen to bring 1,500 Yale students under control early today.

Providence police used dogs, motorcycles and nightsticks to drive the Brown students back to their dormitories.

Tax Cut Held Essential For Economy Rise

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP) — President John F. Kennedy's chief economist warned industry leaders today that the spring business upswing, although surprisingly strong, is insufficient to make a real dent in unemployment.

Dr. Walter W. Heller brought to the Business Council, holding its spring meeting here, an appeal for active industry support for a substantial tax cut this year.

Without the kind of stimulus that a tax cut could bring, Heller estimated, it would take nearly 10 years of uninterrupted business growth at the present growth rate of expression to restore full employment. And the stimulus of tax reduction, he argued, would have its greatest impact if injected into an economy that already was in the recovery phase.

Heller apparently did not need to make a hard sales pitch. At least a score of the council's 165 members, including some of the biggest names in industry and finance, have joined Henry Ford II, board chairman of Ford Motor Co. in a movement to mobilize nationwide business support for an early tax cut of some 10 billion dollars.

These include the council's chairman, Frederick M. Kappel, board chairman of American Telephone and Telegraph Co., and its immediate past chairman, Roger M. Blough, board chairman of U.S. Steel Corp.

Each year U.S. farmers use 5 million tons of steel in the form of farm machinery, trucks, cars, fencing and building materials.

160 Inmates Take Another Step Toward Rehabilitation

By LOREN MacARTHUR

It was not a stereotyped graduation last night at Bayview High School.

The class was definitely integrated. And as the traditional graduation march sounded, it was the audience who rose to depart, leaving the graduates behind.

The teachers got more credit than the usual valedictorian thinks to offer, and the graduates talked less about the future than about the past.

It was commencement night at San Quentin Prison for 160 high school, eighth grade and vocational training graduates. The school is administrated by the Marin County superintendent of schools.

"This is not my first incarceration," said 34-year-old salutatorian John V. Divine. "I spent seven years in prison in Arkansas (Tucker Farm). This a place where the whip is still used daily. The working hours are from sun up to sun down. Recreation is non-existent; education is unheard of.

"There is an overabundance of human suffering. The threat of insanity was imminent. Upon my release, I hated everything. Needless to say, I hated myself.

"In a short while I was caught again, this time in California.

"My first reaction here (at San Quentin was one of wonderment. I adopted a flippant attitude and asked the former principal at Bayview (Norman McCollom, who retired last year) what they wanted of me.

"He said, 'We want to help you.' His answer was the beginning for me. Two weeks later I went back.

"When I leave a few months from now, I will take with me a love for the society I am entering and a confidence in myself. I owe this to those who have helped to educate me."

Pierre P. Le Blanc, a 30-year-old French Canadian, won top scholastic honors among the 34 high school graduates. In his valedictory, he individually honored each teahcer who had taught him.

"I have never owed so much to so few," he said. "My first teacher gave me an 'A' and said, 'You worked hard and you earned it.' For the first time in my life I knew the feeling of success."

LeBlanc put in a word for programmed learning classes by delivering half his speech in Spanish, which he learned through 46 hours work in a programmed Spanish course.

The graduates listened intently while Peter Behr, Marin County supervisor, told them: "Each of you has had the courage to risk failure; this is the true courage.

"Without self-respect, one goes into society with neither a sword nor a shield. If you don't have it, you'll be bruised by every bumpkin who comes along.

"A person who can't get along with others is imprisoned for life in solitary confinement."

Bayview Principal George Renworth remarked briefly that the graduates had met more than the usual standards to earn their diplomas. "We also meet the qualifications of a neighborhood school," he said, "although I'm sure some would like to change neighborhoods."

The Bayview Glee Club and the band sang and played several numbers.

Summer Teachers' Pay Hike Put Off

Marin Junior College District trustees last night shied away from considering $18,000 a year in pay raises for summer session teachers as they studied a tentative fiscal 1964 budget of nearly two million dollars.

The proposed new College of Marin budget of $1,927,370 is up about $99,000 over the current budget, said Business Mgr. Norman Bird.

He reported the district will have greater expenses because of teachers' pay raises and additional teachers to handle a 15 per cent enrollment increase expected in September.

Bird said he believes the tax rate will be the same as last year.

This was 77 cents per $100 of assessed valuation, consisting of the old basic rate of 42 cents 35 cents to be levied for 10 years, authorized by the voters on June 6, 1962, to raise $11,305,000 for pay-as-you-go financing of expanding the college at Kentfield and establishing a second campus in North Marin.

The question of hiking summer teachers' pay was raised by a report from College President Stephen E. Epler. He and Dean Ellsworth R. Briggs of the adult school urged the teachers be raised $1 from the current $5.50 and $6.50 an hour.

Epler said if summer pay was upped to $6.50 and $7.50 "it should be done before the summer session starts.

Briggs said that when regular day teachers' pay was increased "my evening people were not included." He added, "we aren't very near the top."

(Pay raises totaling $41,644 for the spring semester were voted last Dec. 11 for 70 day teachers, Epler, Dean of instruction Paul Clymer, Dean of Students Irwin P. Diamond, Briggs and Herbert Blanchett, administrative assistant to Epler.)

"I don't like to do it without knowing where the money is coming from," said Trustee-Clerk Kent O. Seymour.

Board President Elizabeth M. Deedy said, "The point probably needs more study." Trustee Robert E. Rogers agreed.

Trustees and architects next Friday will visit four or five sites proposed for a second campus, meeting at the college at 10 a.m.

Girl Held In Jail More Than Two Hours With Broken Knee

A 19-year-old Santa Venetia girl was kept in Marin County jail for more than two hours early yesterday with a broken right knee before being released on bail, it was disclosed today.

Charlene Marie Klingler of 1170 Adrian Way was booked by the California Highway Patrol on a charge of being drunk in and about an automobile after the car she was reportedly driving crashed into a parked car and ripped out two fences on Vendola Drive in Santa Venetia about 10:20 p.m. Wednesday.

Her passenger, Joe Riboli of 20 Sais Avenue, San Anselmo, was treated at San Rafael General Hospital for head cuts.

Miss Klingler refused treatment at the scene, according to the CHP.

Miss Klingler was booked at the jail at 12:04 a.m. yesterday. She was released on bail at 2:30 a.m.

She was treated at 12:40 p.m. yesterday at Marin General Hospital for multiple contusions and a broken right knee, according to a hospital spokesman.

Miss Klingler was to appear in Marin Municipal Court this afternoon to answer on the charges arising when he auto hit a car belonging to Marion O. Hulbert, parked in front of his home at 64 Vendola Drive, then tore through 15 feet of wire fence in the Hulbert yard and 20 feet of picket fence next door at the home of Wesley Olson of 63 Vendola Drive.

19 on grounds of insufficient evidence.

Although no one else would make any further official comments on what the grand jury was "investigating," this much appears to be fact:

Corson denied being on the roof and said he had been framed. He took two lie detector tests and passed. Dooley and Sturges also took lie tests. Sergeant Perry, who said he does not believe in the validity of lie tests, did not take a test.

There was never any question about police officers taking bribes or being involved in the burglary attempt in any way. The only question was, whether the police officers should have obtained more solid evidence before arresting Corson. In other words, were the police officers or officer over-zealous in the attempt to place Corson at the scene of the burglary attempt?

None of the police officers knew Corson previously.

Yesterday, Sheriff Louis P. Mountanous and Capt. Sidney picked up bodily and removed from the front of the gate five or six times. She said she kept returning to sit down in front of the gate "because I was fighting for an ideal."

"Didn't the sheriff say you had all the right in the world to protest just so you did not block traffic?" asked prosecutor Bruce B. Bales.

"Yes," the girl replied.

S. Stinson testified that all they asked of the demonstrators was not to block traffic in and out of the gate.

Lyle Grosjean, a bearded theological student from Albany, told the jurors he saw boys and girls dragged to the side. In two instances, he saw officers "kick" two demonstrators.

Teacher Rehired

Mrs. Julia Silva, who has been the teacher at the Laguna School for the past six years, was rehired for her seventh year last night by the Laguna Joint School District board, according to Mrs. Agnes Terribilini, president.

Two White Prisoners Attacked By Negroes

An attack on two white inmates at San Quentin Prison yesterday by five Negro prisoners left one of the white convicts in a coma today in the prison hospital.

The Negroes, four of them admitted Black Muslims, pounded the head of Robert Bearden, 25, against the concrete floor of the isolation unit. Bearden, who is serving five years to life for armed robbery in Orange County, was reported "still in a coma and in serious condition" today by Walter D. Achuff, associate warden.

The attack occurred around 9:35 a.m. when the men were released from their cells for an hour's exercise.

"All the five Negroes have been involved in racial incidents," said Achuff. "The men they attacked weren't well known to them; they just happened to be there."

One of the Negroes, James Smith, 23, who prefers to be known as "James X" in the manner of the Black Muslims, took part in a February riot at the prison in which a Negro prisoner, Booker T. Johnson, was shot and killed by a guard. Smith threw himself over Johnson's body and refused to move until a Negro guard coaxed him away.

The second white inmate in yesterday's attack, Russell Dillard, 25, escaped with bumps and bruises. He is also serving five years to life for a Los Angeles robbery.

Acuff said the Negroes will appear before the prison disciplinary board Tuesday. The extent of the charges, he said, will depend upon Bearden's condition.

The other Negroes are: Ulysses McDaniel, 25, serving six months to five years for a Los Angeles car theft, the only member of the group not an admitted Muslim; Robert Harris, 25, a bad check artist from San Joaquin county, serving six months to 14 years.

Carlos Martinez, 41, convicted three times, now serving five years to life for a Los Angeles robbery, and Vernon Rushing, 25, also serving five years to life for a Los Angeles robbery.

ported they found the scheduled bus operation was losing $4,000 per month.

Peterson said Marin Transit will remain in the charter bus business, which he said "has been very good, but we've been missing out on charters because we had busses tied up on the transit routes."

It is bidding to provide bus service in three school districts, he said. It already operates service to Redwood High School under a charter scheme arranged by parents.

Nineteen parking meters pulled off San Rafael's Fourth Street and Lincoln Avenue to provide bus loading zones presumably will be replaced.

Peterson expressed regret over giving up the bus service, but said it could not be carried on without some form of subsidy. Merchant subsidy was considered the best possibility, he said, because of alarm of downtown San Rafael merchants over the Northgate Shopping Center, now being built adjoining Freitas Parkway at the north end of the city.

Merchants, through the chamber of commerce, have been urging action by the city to provide more parking lots immediately, including a call for tearing down the city hall and putting city offices into temporary quarters so the city hall property could become a parking lot. Some merchants, however, objected to the buses on Fourth Street at the outset of the operation.

Discontinuing the bus service will have no effect on the Redwood Moving Storage Co., which is under the same ownership, Peterson said.

He left to supervise a staff of six in San Mateo.

The San Mateo County Heart Assn. reported his resignation there was requested because he lacked leadership qualifications. An audit taken after he left disclosed the shortage.

The San Mateo charges alleged Mack had withdrawn money from association bank accounts by forging the signature of Dr. Eldon E. Ellis, president of the association. Withdrawals there—as in the Marin Cancer Society chapter—require checks to be countersigned as well as bearing the director's signature.

Mack allegedly also took four U.S. Treasury interest coupons from the association's safe deposit box and cashed them for a total of $1,000, depositing only $500 to the association.

Mack held a master's degree in educational psychology from University of Pittsburgh. He had been a Junior Red Cross director in Salt Lake City and a case worker for the San Leandro Welfare Council before coming to Marin.

On his arrest it was disclosed also that he twice spent time in Atascadero State Hospital, being confined for a homosexual offense and returning voluntarily for further treatment after being once released.

OBITUARIES

John Raffler Dies At 62

John Raffler, 62, didn't pick up his morning paper yesterday. And he didn't sit all day on the bench outside Bill's Superette in Stinson Beach as was his regular custom.

"Everybody missed him," said store owner William Hoffman, who always gave Raffler his morning paper. "He was a man of regular habits."

About 7 p.m. a neighbor, Bernard W. McLaughlin, found Raffler dead in his bed. Deputy Coroner Harold J. Keaton today attributed death to natural causes.

Raffler, Hoffman said, was called "Silent John" by many and "Gentle John" by children because he was quiet and unassuming. He sat on the grocery store bench on Shoreline Highway and Calle Del Mar daily until the store closed. He rarely talked and never bothered anybody.

Raffler lived on Buena Vista Avenue in Hillside Cottage No. 6. He had been in Stinson Beach since 1945 when he retired from the Army as a master sergeant. He served 26 years in the Army.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Russell and Gooch Mortuary in Mill Valley.

FLOYD FISHER

Funeral services for Floyd G. Fisher, 57, of 33 Park Way, San Anselmo, will be held Monday at 9:45 a.m. at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael.

Fisher, a resident of Marin County for two years, was killed Wednesday when a car, driven by Vincent O'Neil of Pacifica jumped the divider strip on Highway 101 just north of the Waldo Tunnel and landed on top of Fisher's car in the northbound lane.

Fisher, a native of New York State, lived in San Francisco before coming to Marin. He was a dairy engineer with Marin Dell Milk Co. of San Francisco. He was a veteran of the Army in World War II.

He is survived by his wife, Charlotte, and a son, Philip Fisher of San Francisco.

Burial will be in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

TORA BLAKNEY

Funeral services for Mrs. Tora B. Blakney, 27, who died at her home at 237 Cobblestone Drive, Marinwood, Wednesday, will be held at 11 a.m. tomorrow at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael.

Mrs. Blakney, a resident of California for eight years and of Marin County for seven years, was a native of Chicago.

The process for making Morocco leather was invented by the Moors of North Africa.

Her husband, John H. Blakney Jr., is a sales representative with the California Chemical Co.

Other survivors include three daughters, Linda A., Nancy D. and Susan A. Blakney; a son, John H. Blakney III; her parents, Kurt and Sabine Becker of Chicago, and a brother, Otto Becker of Chicago.

CHARLES BROWN

SHOSHONE (AP) — Charles Brown, a Democratic state senator for 24 years, died yesterday at his home in the tiny desert town of Shoshone. He was 77.

An old-time Western lawman who turned lawmaker — and remained undefeated as senator from Alpine, Inyo and Mono counties from 1938 to last November.

He was long a familiar sight in the state capital — a tall, erect, stern-featured man who always wore a Western-style cowboy hat. He was a prominent member of the Senate rules committee and was well-known in mining circles.

The Inyo County coroner's office said Brown died of an apparent heart attack. His body was being taken to a mortuary in Bishop.

POPE GETS PEACE PRIZE IN VATICAN CEREMONIES

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope John XXIII today received the $160,000 Balzan Peace Prize, the first head of the Roman Catholic Church to get such an award.

The stirring ceremony in the vatican and St. Peter's Basilica was marked by the presence of the many high government officials ever to attend such an official Vatican function.

Former Italian President Giovanni Gronchi presented the prize to the Pope. The money will go to relief organizations for World War II refugees.

The 81-year-old Pope was obviously pleased at receiving the award, and showed no outward sign of any return of the ailments which plagued him earlier this year.

Concern for the leader of the world's half billion Roman Catholics heightened abruptly this week when the Pope canceled an expected trip to the Abbey of Montecassino, reportedly on Doctors' orders. There has been no official statement to indicate that the Pontiff is not feeling normal.

The Balzan Foundation which awards the prize is a Nobel-type body established two years ago in memory of the late Eugenio Balzan, an Italian newsman, who chose self-exile in Switzerland rather than live under the former Fascist regime in Italy. The foundation is financed with money willed by his late daughter, Angela.

Hoffa Facing New Charges Of Attempted Juror Bribes

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Teamsters President James R. Hoffa today faced new charges —attempting to bribe jurors in his deadlocked federal court conspiracy trial here last year.

A five-count indictment returned by a special federal grand jury accused the labor leader with "aiding, commanding and inducing" efforts to influence two jurors and a prospective juror to vote for his acquittal.

In Philadelphia, Hoffa said he was not guilty and declined comment because he had not seen the indictment. He appeared before a U.S. commissioner and posted a $10,000 bond for a hearing next Monday.

Six other persons, most of them close friends or associates of Hoffa, also were indicted, and Justice Department attorneys indicated still more indictments might be forthcoming.

The grand jury charged the defendants offered $10,000 to a prospective juror, a similar amount to the son of a juror and a "promotion" to a Tennessee highway patrolman whose wife was on the jury. The two jurors were replaced before the case went to the jury.

Hoffa, 50, who heads the nation's largest single union, was tried on charges he conspired to violate the Taft-Hartley Act by accepting funds illegally from a Detroit transport firm in return for labor peace.

The trial, which began Oct. 22, ended Dec. 23, when U.S. Dist. Judge William E. Miller declared a mistrial, the jury having reported it was hopelessly deadlocked, 7 to 5, for acquittal.

Demo, GOP Units Cut For Blood

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — The Pima County Democratic Committee challenged the county's Republicans to a blood letting contest.

But it was for a good cause.

Both political groups gave blood for the Tucson Chapter of the American Red Cross in a campaign with the theme "Pints for Politics."

The Red Cross said use of the blood would be entirely nonpartisan.

$100-Million Brown School Plan

SACRAMENTO (AP)—California public schools may get a 100-million dollar lift in state aid next year under Brown administration plans disclosed today.

The proposed 1963—64 state budget already carries 800 million dollars to help pay classroom costs. That's an increase of nearly 50 million dollars just to take care of normal growth.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown originally recommended boosting the amount by 30 million dollars tied to a countywide school tax.

Finance Director Hale Champion said the governor probably will seek still another 20 million dollars as a result of an upturn in tax revenues and prospects for a jump in tideland oil income.

If the legislature agrees, the total still would be about half of the extra funds which school people figure they should get to meet their minimum needs.

However, some legislative leaders have said the administration will be lucky to get even the 30 - million - dollar boost.

Champion told the Senate Finance Committee yesterday that new revenue projections indicate the flow of cash into the hard-pressed state treasury will exceed earlier estimates by 30.5 dollars.

It was on this basis that Brown said Wednesday he would ask for an increase in school aid. He suggested 20 million dollars would now be available but made no formal recommendation.

The extra 20 million dollars would be designed primarily to tide over those districts adversely affected by the proposed countywide tax equalization system.

Meanwhile, the governor, who has had a rocky time with his heavy 1963 legislative program, won and lost on two phases of his plan for reorganizing the the state government.

An Assembly committee decided on a between-session study of Brown's request for broad power to overhaul state agencies by executive order.

The same Government Organization Committee approved legislation to create a career executive category in state civil service.

The bill, by Assemblyman John T. Knox (D-Richmond) would authorize the State Personnel Board to designate high-ranking positions for inclusion in or withdrawal from this category.

During the committee hearing, the question arose as to whether they would be abused by an administration and open the way to a return of the spoils system.

"It is very unlikely that an administration could play politics with this law," John E. Fisher, executive officer of the personnel board, said.

Ross 'Being Taken' On Garbage Rates

Ross "is being taken" on its garbage rates, Town Clerk Mrs. John G. Lewis told the town council last night.

Mrs. Lewis cited a report she prepared, comparing garbage rates in Ross to those in Larkspur.

"In some instances we are paying double," she said. "Evidently, the rates are higher in Ross than anywhere else."

Councilman Roy Farrington Jones said one residence in Ross was being billed by Marin Sanitary Service for rates on a home at 1,000 feet elevation when the topographical map showed the property to be only 400 feet elevation.

The council decided to write a letter to the sanitary service asking it to enter into negotiations for granting of a franchise.

The council refused to grant a subdivider of property at 31 Lagunitas Road sold by Mr. and Mrs. Daniel T. Radtke to Dr. John W. Severinghaus before a subdivision request was made to the council.

Mayor Harry C. Scott said the transaction was a "fait accompli" and, "I don't see the slightest reason for granting it now."

The Ross Town Council also:

1. Granted a variance to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Hamilton of 10 Woodside Way for an addition of a studio bedroom and bath.

2. Decided that gasoline tax monies for the next fiscal year would go toward maintenance of streets and no specific project.

3. Adopted ordinances providing for town employees to be under the state employees retirement system, setting up county requirements for septic tanks, and requiring public hearings on informal subdivisions.

4. Approved a form for application for informal subdivisions with a $15 fee.

Teachers' Conference Is Opening

A conference, designed to help elementary school teachers make better use of parents and community business and industry in educating pupils, will open at 7:30 p.m. today at Vallecito School, 50 Nova Albion Way, San Rafael.

Sponsored by the Dixie School District with cooperation from the county schools office, the two-day conference is expected to attract some 500 Marin teachers.

First speaker will be John Goodlad, professor of education and director of the University Elementary School at University of California at Los Angeles. His talk will start at 8:30 tonight.

Tomorrow's program opens at 9 a.m. There will be talks and panel discussions through the day.

Birth Control Proposal 'Killed Out Of Fear'

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Sen. Alvin C. Weingand (D-Santa Barbara), said today his birth control resolution was killed "out of fear rather than conviction."

"I don't think I could have made my case more convincing. The issue wasn't decided on the basis of reason," said the 58-year-old Lutheran hotelman.

The Senate's public health and safety committee yesterday rejected the proposal to put the state in the birth control field after a two-and-one-half hour hearing, the first public debate ever held before the California Legislature on the subject.

The committee, composed of seven members, including one Catholic, also defeated a motion by Sen. John W. Holmdahl (D-Oakland), to give the resolution a between-sessions study.

Publisher, Birch Aide Clash In Heated Debate

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Newspaper publisher Leonard Finder engaged in a heated debate yesterday with a coordinator of the John Birch Society.

Finder, editor and publisher of the Sacramento Union, gave this characterization of the group:

"It proposed, in effect, that if our house is threatened with fire from the left, we should prevent that particular fire from consuming the house by building a fire from the right which will destroy it first."

Tom Manion, Northern California coordinator for the society, argued before a Young Republican group at Sacramento State College that the group's true purpose was to "combat the evil forces that threaten our country" and stop "deepening collectivism."

Finder described Manion as "a professional agitator" and a "paid propogandist" for the Birch Society.

"The John Birch Society has developed a series of techniques which seem closely modeled after those used by the Nazis in Germany and the Communists in various lands," said Finder.

Manion, a former candidate for the State Assembly and a Democrat said "the long range objective of the society is less government, more individual responsibility and a better world."

He claimed that the Communists had "beguiled a lot of very good Americans" into attacking the society. He called them "witch hunters of the lunatic left."

Assessed Value Of State's Utility Firms Is $4 Billion

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The assessed value of California's 11 largest utility companies has risen to a record four billion dollars, despite a decline in the assessment ratio.

The Board of Equalization announced yesterday that the new valuation is 3.2 per cent higher than last year.

However, the board since 1960 has been gradually cutting its utility assessment ratio in line with a 1959 law ordering a levelling off of assessment practices for utilities and other property.

The 11 firms own about 95 per cent of all utility property in the state.

The valuations with last year's figure :

Pacific Telephone Co., 1.257 billion dollars, 1.206 billion dollars; Pacific Gas and Electric Co., 1.186 billion dollars, 1.155 billion dollars; Southern California Edison Co., 647 million dollars, 618 million dollars; Pacific Lighting Corp., 320 million dollars, 317 million dollars; General Telephone Co., 222 million dollars, 210 million dollars; Southern Pacific Co., 165 million dollars, 164 million dollars; San Diego Gas and Electric Co., 132 million dollars, 129 million dollars; California Electric Power Co., 65.5 million dollars, 64.5 million dollars; Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway, 60 million dollars, 63.8 million dollars; Western Pacific Railroad Co., 21.5 million dollars, 22 million dollars; Union Pacific Railroad, $18,250,000, $18,250,510.

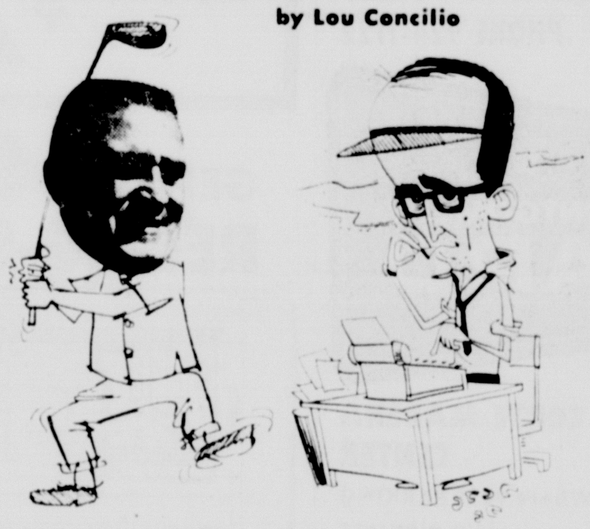
It seems to me . . .

by Lou Concilio



The Return of the Prodigal

The first question before the house is painfully obvious: Has he been away, and who is this nut anyway?

In the face of monumental indifference I am returning to the old stand to opinionate like a man with his head in an empty barrel. The sounds are there, and man is never alone, even though his companion be only an echo.

It is difficult to stiffle an ego grown fat from prosperity and every-widening recognition. It is more difficult when the tab is picked up by a boss like Doug Cowan who is ready to do battle with outside competition, but permissively resigns to the piquancy of a pig-headed subordinate. My dad tried force, but retreated, too, with stinging hands.

In my defense, I must say it is not entirely ego that brings me back to these journalistic (?) efforts. To my ever-lasting gratification, literally hundreds of friends and acquaintances expressed regret that I had decided to devote full time to the pursuit of the elusive automobile customer, and leave writing to those who get paid for their efforts. Some even came to me months after the appearance of my last column to tell me they had enjoyed reading them. It was much like being told we had been seen on television when our exposure was actually limited to newspapers and radio.

A rather large problem looms, however. Subject matter must be diversified enough to sustain continued interest, and expounding on topics relative only to the automobile business would soon become repetitious. Witness the ridiculous variations of the same theme my brother dealers belch forth in their zeal to entice and deceive the unwary buyer.

No, if I'm to pursue this bent, to the horror of the thousands of subscribers who couldn't care less, and the editor who probably entertains private thoughts of even our admittedly commercial offerings, I may at times embrace a topic not so innocuous as to provoke some criticism. I will not espouse causes, but I cannot comfortably wear horse-blinders while driving a T-Bird.

In the other extreme, the columnist whose chief tools of his trade are a pair of sharp scissors, a pot of paste, and an ability to count words and measure space, to fit his solicited and unsolicited offerings from a notoriety-loving public into an allotted space for tomorrow's column, will not be my Messiah.

To amuse, provoke mildly, reveal, instruct, and reminisce will be my basic purpose. Yours, good readers, will be to be receptive or uninterested, as may be your wont, but in no case vent your wrath against Ames Ford. They're only picking up the tab.

Appraisals 'Satisfactory' In Novato

Most Novato property owners seem satisfied with the new appraisals of their land, according to Asst. County Assessor Herschel Johnson.

After conducting "information bureau hearings" in Novato this week, Johnson reported "most owners who came in to ask questions about the basis for our increased property appraisals went away satisfied that the appraisals were done properly."

The information bureaus were operated Tuesday, Wednesday and yesterday at the Novato community house and last week as well. Owners of some 3,800 parcels were notified of the hearings this week, and a total 514 parcels were questioned. Last week 227 parcels were discussed, out of some 3,700.

"Of all those pieces which were discussed, about 25 per cent were submitted to us for revaluation," said Johnson. "During the next few weeks we will investigate them and determine whether a new appraisal should be set."

Johnson said the number of inquiries was "about usual" for reappraised property despite some increases in appraisals up to 500 per cent.

Property owners in Terra Linda and Marinwood received notices this week of new appraisals, and information bureaus will be held next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday from 1 to 9 p.m. in the Presbyterian Church education building in Terra. Linda.

The new appraisals involve a total of about 13,000 properties in one-fifth of the county, embracing Novato south to Santa Venetia.

Property owners in Santa Venetia, Rafael Meadows and Los Ranchitos will receive notices of reappraisals next Thursday, Johnson said.

Organization Unit Member Fires Off Blast At Hollis

A member of the Marin County Committee on School District Organization today leveled a blast at Dr. Virgil S. Hollis, county superintendent of schools, who has already received several blasts this week from departing members of his staff.

Mrs. Frank E. Short of Inverness, a member of the committee for six months, was incensed when she learned yesterday that Hollis attended last month's meeting of the State Board of Education in San Francisco and introduced Trustees Alyce L. Farkas and Supt. Edward Pinot of the Reed School District.

Mrs. Short said she did not learn of this until talking with a member of the state board yesterday. The member, whom she would not name, said the impression he had was that Hollis and the Reed representatives were trying to find out what reaction the state board would have to a Reed unification plan, a plan which has been voted down by an augmented committee which is now studying unification of the Tamalpais High School District as a whole.

Hollis said today he and Mrs. Adele J. Alpers of San Rafael, a member of the county board of education, went to the state board meeting to hear testimony on the proposed state bills, including the credentials and textbook bills.

"I did not know the Reed people would be there," Dr. Hollis said. "But naturally, I introduced them to the board."

Mrs. Short also criticized Hollis for not attending the school organization committee meeting even though he is secretary of the committee. His assistant, Edwin L. Blackmore, in charge of rural education, represents him.

Mrs. Short charged that the arrangement makes for a lack of communications.

"If the Marin County committee has accomplished little over the last few years, most of the blame can be laid at the doorstep of the county schools office," she said.

Dr. Hollis said he once did work directly with the committee, but had to give it up because of the press of time. Blackmore is able to devote most of his time to the committee work, and that is the way it should be, Hollis said.

Parents Request Teacher Be Rehired

Sausalito School District trustees were asked today to reverse their decision and rehire teacher Evelyn J. Schoenfeld, charging there has been "a deplorable breakdown in communication between teacher and administration."

The request came from the Council on Education of the Sausalito School District and was signed by acting chairman Hardy Westmore.

The organization was formed recently "to provide a vehicle for enlightenment and community action by the parents in the district" and has taken on as its first project an investigation of the dismissal of Miss Schoenfeld.

Miss Schoenfeld, teacher of mentally retarded children at Richardson Bay School, was given notice March 25 of her dismissal at the end of the school year, for "inability to control classes" and "failure to cooperate with principal and administration."

The council directed its letter to trustees and to Dr. Virgil S. Hollis, Marin County superintendent of schools.

It was sent to Hollis, said Westmore, because the Sausalito school board this week voted to transfer the special education program in Sausalito to county schools operation.

With the request for Miss Schoenfeld's reinstatement went a letter from 11 parents, all of whom have children in Miss Schoenfeld's class of 14.

"We think the school administrators have been unfair to her (Miss Schoenfeld) and we think they do not understand what she has been trying to do or how much good she has done," the letter reads.

"We appeared before you (trustees) at a meeting last month to plead with you to keep this teacher and we plead with you now," it continued. It said the children have progressed more this year in their school work than they have before and have attained better grades.

"Instead of feeling like 'dummies,' as they were called at school," the letter states, "they felt like they had done something really great." (This referred to a movie which the children had made under Miss Schoenfeld and teacher Donald Venturini, who was also dismissed at the same time as Miss Schoenfeld but subsequently submitted his resignation.)

The letter was signed by Mrs. Levoy Elder, Mrs. Ivory Jones, Mrs. Marie Casey, Mrs. Joseph O'Brien, James A. Smith, Annie B. Johnson, Lorraine White, Doretha Mitchell, William Lee, Irvin Johnson, and Ruby L. Clay.

Coleman E. Stewart, hearing officer of the office of administrative procedure, state department of finance, held a two-day hearing on Miss Schoenfeld's dismissal April 29 and 30 and said he hoped to make recommendations to the school board within 10 days. Today was the 10th day but no answer has yet been received, Supt. Marcus F. Davis said.

The council on education, Westmore said, invited Davis to speak at its meeting April 23 as well as Miss Schoenfeld. Davis did not respond and so evidence from the council's investigation on the "administration's side" had to be drawn from testimony at the hearing.

The council listed four charges made at the hearing against Miss Schoenfeld which it called "insubstantial."

"What emerged from the entire picture," the council said in its letter, "is that there has been a deplorable breakdown in communication between teacher and administration, that the fault could not be wholly assessed to either side, and that as a result of this breakdown, a good teacher in a highly specialized field in which there is not an overabundance of qualified teachers, was to be dismissed from a school where, if nothing else, she was greatly deloved of her pupils and their parents. . . .

"It is the recommendation of the council that the Sausalito school board reverse its decision not to rehire Miss Schoenfeld, and that a teaching position be offered her in our school district, preferably in a class where her special education training can be put to the best use."

Gets Probation For Contributing

Ping Shew Lee, 35-year-old store clerk from Novato, will be on three years' probation for contributing to the delinquency of a 13-year-old Sausalito girl last month.

"What do you think your honorable ancestors would say about your behavior?" Judge Leonard A. Thomas admonished Lee during yesterday's sentencing. The judge ordered Lee to stay away from girls under 18.

Sheriff's deputies found Lee and the girl parked on Novato Boulevard near Indian Valley Golf Course on the night of April 13. The girl at first gave her age as 19 but later admitted her correct age.

Of nearly 99 billion dollars that consumers spent in 1960 for food and clothing, about 35 per cent went to farmers and 65 per cent for marketing services.

Two Artists Named Winners In Hospital Murals Competition

Mrs. Jeanne Gerhardt Hurt of Mill Valley and Russell Chatham of Kentfield were named today as the winners of the competition to paint murals for the new William Babcock Memorial Wing at Marin General Hospital.

The competition, sponsored jointly by the hospital and the Marin Society of Artists, brought a total of 50 entries from 23 Marin artists.

Mrs. Hurt will win $600. She will paint two murals, one in the pediatric area and the other in the nursery. Chatham, who will receive $300, will paint a mural at the emergency entrance. The murals are expected to be finished in time for the dedication of the new wing, scheduled for 10 a.m., June 8.

Mrs. Hurt and her husband, Jack Hurt, operate the Gerhardt and Hurt Commercial Art Studio in Mill Valley. He will help her paint the murals. Chatham is a landscape artist.

Judges for the competition were William Gaw, Berkeley artist; Jose Moya del Pino, Ross artist; Robert Stanton of Carmel, hospital architect; Mrs. Roy M. Ibach of Mill Valley, secretary of the hospital board, and Mrs. Walter M. Boland of Stinson Beach, representing the hospital volunteers.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Better Make Reservations For Mother's Dinner Out

Restaurateurs love their mothers, like everyone else. They also love Mother's Day, for it is their busiest time of the year—this Sunday.

Many places prepare special menus sprinkled liberally with dishes mom generally doesn't cook at home. For it's logical to assume that as it is her special holiday she is going to select something different — not what she can prepare herself. If her choice is satisfying, she'll see to it that the men in her family take her out more often.

Of course, there will be the usual popular standbys like prime rib and steaks. These are principally for the men. Take my word for it — 50 per cent of all men (unless they're chefs) have no imagination when it comes to dining out. It's enough to drive a woman to Metrecal.

But Mother's Day IS a good day to break away from the home festive board, if for no other reason than as a ceremony of remembrance. Just be sure to make reservations in advance, if you can. You'll have plenty of company.

ON THE WEST MARIN COAST, the recognized seafood place is Tarantino's in Bolinas. For something special on Mother's Day it should be a good place for dinner - served complete here at $3.50 from hors d'oeuvres to dessert, or a la carte. But reservations are just as important this Sunday as elsewhere.

FRANCHINI'S RESTAURANTS will observe Sunday with their traditional gift of flowers to the ladies. This year they'll be orchids - both at the Chateau and West End Villa. Dinners will start at 1 p.m. at the Chateau; 3 p.m. at West End.

AT THIS POINT, no one but the weather man is going to predict rain or sun. If it's a sunny Sunday, Eugene's is bound to open up its patio again as it did last week, when for the first time this year Eugene Lackenbach was able to accommodate all morning visitors without making them wait for a table or turn them away.

EXPECTED TO OPEN tomorrow - possibly by tonight - is El Borro in Tiburon. This is the new version of El Burriquito Gordo taken over from Kirby Atterbury by Mesdames Dorothy Boat and Mary Alice (Sandy) Keppel, who have their own ideas on how a Mexican-Spanish restaurant should be operated. In fact, dishes may be more Spanish than Mexican, and there'll be a few that are plain American. In any event, they'll be translated on the menu.

An application for a beer and wine license still remains to be approved.

Look for a number of new decorations. Dinner will be from $3.50 down, with service from 5 to 11 p.m. Tuesdays through Fridays, and opening at noon for lunches on Saturdays and Sundays. Food to take out will be available; special mid-week parties for lunch of 20-25 can be accommodated by reservation.

"Keturah" who has such an unlikely surname that no one would think of using it, still does the cooking. Both Dorothy and Sandy have been associated with Kirby in the past, so they are familiar with the business. He has his hands full at his new Caprice d'elegance on Paradise Drive with seven course dinners by reservation.

DAYLIGHT SAVING does much for Deer Park Villa in Fairfax. As long as the weather is clear, any reasonably early dinner hour gives visitors more of a chance to look out appreciatively on the beautiful four-acre landscape kept trim by (papa) Joe Ghiringhelli. It's really too lovely to be left to obscurity by darkness.

The dining room is so Venetian in its decor since remodeling here, the only thing that might be more suitable for window gazing and atmosphere would be a canal alongside, with a gondolier singing a plaintive "Vieni sul Mar."

Still intensely Italian, Deer Park is one of the few remaining family strongholds of old-time cooking methods (in spite of its glittering new kitchen) where scallopini is served as an epicurean delight and for itself alone. Second and third generations of Italians in this country do not always have the old country touch unless trained from childhood.

SERVICE at the Hill Top in Novato continues uninterrupted, though now under the management of Mrs. Anna Cox, daughter of owner Albert Young. Don McLaughlin and Peggy DeMars have returned to giving their full time to Novato Inn.

Gus Persson of Mill Valley, known for years for his work in Southern Marin and an especially good cook, is the chef. Well worth a visit. No lunches here - just dinners - served from 4 to 10 p.m. Wednesdays and Thursdays and to 11 on Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Answers Asked On Dump In Larkspur

"I am still not satisfied with the city council's answer about county operation of the dump in Larkspur and I intend to pursue the matter," said Chairman Peter Krug of the Larkspur Park and Recreation Commission today.

The commission weeks ago asked for details of the dump agreement with the county. The council declined to investigate it.

Krug commented in reporting the action of a commission meeting Wednesday night. He said Councilman Lesly A. Daveler attended but was unable to answer certain questions about the dump set-up.

The commission last March 13 inquired whether a reported profit from the dump should go to the city instead of the county.

A March 6 Independent-Journal story quoted County Public Works Director Donald R. Frost as saying the county would "net over $5,000 from the dump operation next year with an additional man and purchase of a tractor."

The council decided April 3 it was happy to be getting county fill over debris on the dump on Doherty Drive, planned as a park site, and would not ask City Mgr. Ronald E. Piper to investigate the contract.

Krug said today he still would like to know the terms of the contract. He said Daveler did not seem to know but believed perhaps it was verbal. Krug said:

"I would still like to know whether the county is getting a profit that perhaps we should enjoy. Also I wonder whether Larkspur residents before long will have to go 30 miles to dump their debris. The dump is filling up a lot faster than I expected."

Krug reported Daveler gave the commission little hope regarding money it will receive for park planning despite a 6-cent increase in the commission tax—raising it to 10 cents—in the fiscal 1963-64 city budget.

The commission has asked the city for $3,000 for planning and developing the park, this to include $1,500 allotted last year and then withheld pending development of a city general plan.

Krug said he was unhappy to hear from Daveler that only $400,000 in revenue is expected in the next fiscal year for the budget currently standing at $461,719. Piper has recommended the council cut $63,000, which would bring it under $400,000.

The council will meet next Wednesday night on the budget.

Stinson-Bolinas School Unit President Resigns

Mrs. Blanche Eustis, president of the board of the Bolinas-Stinson Union School District, resigned Wednesday saying she and her husband are moving to Berkeley. Mrs. Eustis has been on the board five years.

Persons interested in being appointed to fill the vacancy may write to Arthur E. Carpenter, clerk, in care of the school district.

4th Annual Youth-O-Rama Is Slated For Mill Valley

The fourth annual Youth-O-Rama will be held June 14, 15 and 16 at Mill Valley's Project 17, it was announced yesterday at a meeting of the sponsoring Mill Valley Optimist Club.

For the first time there will be no horse show connected with the event, since horsemen who normally participate will be taking part in Novato's Western Weekend on the same dates.

Carnival time shows, according to club president Frank M. Gelardi, will provide a ferris wheel, merry-go-round, rides for children and 15-18 concession booths. Prizes will be given.

The Optimists will man the Angelo Sabella food booth.

Tickets will go on sale Wednesday at businesses throughout Mill Valley. Money raised from the event will be used to build a grandstand at the Optimist Club ball park on Project 17.

Also announced at the meeting is the fact the club will contribute $50 each to Scouts Dennis Quinn and Paul Goldsmith of Mill Valley to attend Camp Philmont in Arizona for two weeks this summer. Both boys are from Scout Troop 34, sponsored by the club.

Mariner Cove Plans

Decision to push plans for picturesque gas lighting at Paradise Drive and Prince Royal Passage, Corte Madera, as well as extension of planter box decoration was made Wednesday at a meeting of new directors and officers of the Mariner Cove Improvement Assn.

TAM HIGH VOTING IS NOW VOLUNTARY

Tamalpais High School students who in the past have been "forced" to vote during class time will be able to decide voluntarily whether or not they want to vote with a new policy effective today.

In the past, according to student Shelley Smith, students have voted in their classrooms with all students voting. The student body executive board has decided to change this custom, since "some students lack any interest in the elections and the previous mandatory method was confused and childish."

The new policy, which will actually be put into practice at student body elections May 17, will permit students to cast ballots immediately after the campaign rally in their own precincts.

Another new policy will be creation of a workshop for all candidates for student body offices. The incumbent student body officers will meet with candidates and help give them ideas of the things they will be responsible for.

There will be no change in the releasing of the number of votes which each candidate receives in an election, according to Principal Robert H. Prather.

Marin Due $63,544 In Highway Taxes

Marin County has been apportioned $63,544.22 as its share of state highway users taxes distributed during April, State Controller Alan Cranston reported today.

The total tax, $31,019,135, was distributed with $20,251,418 going to the state highway fund, $7,765,784 to counties and $3,001,933 to the cities.

Bolinas Group Names Woman

The Bolinas Public Utility District has its first woman director.

Mrs. Alice Cassidy was appointed to the board Friday to fill the vacancy created by Donald Ingermann who had resigned because of business reasons. Her term runs to May, 1964.

Mrs. Cassidy and her husband, Francis, have been property owners in Bolinas since 1954. She was formerly in the real estate business.

Library Trustees To Discuss Site

Mill Valley library trustees will hold a special meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday to discuss site acquisition for the proposed new library.

Prices may or may not be discussed, according to Dorothy W. Peavey, trustee, in relation to properties of Roy A. Ibach at Miller and Forrest avenues and that of Rose M. Bedeccarrax at 24 Laurelwood Avenue.

Last night the board changed its notice policy regarding overdue books. At present the library makes out multiple forms, sending one copy periodically to the book borrower who has not returned his book. The new policy will mean one post card will be sent to be followed by a certified letter. If the book is not then returned, Mrs. Peavey reported, police will be notified to collect it.

Persons interested in filling trustee positions July 1 are invited to notify the library or outgoing trustees Mrs. Peavey or Mrs. John P. Farnam, Mrs. Peavey said. Their terms are up June 30.

City Councilman Michael Wornum sat last night for the first time as council liaison to the board. He succeeds Councilman William E. Secor.

There will be dancing in the student cafeteria from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m. tomorrow. And the college spring concert will begin in Olney Hall at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow.

College officials say the rain will not stop the program. Outside events will be moved into buildings if it is still raining.

NOVATO SCHOOLS SALARY SCALE SET

A five-grade, 12-step pay scale for teacher salaries was adopted last night by the Novato Unified School District board at an adjourned meeting.

The new scale, which was recommended by the Novato Teachers Assn. at the Tuesday board meeting, was adopted by 4-0 vote, with Chairman Joseph Sereda absent.

The base starting pay of $4,740 remains the same. However, by adding one more grade and year to the scale, the top pay was increased from $9,150 to $9,288.

This pay scale was adopted for the coming school year with the proviso that if the district receives additional revenues that are now expected, teachers' salaries would be further increased, Supt. James G. Bunker said.

Action on the proposed scale was delayed Tuesday night pending a study to see if any teacher's salary would be lowered.

"Not one teacher would take a cut in pay," Bunker stated after a comparison of present and proposed scales.

The board also discussed requested salary increases for non-teaching personnel. It postponed action on this until the expected income of the district is more definitely known.

The board granted tenure to 20 teachers and renewed all the contracts of present teachers.

Audubon Canyon Ranch Gets $3,000 Garden Clubs Award

Audubon Canyon Ranch at Bolinas has been awarded the Garden Clubs of America's Founders' Award of $3,000, it was announced today by William S. Picher, president of Marin Audubon Society.

Actual presentation was made today at the clubs' annual convention in Philadelphia.

The money will be used for planting and landscaping the northerly canyon at the ranch to be known as the Garden Clubs of America Canyon, Picher said.

He said the ranch was nominated for the award by the Woodside-Atherton, Piedmont and Hillsborough garden clubs and that Mrs. Peter Talbot of Woodside presented the Canyon Ranch program at the convention. Lawrence Halprin Associates created a three-panel collage illustrating the Audubon societies program for a wild life sanctuary and nature education center at the Bolinas ranch. Halprin resides in Kentfield.

Two-Alarm Blaze Lights Up Sky

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A two-alarm blaze today lit the San Francisco skyline from the Marina District and drove occupants from the blazing building in their nightclothes.

Firemen said the fire began in the apartment of Hugh Bennett, 32, at 1535 Francisco St. Flames gutted Bennett's apartment and another at the rear of the building, damaged four other dwellings in the two-story building complex.

Firemen estimated damage at $20,000.

Police said Bennett awakened to find his bed in flames. He ran through the building rousing other occupants, and all escaped safely.

Bolinas Fire Group Meeting On Budget

Bolinas Fire Protection District commissioners will meet Monday to attempt to complete the district's preliminary 1963-64 budget, Chairman James Dougan said today.

With this meeting the commission will change its meeting night from th present second Thursday of the month to the second Monday. Reason is, Dougan said, that Thursday has been a conflicting date for several members who belong to military reserve units or have church activities on the second Thursday of the month.

Gallinas Village CSD Is Not Sure On Sanitary Petitions

Gallinas Village Community Services District directors are having a hard time deciding whether they have enough petitioners for annexation of the district's sewer facilities to the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary Dsitrict.

"Our estimates of the percentage of property represented on the petitions don't seem to agree," said secretary Alys Durenberger today. She said the board decided to ask the county counsel for help in determining whether homeowners representing 75 per cent of the assessed valuation in the district have signed petitions.

"We thought we had 75 per cent," said Mrs. Durenberger, "but Annie Reagan, secretary of the sanitary district, said the total is below that."

Mrs. Reagan has determined there is only a total of 72 per cent and has informed the district it should get signatures from about 30 more property owners to assure the required percentage. If the district obtains 75 per cent of assessed valuation on petitions, it will not have to hold an annexation election.

If the sewer facilities are annexed, the CSD board proposes to spend its budget for recreation in the district.

The occupations that absorbed 60 per cent of last year's college graduates were not in existence when the graduates were born.

Sanitary Maintenance Man Stays On 'Temporary Basis'

Maintenance man Max H. Graefe resumed work on a temporary basis for the Corte Madera Sanitary District today, one week after being fired by William A. Adam, who himself was fired as district manager Wednesday night.

The interim rehiring was made known in a statement Graefe gave the Independent-Journal:

"Mr. Ernest Mock, member of the board of directors of Sanitary District No. 2, informed me that by action of the board during the regular adjourned meeting of May 8, 1963, I was reinstated in my job with the district on a 'temporary basis' pending evaluation of the position and the review of other matters by the board. The reinstatement is effective Friday, May 10."

Adam was fired as secretary-manager, effective immediately, at the same closed meeting. Portia Fitzgerald was named secretary. She has been recording secretary.

Graefe, who has worked for the district since 1955, was told by Adam on April 8 that he was fired. He continued working until last Friday.

The district's board will meet again at 7:30 p.m. next Wednesday to take up regular business which was sidetracked in the row over Adam, and perhaps to consider a successor as district manager.

Novato's Fire Budget Might Be $369,251

The preliminary 1963-64 budget of $369,251 for the Novato Fire District was submitted to commissioners last night by Fire Chief George Cavallero.

This is $176,251 more than the $193,000 current budget. It includes approximately $160,000 in capital outlay items, Cavallero said.

These include a new fire truck, an alarm system, an aerial ladder, expansion of station 1, possible land acquisition for station 3, and radio and safety equipment, he said.

The commissioners set 8 p.m. Monday for a special meeting to go over the preliminary budget.

Clausen Fights For Seashore Land Funds

"Only added government cost and increased problems for landowners" would result from further delay in land acquisition for the new Point Reyes National Seashore, according to Rep. Donald H. Clausen (R.-Crescent City).

Clausen said he had followed this policy in successfully fighting to prevent another hold-up of federal funds to get the seashore project under way.

"I prevailed upon the Economy Task Force, and other members immediately agreed, that two million dollars for Point Reyes National Seashore land purchases not be a target for budget-cutting efforts," said Clausen in pointing out that the seashore was assumed as a federal responsibility last year.

Similarly he kept five million dollars in the supplemental bill despite efforts to restrict federal appropriations not only for Point Reyes but for a number of other points including the Napa River, Noyo Harbor, Crescent City Harbor and Humboldt Bay. Even so, this measure was cut 200 million dollars, or 13 per cent.

Youth Is Injured As Sports Car Rolls

Paul Milner, 18, of the Starlite Motel, 3951 Redwood Highway, San Rafael, suffered back and right arm injuries when his foreign compact car rolled over on Highway 101 in Corte Madera at 12:35 p.m. Wednesday.

Milner was northbound when the car began to "fishtail." It flipped over when he applied the brakes, he told the California Highway Patrol. He was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Auto Salesman Has Job Hazard

MIAMI (AP) — A prospective auto buyer wanted to trade in his motorcycle.

Salesman Hal Nebel figured: "I'd better drive this thing around the block to see how it runs."

Nebel was in an accident half-way around the block and injured both legs. "I should have just kicked the tires," he said later.

California Teachers Assn. Starts It's Second Century

Just 100 years ago yesterday fewer than 100 men met in San Francisco to form what has become the largest state education association in the nation, the California Teachers Association.

CTA evolved from a group called together by John Swett, the state's fourth superintendent of public instruction. They established a professional journal, The California Teacher, which began publication on July 1, 1863, to its 330 subscribers.

Today, CTA has nearly 130,000 members, representing nearly 80 per cent of the state's full time 160,000 teachers and educators. From one tiny unit, it has grown to six sectional headquarters and an imposing state headquarters in Burlingame.

But CTA's accomplishments are not in numbers and buildings alone. From the first, the organization has been dedicated to improvement both of the state's educational system and the role of the teacher. It has had a hand in such things as freeing school districts from subordination to any agency except the state constitution four year terms for county superintendents, and banning use of tax money for sectarian religious purposes.

It was instrumental in obtaining apportionment of state funds for schools, longer school years, free textbooks, free rural transportation, compulsory school attendance, larger libraries, union school districts, kindergarten, junior colleges, vocational education and many other things, including better pay for teachers.

Today it is governed by a 429-member State Council of Education, membership of which is elected from the six CTA sections. There are nearly a dozen standing committees, which carry on its work, and a staff of full time employees.

We do not always agree with the CTA or with some of its poliicies. For example, we violently oppose its present policy of sanctions against school districts which it feels are not operating properly.

But our criticism is, and always has been offered constructively and with a profound respect for the organization and the people who make up the CTA.

We congratulate them on their first century and wish them even greater success in the next.

Parking Meters Will Refund Too?

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I was pleased to read in tonight's (May 7) paper that a device will be tested in San Rafael to beat the "meter cheaters" by locking the meter after a nickel has been deposited so that it won't accept more coins until the car has pulled out.

I assume that, in all fairness to us meter users, another device will be installed soon that, when we leave, refunds us any unused portion of the rent we have paid for the space.

Real Issue In Minister's Stand

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

In all the verbal commotion that the Rev. Karel Botermans' idealistic stand has aroused, nowhere have I seen mention of the aspect of his action that is most disturbing. Perhaps it is considered self-evident, but even your editorialist dwelt only on the argument his views presented. Whether or not we are in accord with Dr. Botermans' opinions is not the point I feel should be stressed.

The fact that should concern us is that the individual has seen fit, for "moral" reasons, to flout the law and thereby defy the government. Such a moral posture should be more carefully examined.

No matter how noble his purpose may appear, his method cannot be condoned by thinking people. Our Constitution provides legal means to show our displeasure with the policies of government, and legal ways to change them, if this be the will of the majority. To resort to rebellion, regardless of the personal courage it takes, is a reprehensible answer.

Suppose that each of us claimed the right to express his disapproval of the policies of federal, state, or even county administration, by refusing to pay his taxes. Imagine the anarchic result!

Undoubtedly, Dr. Botermans has given much consideration to how his action would affect himself and his family, and has accepted the inevitable results. But, as a supposedly responsible citizen of this country, how much consideration has he given to his obligation to the rest of us; we who are bound by a more prosaic conscience to support this government of which we are a part?

Easing English Rules Is Mistake

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I am writing to you with reference tto your news article appearing in the I-J of 5/3/63 captioned, "College English Rules Are Eased." I think that Dr. Stephen Epler, College of Marin president, pulled a classic boner when he said that students struggle with English during four years of high school and then upon entering college "have more of this thrust upon them. It's too frustrating."

Well, isn't this too bad!

What is our educational system coming to? Are the colleges ever going to set and maintain high standards of scholastic achievement or yield to the course of least resistance?

I can well remember the F that I received in the first half of the fall semestere in my Freshman year. For a few days after receiving the F, I thought that the whole world had fallen on me. Instead, after a few days of deep meditation, I accepted the unfavorable grade as a challenge and wound up the semester with a B grade.

Dr. Epler further states that not demanding an English or communications course in the first semester will give the students a chance to "taste success" in other courses and encourage him to go on.

Go on to what, without an intelligent line of communication? What kind of fuzzy thinking is this?

I wonder if Dr. Epler realizes that the rapid growth of private schools in Marin County is due primarily to lack of proper teaching of the fundamentals in the public schools.

I have great faith in the ability of young people in reaching great intellectual heights, but they need challenges, mental discipline, and above all, a sense of creativity.

Life is made up of many failures before the successes arrive. Let's maintain high standards in all of our educational institutions, particularly, at the College of Marin. I'm really surprised that the college board were taken in by Dr. Epler's recommendatioins.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

MILE-A-MINUTE BIRDS

Do you realize that ducks can fly a mile a minute? In fact, the ring-necked duck can wing its way through the air at 66 miles an hour.

These speeds have been accurately measured by a radar device, similar to the traffic speed-trap unit used by highway patrols.

Captured birds of many types are released in front of the unit and their speeds are checked as they fly a predetermined course towards a wooded area near a field research station in Long Island, N.Y.

Studies are being conducted to determine the velocity of birds in flight in relation to the different shapes and activities of their wings.

Humans have much to learn from the astonishing power that God has put in even the smallest insects and birds. But with his noble faculties of intellect and will, man remains, under God, master of all creation.

It is both his privilege and responsibility to uncover and put to constructive use the energy and creativeness hidden in both mankind and nature.

"All you birds of the air, bless the Lord; praise and exalt Him above all forever."

(Daniel 3:80)

May I always see the reflection of Your love and power, O Lord, in every creature.

THE LIGHTER SIDE

Blistered Heels, Stiff Joints, Sore Muscles Are One's Reward

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Hard on the heels of the American expedition to Mt. Everest comes news of another expedition that also was hard on the heels.

An intrepid group, of which this correspondent was a member, has just returned from the summit of Old Rag Mountain, Virginia.

That craggy, forbidding pinnacle, known as "The Roof of Madison County," had previously been conquered only by approximately 325,275 Americans, give or take a Brownie troop and the Young Republicans Club.

Setting forth from Washington, which is the capital of the United States, we crossed the wide Potomac, a river, and drove through a region of thick, virgin suburbs.

To our delight, the roads were passable. We had been warned that they might be clogged with native vehicles.

EVENTUALLY WE came to the foothills of the Blue Ridge chain and established a base camp where we took on extra supplies of ginger ale and cheese crackers.

By unanimous agreement, the post of group leader was assigned to Myron Glaser, a travel writer who was instrumental in organizing the expedition.

Glaser was chosen mainly because he has a pair of shoes with leader laces. Nothing inspires confidence like leather shoelaces.

Having assured ourselves that everything was in order, we began our ascent, our eyes fixed on the distant summit.

After running into a couple of trees, we took our eyes off the summit and began to watch where we were going.

Among mountain climbers, there is a closeness and camaraderie that sort of brings a lump to your throat, particularly when you have been eating cheese crackers.

It would be a pity if the fraternal spirit that bound our group and made it possible for us to achieve our goal were shattered by rival claims over who beat whom to the summit.

IT REALLY DOESN'T matter which of us was approximately the 325,276th American to conquer Old Rag. The honor belongs equally to all of us.

Someone had to be content with being approximately the 325,277th, the 325,278th, etc. There wasn't room up there for everybody at the same time. Besides that, crowds make me nervous.

Rather than bicker over individual credit, I propose to end my account of the expedition on a philosophic note.

Why would a man of sedentary habits lame himself with blistered heels, stiff joints and sore muscles climbing a mountain?

My wife asked me that question and I responded with the traditional reply:

"Because," I said, "I'm stupid."

THE CYNIC'S CORNER By Interlandi

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Frank Meyer, president of the Marin Coast Chamber of Commerce, told county supervisors that a proposed road from the south end of Taylor State Park past the new Big Carson dam and over the mountains to the Shoreline Highway six miles south of Olema would cut 10 and one-half miles from the present 14 and one-half-mile Bolinas to San Geronimo route.

20 YEARS AGO

Frank J. Kelly was elected San Rafael police chief by vote of 1,797 to 1,246. Kelly led in 20 out of 26 precincts.

First tanker to be constructed at Marinship yards was launched with contract calling for 35 more.

Marin County was told to produce 10 per cent more butter, a total of 700,000 pounds, during 1943 if the set quota were to be reached.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By AL BOCK

If We Could Only Communicate Things Would Go Along Smoother

It's not an easy thing to decide just what we're all talking about sometimes, and this difficulty no doubt causes considerable public uneasiness.

By now, some political science student must have worked up a thesis on the amount of time spent at public meetings simply trying to straighten out everybody's language long enough to get down to business.

Edmund Wilson has suggested that the language barrier between us and the Russians is no idle joke. It's no joke among ourselves.

MEMBERS OF the Marin County Board of Supervisors and most other people in charge of our local affairs speak English in some form or another. Thus a basic language obstacle has at least been overcome and we are off to a halting start.

But a good deal of time and energy is spent running frantically about the Civic Center trying to figure what somebody "really" said, and beyond that, possibly what they meant to say.

Some supervisors frequently have second thoughts about a motion they may have voted on. There is no end of trouble in getting the discussion, or as those in the political know like to say nowadays, "the dialogue," back to the point of negotiations.

THIS EFFORT to establish smooth conversation is sometimes helped along by someone, like the county administrator, who decides to clarify the board's thoughts by explaining to the clerk a day or so later exactly what the motion was.

Thus properly informed of its views, the board moves cheerfully along to the next semantic exercise, only to be brought up short by one of its members who grumbles that he and his fellows must not be speaking the same language.

By this time, nobody is much interested in what the motion was anyway and the dissenter concludes the most easily understood thing to do is to change his vote.

A SEARCH for the right words, along those lines, took place this week in Marin's blue and gold Palace of Artful Dodging. It was only one of many such struggles toward clear communication.

Hours, in fact whole afternoons, drift by at Planning Commission meetings while commissioners try to come to terms among themselves on such shifty concepts as "property rights" and the possible aesthetics, if any, of a new rest home. Members of the planning staff stand by as interpreters, or, now and again, it's the other way around.

Members of the County Board of Education have to be alert if they expect to find any significance in what their school administrators tell them, let alone what they don't tell them.

AND IF HIS FIRST newsletter is an indication, our man in Washington, Don Clausen, is apparently having a tough time understanding economics. Like many other congressmen, a language other than that of a "balanced budget" is hard for him to grasp.

Of course, once everyone understands each other, we may all be even less convinced.

THE ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

Missing $7.5 Million In Bonds Were Stolen

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—Those $7.5 million in negotiable U.S. bonds that vanished from the Federal Reserve Bank in San Francisco were stolen and not "accidentally burned" as claimed by bank officials.

That is the belief of the special House Banking Subcommittee investigating this still-unsolved mystery.

The probers will not formally pronounce this judgment in their preliminary report later this month. All they will say is, "There is not enough evidence now to know what happened to the bonds . . . They were either stolen or burned."

But privately the House investigators are leaving no doubt they are convinced the securities were pilfered.

THE SENATE Interal Security Committee, which also is digging into this affair, is checking information that some of these bonds are in an American-owned "numbered" account in a Swiss bank. Reputedly they were deposited around the time of the Cuban missile crisis last fall.

While the three House probers, headed by Representative Henry Reuss (D-Wis.) will withhold their verdict on what happened to the seven $1 million and five $100,000 bonds, they will blister both Treasury and Federal Reserve officials for the lackadaisical and inept handling of the search for the securities.

THE FEDERAL Reserve Board will be castigated for (1) secreting the loss of the bonds for more than six months, and (2) failing to notify other banks to be on watch for them.

San Francisco Reserve Bank officials will be blasted for the astonishing lack of security that prevailed there in the handling of bonds running into the hundreds of millions.

A retired custodian of the bond vault told the investigators he could have walked out with half its contents. No one would have stopped or questioned him.

Eliot J. Swan, president of the San Francisco Federal Reserve Bank, placed the disappearance of the $7.5 million in negotiable bonds as between May 29 and August 8 —the dates when they were deposited and then asked for by another Reserve bank.

But the loss was kept secret until this March. The story was then leaked by the Federal Reserve to a hand-picked San Francisco newsman when Rep. Wright Patman (D-Tex.), chairman of the House Banking Committee, got wind of the affair and demanded a full explanation.

During a routine study of the minutes of the New York Federal Reserve directors, Patman came across a notation that the bank was absorbing part of a $7.5 million loss caused by the destruction of government securities in the San Francisco bank.

ASKING QUESTIONS about this curious matter, Patman learned the bonds actually were "missing," and that a quiet Treasury investigation had produced no evidence to back the claim they had been "accidentally burned." To get at the bottom of the mystery, Patman sponsored the three-member subcommittee headed by Reuss.

The probers have ascertained that when the Treasury and Federal Reserve finally "invited" the Secret Service into the case, only three agents were assigned to it.

Also that a private company was employed by the Secret Service to give lie detector tests to 18 bank employees.

THESE POLYGRAPH examinations took place between Aug. 27 and Sept. 25, and drew a blank, according to the report of Thomas Hansen, special agent in charge of the San Francisco office.

That was the end of the Secret Service inquiry.

The FBI has never been brought into the case — although it has followed it closely.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

A distinguished young man-about-town was driving his sports car at a cool 80 miles an hour when an uncooperative motorcycle cop flagged him down and demanded to see his license. He looked it over carefully, then barked, "Besides everything else, you're supposed to be wearing eyeglasses." "Think nothing of it, officer," said the M.A.T. airily. "I've got contacts." "I don't give a darn who you know," declared the cop righteously. "You're getting a ticket anyhow."

Marin Schools Featured On TV Show

Television cameras' visits to San Rafael and Dixie District schools and to a pathologist's laboratory provided a story of Marin County educational advances to be shown on station KPIX (Channel 5) at 1:30 p.m. Sunday.

Seven San Rafael schools were surveyed for a depiction of the city's "More Able Learner" program.

Two Dixie District programs were depicted at a single school, Santa Margarita. These were the "mothers' aid program" and "special teacher" work conducted throughout the district to give intensified aid by special teachers sent into specified classes.

On the television depiction in explanatory roles will be Robert E. Shore, coordinator of the San Rafael "More Able Learner" program; Raymond Riley, principal of Santa Margarita School, and Penrod Moss, curriculum consultant for Dixie district.

Science projects, creative writing, abacus arithmetic, debate, primary grade science, instrumental music, slide rule instruction and a special program for junior high school students will be included on the San Rafael portion of the program. The doctor's office visited was that of Dr. John H. Manwaring, pathologist, who has been working with a group of junior high school students on a microbiology project.

THEY HIT THE SPOT IN 'HIT THE DECK'

Crowd pleasers in the Ross Valley Players' production of the Vincent Youmans musical, "Hit The Deck," are Linsday Ouellette (as Bilge Smith) and Linda Pavlow (Loo Loo). The musical will be repeated tonight and tomorrow at 8:30 p.m. in the Barn of the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross.

Rotating House In Novato Open To Public

The rotating round house on Harkle Road in Novato will be open to the public for the next two weeks, said Sam A. Harkleroad, owner.

"More than 5,000 people have visited the house so far," Harkleroad said, with 300 to 400 curious people coming by each weekend.

The revolving house is next door to Harkleroad's other oddity, a parabolic house at 13 Harkle Road. Both are plainly visible on the hill above Highway 101.

Harkleroad said that during the 20-minute tour of the house, he turns it on so that people get a full 360 degree ride around it. There is an admission charge.

He plans on moving into the house in about two weeks and will probably close it to the public then, he said.

Aluminum Flashing Dumped On Hillside

A quantity of aluminum flashing in the sun on a hillside south of San Rafael wasn't result of an airplane crash as feared, but only of someone dumping scrap metal, county Fire Chief Louis Bloom reported today.

The waste siding apparently was carried up a fire road by some person unknown and thrown onto the hillside above Black Canyon at a point where it was visible from Glenwood. Bloom said the culprit hasn't been identified but notification has been set to the owner of the property.

Breakfast Planned

The College of Marin Athenium Club will sponsor a breakfast from 9 to 10 a.m. tomorrow on the lawn in front of the library for persons who worked to produce the two-day campus open house tonight and tomorrow.

"Our city is more competently governed as a result of your persistent and dedicated efforts"

These words are from Philip S. Ehrlich, Jr., former mayor of Sausalito, in a letter to one of our Independent-Journal reporters.

They go far beyond being a compliment to your newspaper. They point up the role which a responsible newspaper must assume if it is to further good local government.

They bring to focus the image of our reporters . . . sitting in council chambers throughout Marin County, night after night . . . sitting in for you, by proxy, to report and to inform you of issues which concern you as a citizen.

Were you in their place you would see that reporting of public events never can be just another job. You would soon see that the REAL ISSUE for society is that public affairs are reported . . . freely and openly that all who read may know.

That is the role of your newspaper. A guarantee in writing, you might say, that the gavel falls only on issues . . . never on your freedom and the right to know.

April 2, 1963

Mr. Bruce Coleman
42 Corte Madera Ave.
Corte Madera, Calif.

You have unfailingly reported our business in accurate, fair, and very intelligible stories which have helped to keep our citizens well informed of the Council's actions.

I know it must at times be very burdensome to sit night after night without being able to put in your "two cents' worth". However, it is obvious that you enjoy your work and that you have a knack for catching the essence of these meetings. Your restraint and good judgment is manifest in your reporting. Our city is more competently governed as a result of your persistent and dedicated effort.

Both the Council and the citizens are very dependent upon you and your paper. Keep up the good work.

Sincerely,

Phil Ehrlich

Opening lead — ♠ J

The Colonel opened the jack of spades from the West hand. South won with the king of spades and returned the nine of clubs for a finesse.

UNCLE WON

Uncle Throckmorton won with the queen of clubs and did some thinking. Clearly, the Colonel had the ace of clubs. Just as clearly, South had the queen of spades; so there was not much future in the spade suit.

After deep thought my uncle returned the deuce of diamonds. This gave declarer a diamond trick, but paved the way for the defeat of the contract.

When the Colonel took his ace of clubs he could return a diamond, and three diamond tricks would put South down.

STUBBORN PARTNER

Unfortunately for Uncle Throckmorton, he had a stubborn partner. The Colonel stared at the deuce of diamonds and rasped "No spades, young man?"

When the Colonel got in with the ace of clubs he led another spade instead of pushing a diamond through dummy's king.

Naturally, South made the contract; and my uncle returned to civilian life.

MORE FLEXIBLE

Today's colonels are a more flexible breed. They would see the brilliance of the switch to diamonds, and they would keep a fine tactician in the army.

Still, I sometimes wonder how accurately my uncle gave me the hand. Perhaps South had five diamonds and only two spades. A spade return would put South down three; and only a diamond return would allow South to make the contract.

Neither the army nor the bridge table is the place for a man who picks the wrong time to be brilliant.

In 1775, Ethan Allen and his "Green Mountain Boys," the colonial militia of Vermont, stormed the British-held fortress at Ticonderoga, N.Y.

In 1865, Jefferson Davis, Confederate president, was captured and arrested as he was fleeing from Irwinville, Ga.

Grid Great 'Big Daddy' Lipscomb Dies Mysteriously

BALTIMORE, Md. (UPI)—Gene (Big Daddy) Lipscomb, 290-pound tackle of the Pittsburgh Steelers pro football team, died suddenly today and a preliminary autopsy report said "there is a certain suspicion of narcotics in this case."

Lipscomb, 31, was found fully clothed and unconscious on the kitchen floor of a friend's apartment. An ambulance took him to Lutheran Hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

A preliminary autopsy on the body of the famed football star, noted for his huge size and strength, was made by Dr. Rudiger Breitenacker, assistant city medical examiner.

"We are checking a makeshift syringe found near the body for possible traces of narcotics," Dr. Breitenacker said.

Dr. Breitenacker said the preliminary autopsy did not disclose the cause of death "at this time."

The assistant medical examiner said a report on the syringe might be made later in the day but that it would not be known until next week whether narcotics were present in the organs of Lipscomb's body.

Lipscomb was found on the floor of a house belonging to Timothy Black, 25.

Police said Black told them he and Lipscomb took two girls to a party last night. Later they took the girls to their home and, after leaving them, went to Black's house. Black said he stopped at a local lunchroom to eat while Lipscomb went ahead to the house. Black told police he found Lipscomb unconscious when he arrived.

A spokesman for Lutheran hospital said Lipscomb arrived at the emergency entrance at 7:55 a.m. EDT.

Police said Lipscomb was unconscious and breathing heavily when the ambulance arrived at the house but he apparently died en route to the hospital.

The six-foot, six-inch Lipscomb, whose playing weight was 283 pounds, achieved all-pro distinction in the National Football League without ever having played college football.

A native of Detroit, the huge tackle learned to play the high-powered kind of game favored by the pros while serving in the marines.

He signed with the Los Angeles Rams for the 1953 season and for three years was known as little more than a routine lineman in the NFL.

But in 1956 he was traded to Baltimore and it was with the Colts that he blossomed into one of the most feared linemen in the league.

Gifted with amazing agility for a man his size, "big daddy" was one of the key factors behind the Colts' championship drives in 1958 and 1959.

He later was traded to the Steelers and after two mediocre seasons, he regained his peak form last fall when Pittsburgh became a championship contender.

In his last professional game, the playoff bowl in Miami last January, Lipscomb played one of his finest games against the Detroit Lions.

Dodgers Not Easy To Overpower, But We Pick Giants To Win Two

CONNOLLY

As the old professor used to say—"Und comes it now."

Tonight in Los Angeles, before as many people as can crowd their way into the ball park and before a Northern California TV audience of millions, the mighty Giants of S.F. and the once-feared Dodgers collide in the first of a three-game series that could come mighty close to establishing, for the season, the largest outpouring of baseball fanatics.

Both clubs are at the peak of their form. The Dodgers, with turmoil and wrangling and back biting put aside, come into this three-game set to with their three best pitchers ready.

The Giants, redhot and forging ahead in the flag chase, are primed also. It is really remarkable that the S.F. club can spare the hefty bat of Willie Mays and still roll along. But that is the truth.

Don Drysdale, ace right hander; Sandy Koufax, strikeout southpaw of the league, and Johnny Podres, a lefty midget with the heart of a lion, were especially picked for this series against S.F.

Manager Alvin Dark likewise wiggled his pitching staff into form and has Jack Sanford, Juan Marichal and either Jack Fisher or Billy Pierce ready to throw their pitching weight around.

ALL OF the National League has been aware of the Dodgers' wrangling, but apparently those involved are straightening out matters for, of late, they have been clicking and nobody has called anybody else names.

Walter Alston, Dodger skipper, has been given the green light by owner Walter O'Malley and Buzz Bavasi, the general manager, has put the silencer on Lippy Durocher or, so it seems, for the moment.

There is nothing spectacular about the Dodgers as a fielding ball club. They've had a leaky infield, a good outfield and fair to middlin' pitching. Only of late has Tommy Davis, their big gun last year, begun to make his move. And when he and Willie Davis and the other blaster—Frank Howard—shoot the works, they are not an easy club to overpower.

MAURY WILLS, the base stealing terror of the 1962 Dodgers, hasn't started to steam up yet. He's been hurt for a spell but is prepared tonight to turn his speed loose. John Roseboro, catcher, and his sidekick, Doug Camilli, possesses very potent bats. Add them to the clubs carried by Bill Skowron, Don Fairly, Jim Gilliam and a kid named Nate Oliver and you readily understand the Gants are in for a crucial test.

No ball team could do much better than the Giants have on their first eastern road trip. They lost one game, were rained out in another and bounce into the Dodgers series as the hottest they've been all year.

The loss of Chuck Hiller, the injury to Jimmy Davenport and the slow start of Willie Mays hasn't seem to check the National League champions. Anyone who knows Willie and has followed his record, knows he gets his hits in bunches. And this three-game tussle beginning tonight might be just what the "Say Hey Kid" needs to take off.

THE NICEST surprise package to the Giants was the pitching of Jack Fisher. After two bad starts he came to life on the road and, while he staggered in his last time out, had enough runs to chalk up his second victory of the season.

One of the remarks Fisher made when he was acquired by the Giants was to the effect he knew he could win with a club who could get him some runs.

Billy Pierce, popular southpaw who has been clobbered in his last three starts, might get the nod against the Dodgers. He handled them nicely last season and now that he is properly rested might do it again.

Drysdale, Koufax and Podres are a real rough hand to draw to but with Stanford and Marichal in the pink, I'll still pick the Giants to grab the odd game out of three.

San Rafael To Keep Swim Title

San Rafael High School will keep its championship honors of the Marin Athletic League swimming meet held last Saturday, it was announced today.

The Bulldog varsity swimmers won the five-team meet, scoring 88 points, with Tamalpais High placing second with 76 points. But after the close of the meet it was found that one of the members of a winning San Rafael relay team was not listed for the event.

The technicality caused a stir, because a disqualification of the San Rafael team from the race would give the first place points to Tam, which finished the 200-yard medley relay in second place. With the added points, Tam would then have been the meet winner.

But after a meeting yesterday of the MCAL Board of Managers, made up of principals of the schools in the league, it was determined that San Rafael would not be disqualified from the race and the point margin would remain.

Actually, there was not an official vote yesterday because there was not an official protest.

Protests must be made within 24 hours after the event and Tam principal Robert H. Prather had not made one. The meet was held Saturday and Prather had not been informed of the matter until Monday morning, he said today.

ERROR DISCOVERED

The San Rafael error had not been discovered until after the close of the meet. League commissioner George Corson found the mistake while checking the list of boys who qualified for the North Bay Section Division III trials scheduled for tomorrow in Santa Rosa.

San Rafael's Tom Brockbank swam in the relay instead of Steve Graham, who was the listed entrant.

Said Prather today:

"My feelings are that the disqualification should have been automatic. This is a gray area of the league rules and needs clarification. But I am accepting the majority ruling."

Robert McKeay, president of the board of managers, said today there wasn't any action to take because there was no formal protest.

"There were too many people that should have picked up the inaccuracies before the race," McKeay added.

Novato '9' Wallops Marin Catholic

Novato High School's baseball team blasted the Marin Catholic nine 11-0 yesterday in a Marin Atheletic League game played on the Novato field.

Novato hurler Chuck Overmyer scattered four hits in quelling the big bats of Marin Catholic which didn't ever threaten. Overmyer helped his own cause by hitting three for three, which included a double and a run batted in.

Sophomore catcher for Novato, Ron Rowell, got three singles and two RBIs and Rusty Druba smashed three singles and got one RBI. Other big hitters for Novato were Tom Miller with two singles and a run batted in and Bob Paris with two singles and a RBI. Paris is the only senior on the Novato team.

Marin Catholic hurler Ron O'Connell, who was relieved in the fourth, suffered the loss for the Wildcats.

Line score:

Marin Catholic	000 000 0	0	4 4
Novato	100 217 x	11	17 1

GIANTS INVADE L. A.

Sanford, Drysdale Battle In Opener

Combined AP & UPI

LOS ANGELES — The San Francisco Giants are five full games ahead of the Los Angeles Dodgers as the teams collide tonight in their first meeting of the National League season.

The Giants took the last game, Oct. 3, 1962, by a 6-4 score—and with it went the pennant—in a playoff series that became necessary when they tied for the league championship.

GAME ON TELEVISION

Tonight's game will be televised by KTVU, Channel 2, starting at 7:40 o'clock.

Don Drysdale, who has been ineffective in recent starts, is tonight's pitching nominee for the Dodgers. He will be opposed by Jack Sanford (5-1), and always tough on the Dodgers.

Drysdale has been trying to recuperate from a bruised and sore muscle in his throwing arm and a foot injury.

The Dodger business office says the first game of the three-game series will draw 45,000 or more.

Southpaw Sandy Koufax is scheduled to pitch against the Giants' Billy Pierce, also a southpaw, Saturday night, and Bob Miller of the Dodgers faces Juan Marichal Sunday.

The National League's top hitter, Felipe Alou, and catcher Ed Bailey each batted in three runs in Milwaukee yesterday as the Giants whipped the Braves, 8-2, behind lefty Billy O'Dell's seven-hit pitching. It was the ninth win for the Giants in their last 10 games, and it enabled San Francisco to remain two full games ahead of Chicago and St. Louis, who are tied for second place in the standings.

Alou's seventh homer of the year accounted for two runs in the third inning and he doubled home another in the sixth. Alou also tallied four times.

Bailey singled in a brace of runs in the fifth after accounting for the first with a sacrifice fly during the preceding frame.

A single by Willie McCovey drove across another Giant run in the sixth inning and Willie Mays' second single of the contest chased in the final run during the ninth.

One Milwaukee run scored on Joe Torre's sacrifice fly. Spahn came across with the other as second baseman Joe Amalfitano erred on Frank Bolling's grounder.

O'Dell became the seventh San Francisco pitcher to go the distance during the Giants' nine victories against one loss on an amazing road trip.

Manager Alvin Dark, who leans heavily on the time-worn phrase "we're playing one game at a time," was pleased by O'Dell's route-going performance, but insisted complete games don't mean too much.

With a flock of good hitters and a tight defense, the Giants' only weakness in pre-season forecasts appeared to be pitching. However, they have been sailing along with starters Jack Sanford, Juan Marichal, Jack Fisher and O'Dell, and Billy Pierce in standby for spot assignments.

"We went out to get another starter pitcher last winter and came up with Fisher in a trade with Baltimore," Dark said. "He has been doing a fine job for us, winning three games so far."

Encinal Yacht Club To Host Opening Regatta

By ALFRED MATSON

The Encinal Yacht Club of Alameda is sponsoring the curtain raiser on the summer program of racing for the sail boats of YRA qualifications this weekend.

The regatta is in the nature of a stop gap, a fill in for the classic Vallejo Race, an officially casualty because of an unresolved difference of opinion between the Yacht Racing Assn. and the sponsoring Vallejo Yacht Club. However, in this regard, all is not lost as on the following weekend, May 18-19, there will be a semi-private, bob-tailed version, under the auspices of the IC class officers and open to boats of certain one design classifications only.

To fill up the gaping hole on the program, the good officers of the Encinal club offered to stage a two day regatta. Their noble gesture was given the nod of approval by YRA but on the basis that no season's points would be given. Without this incentive, it will be interesting to see how many boats show up at the starting line, for pleasure and a possible bauble.

Tomorrow's racing will be confined to the Cruising Club and Division entries. The start will be from an imaginary line between the Committee Boat and a flagged stake boat, approximately 1,400 yards south-southeast of the end of the Berkeley Pier. First out of the chute will be Cruising Club "A" at noon with the other divisions following at 5 minute intervals. Sunday will be class day with the ICs heading the parade at 11 a.m.

Judo Matches For Youngsters Set Tomorrow

Competitive judo matches for juniors aged six through 17 will be held tomorrow at 1 p.m. at the Marin Catholic High School gymnasium.

More than 100 contestants are expected to participate. Marin schools participating are Novato Dojo, San Rafael Military Academy, Tiburon Recreation Center and the Marin School of Self Defense, Larkspur.

In addition to the matches, there will be demonstrations of advanced judo, ju jitsu, aikido and karate techniques. Mel Augustine, who placed third in the United States National Judo tournament, will be the chief referee.

The matches will be free of charge.

STEVENS

The select few who have been wont to fish St. Helena Creek in Lake County (and what a bonanza that has been) will be forced to other waters due to the F&G not stocking that stream because of access problems.

However the planting of various central coast area waters is scheduled for this week, depending, of course, on water and road conditions.

They are: LAKE COUNTY—Anderson Creek, Big Canyon Creek; MARIN COUNTY—Rodeo Lagoon on Fort Cronkhite; SAN FRANCISCO COUNTY—Lake Merced Impoundment; SAN MATEO COUNTY—Gazos Creek, Pescadero Creek, Purisima Creek; SANTA CLARA COUNTY—Stevens Creek Reservoir, Upper Uvas Creek from Svedal upstream to county park area; MONTEREY COUNTY—Arroyo Seco Creek upper section, Carmel River, Los Padres Reservoir, Nacimiento River upper section; SAN LUIS OBISPO COUNTY—Atascadero Creek, Chorro Reservoir, Lopez Canyon Creek, Reservoir Canyon Lake, San Simeon Lagoon.

ALWAYS, it seems, something in the way of fish bait appears on the market. We're all used to seeing canned salmon eggs, which we know are effective for trout. We've seen dried grasshoppers, which anglers have found effctive in the taking of black bass when properly handled, and, naturally, we are well familiar with the many artificial lures imitating minnows, frogs, crawfish and eels. But most of us know full well that any artificial lure is inferior to a natural bait.

Why talk about it? Just because I have had on my desk for over a month two plastic bags containing the real thing—preserved. One bag contains minnow so fresh looking it is a temptation to pick one up and drop it in the frying pan. The other bag has grubs, also apparently the real thing. I haven't the slightest idea who sent those baits, but I sure will test them out.

BUT TO top all artificial or preserved baits is something that came in the mail yesterday. It is called Miracle Shrimp, and believe it or not it is a real shrimp. By a new process known as "Freeze Drying"—a combination of fast freezing and vacuum drying—99.94% of the moisture has been removed.

Following directions, I took one of the bait-size pieces and dunked it in water. The thing looked, felt and tasted like a freshly caught shrimp. I'm wondering how many local anglers know how good a bit of bait such as a lare shrimp is. It's a killer for almost all species of fish we have in the bay waters—yes that includes the striper.

I only have a couple dozen of these shrimp baits, but to the first 10 readers who send me a self addressed and stamped envelope I'll share them. It will be a good way to prove or disprove the question of how good shrimp bait is for our local waters.

How do you know when your shocks are dangerously bad? Your car "bottoms" on bumps. "Lurches" at stops. "Leans" on curves. The tires wear unevenly. Ask a United Delco serviceman to check your car now. MARIN TRACK FINALS

Preps To Assault Records Tomorrow

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Marin's prep track men will be out after more records tomorrow when the finals of the Marin Athletic League meet are held on the San Rafael High School field.

Field events are scheduled to start at noon, with the running events getting underway at 2:30 p.m.

Marin's athletes showed some great times and distances last Friday when the trials of the MCAL were held on the Redwood High School oval. Five varsity records, seven Class B and two Class C records were shattered in the trials.

Top show of the day was put on by San Rafael's Bob Olsen who snapped records in both the 100 and 220-yard dashes. He flew the century in 9.9 and sprinted the 220 in 21.7. He'll be out to duplicate his performance tomorrow.

The top eight finishers in each of last week's events qualified for the finals. The first five finishers in the varsity and Class B events tomorrow will qualify for the North Coast Section Division III trials which will be held May 18 on the San Rafael High School track.

In the hurdles, Redwood's Tam Strathairn should provide a pair of wins for his Giant team. He won the 180 low hurdles last Friday in record time of 20 flat and won the 120-yard high hurdles with a time of 15.4.

Another record-breaker who should provide quite a show around the broad jump pit is Ellis Williams of Tamalpais High School. Ellis broke his own 1962 record last week with a jump of 22-4 and ¾.

REDWOOD RELAY

The other varsity mark to fall last week was the 880-yard relay which was won by Redwood's team of Bob Piro, Pete Holter, Dave Auerbach and Strathairn. Their time was 1:32.3.

San Rafael's Mike Shafer will be after a new mark in the 440, and will be going all out. He set the MCAL record of 49.9 last year and breezed to a 50.1 in the trial last Friday.

The high jump and pole vault events could produce records. The high jump record is 6-1½. Tam's Art Foster, who won last year at 6-1, and Henry Solen of San Rafael, who has cleared 6-2 this year, stand the best chance. Strathairn can't be counted out of this event as he has cleared 5-11 this year.

VAULT RECORD

In the pole vault, Drake's Tom Farber has gone 11-7½ and Redwood's Bill Dimpfl has gone 11 feet. Record for the MCAL is 11-4½. In both the high jump and pole vault events last Friday, the athletes performed only to qualify so nothing startling happened.

In the class B competition, top stars will be Dean Lazzarini of Drake in the sprints, Redwood's Jack Lindahl in the 660, Rick Edwards of Terra Linda in the 330, Clem Glynn of San Rafael in the discus, Mike Holloway of Tam in the broad jump and Terra Linda's Edwin Stenberg in the 1320.

Class C record breakers who will put out their best are Drake's Manuel Saenz in the broad jump and Tom Jones of Novato in the sprints. San Rafael's fleet Jeff Chan will be out to avenge his defeat last Friday in the 75-yard dash. It will be the last meet for the Class C cindermen.

Redwood Golfers Remain Unbeaten

Redwood High School golf team remained undefeated yesterday with a 4-2 win over Terra Linda and Drake High handed Marin Catholic its 10th straight loss, 4-2, in Marin Athletic League action yesterday.

Doug Ferguson of Terra Linda was the medalist yesterday at the Marin Golf Club with 38. Redwood winners were Rick Webb, Bob Scheffer, Fred McDougall and Buzz Beatie. Other T.L. winner was Fritz Porter.

Medalists in the Drake-Marin Catholic match were M.C.'s Russ Taylor and Drake's Bob Brackett, who lost his match 1 up to Taylor. Both shot scores of 39 on the Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club course.

Drake winners were Mike Meherin, Russ Richeda, Gordy Nelson and Phil Baiocchi. Other winner for Marin Catholic was Steve Schilling.

League standings for the prep golfers:

	W	L	T
Redwood	9	0	1
Novato	6	1	2
San Rafael	5	2	1
Tamalpais	3	2	2
Terra Linda	1	4	2
Drake	3	6	0
Marin Catholic	0	10	0

Marin Swim Stars In NCS Meet

Marin's top prep swimmers will leave tomorrow for the North Coast Section Division III qualifying heats which are scheduled for the pool at Santa Rosa High School, beginning at 10 a.m.

The top six finishers in each of the varsity and Class B events last Saturday in the Marin Athletic League meet qualified for tomorrow's meet. The top six in each of tomorrow's events will compete May 18 in Santa Rosa in the North Coast Section finals.

Besides the MCAL, top swimmers in the North Bay, Northwestern and Catholic Leagues will be clashing tomorrow. There will be three heats in each event, with the top six times qualifying for the "big meet."

Representing the Marin Athletic League will be swimmers from San Rafael, Tamalpais, Redwood, Drake and Terra Linda.

Track Meet Off

The fifth annual Riemcke Relays for youngsters in the Redwood elementary district, scheduled for tomorrow at 9 a.m. at Redwood High School, has been cancelled, it was announced today.

San Rafae Tennis Stars In North Coast Net Playoffs

Harvy Klyce, Bill Pendergrass and Warren DeGraff — all from the undefeated San Rafael High School tennis team—will represent the Marin Athletic League in the North Coast Division III tennis playoffs tomorrow in Berkeley.

The matches are scheduled to start at 9 a.m. on the Berkeley High School courts. Singles champion Klyce and the doubles team of Pendergrass and DeGraff will be competing against the top players of the other Division III leagues.

In San Rafael's last dual match in the MCAL, the three stars were among the winners as the Bulldogs shut out Tamalpais High School 5-0 last Tuesday for their seventh league win without a defeat.

Other singles winners for San Rafael in that match were Greg Parkerson and Ron Klyce, Harvey's brother. The other doubles winners for San Rafael were Rick Dykes and Bob Howe.

Sohner Softball Action To Start

Sohner Tree Service will open its 1963 softball season tomorrow when the Treemen host Nicasio at 6:30 p.m. at San Anselmo's Memorial Park.

In an attempt to repeat as Marin County softball champs, the San Anselmo nine will send either Jay Leatherwood or Lou Perazzo to the mound against Nicasio's Dick Johnson.

Sohner's probable starting lineup and batting order: Ken Cuneo, rf; Earl Beyer, 3b; Art Donati, c; Ron Jerome, ss; Milt Hain, 1b; Dan George, lf; Keith Fraser, cf; Bob Gini or Earl Ramponi, 2b; Leatherwood or Perazzo, p.

Cars Race Again At Vallejo Track

The speed-happy lead-footers of the Bay Cities Racing Assn. will roll again tomorrow night at Vallejo Speedway in their weekly 10-event race program.

A total of 58 cars participated in last week's action-packed, crash-packed program —with two sensational flips and a pulse-throbbing spinout into the crash wall highlighting the action.

The 8,500-seat speedway is located three miles north of Vallejo on Napa Highway.

Gates swing open at 6 p.m. The time trials get underway at 7:30 p.m., and the first of the heat races starts at 8:30 p.m.

TROUBLE—Doug Sanders hits a shot from behind a tree on 18th hole during first round of Colonial Invitational tournament in Fort Worth, Tex., yesterday. Sanders bogeyed the hole, but his round of 67 was good enough to take the lead. (AP Wirephoto)

Sanders Grabs Lead In Colonial Tourney

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Personable Doug Sanders, brandishing a blazing putter, carried a one-shot lead into the second round of the $60,000 Colonial National Invitational golf tournament today.

The easy-going Georgian with the unorthodox swing whittled three strokes from the grudging Colonial course yesterday during an afternoon marked by the disqualification of Don January.

January, who was invited to the tournament only after a lengthy PGA-Colonial controversy, played the wrong ball on the eighth hole and was forced to withdraw when he discovered his error.

Sanders' 67 gave him a one-stroke lead over Bill Collins of Grossinger, N. Y.

Seeking to regain the title he won here in 1961, Sanders one-putted 12 greens while rambling 17 holes without a bogey.

A wind-whipped approach shot at the final green landed in the lake and it took a miraculous recovery to salvage a bogey and preserve his lead.

Jerry Barber and Bob Rosburg were the only other pros to dent the sprawling 7,021-yard layout's regulation 70, each registering 69s.

Packed in a six-way tie for fifth with 71s were Jack Nicklaus, Bruce Crampton, Gardner Dickinson Jr., Phil Rodgers, Tony Lema and Julius Boros.

Nicklaus, with three tour titles including the Masters already tucked away this year, played far below his standard from tee to green but a magic putting wand held his game together.

Defending champion Arnold Palmer started with a birdie on the first hole but steadily gave way to par and wound up in a crowded group of 74 shooters.

NATIONAL LEAGUE ROUNDUP

As Frank Robinson Goes, So Go The Cincy Redlegs

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

There's fresh proof today that the Cincinnati Reds go as Frank Robinson goes.

National Leaguers actually put it another way.

"When Robinson's not hitting," they say, "it's like playing a team tha't blind-folded when it bats."

The 1961 N.L. champions seemed blind-folded, at that, for the first three weeks of the season. They were shut out four times and held to one run three other times as they stumbled around in a hit famine that was enough to make Manager Fred (The Bear) Hutchinson tear up the clubhouse furniture.

Then, Robinson, the N.L.'s most valuable player in 1961 and a .342 hitter with 39 homers and 136 runs-batted-in last season whose average this year had dwindled to a sickly .261, suddenly burst out of his slump. And what a coming out party it was!

5-FOR-5

All Robinson did last night was go 5-for-5, with two homers, a double and two singles, score three runs and drive in seven to pace the Reds to a 13-3 rout of the Houston Colts. Teammate Vada Pinson weighed with 3-for-5, three runs scored and four RBI's to make it a breeze for Jim Maloney to chalk up his fourth victory against one loss.

Robinson's splurge raised his 1963 average 40 points to .301 and gave him six homers and 22 runs batted in.

The San Francisco Giants downed the Milwaukee Braves, 8-2, the St. Louis Cardinals turned on the Los Angeles Dodgers, 10-7, the Chicago Cubs beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 3-1, and the New York Mets defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 3-2, in other N.L. action.

Robinson hammered a two-run double to cap a four-run third-inning rally, hit a two-run homer in the sixth and added a three-run round-tripper in the eighth to round out his one-man attack on Houston pitchers.

GRAND SLAMMER

Bill White hit a grand slam homer, Charlie James connected for a three-run round-tripper and Gene Oliver connected for a two-run blast as the Cardinals collected 17 hits against five Dodger pitchers. Bob Gibson went 6⅔ innings to win his first game for the Cardinals.

The Cubs ran their winning streak to six games, longest since 1961, on the strength of the two-hit pitching of Dick Ellsworth. Billy Williams and Ron Santo had two hits for the Cubs, who have won nine of their last 10 games.

The Mets ran their winning streak to four games when reliever Johnny Klipstein's ninth-inning wild pitch let pinch-runner Al Jackson score from third with the winning run. Relief pitcher Ken MacKenzie, who pitched a perfect ninth inning in relief of Roger Craig, received credit for his third straight victory.

'IT WILL NEVER CHANGE'

Retiring Teacher Declares Tam High District Is Finest

WONDERFUL SCHOOLS—Mrs. Annie Beth Watson, retiring after a teaching career that began in 1927, declares that Tamalpais High School District is the finest. Her most recent post was teaching English at Sir Francis Drake High School.

Mrs. Annie Beth Watson of 27 Cypress Avenue, San Anselmo, admits she sometimes hears criticism of California schools.

"But none of it ever applies to the Tamalpais Union High School District," she staunchly declares. "It's the finest, and I'm sure it will never change."

A teacher since 1927, Mrs. Watson feels qualified to judge. Ill health now is forcing her to retire from service in the Tamalpais district which she has served since 1945 but though she hadn't planned on retirement for several years she finds consolation in the fact that "I've been with wonderful schools."

Mrs. Watson was born in Waco, Texas, and did her first teaching near there. This was over a seven-year period. She is a graduate in English and French of Baylor University and did graduate work there.

Other graduate work was done at East Texas State, College of Pacific and San Francisco State. She also studied at a special school of drama and speech arts in Texas where between teaching jobs she worked in radio, as a director of dramatic schools and in junior theater projects.

Her interest in Marin County was fanned by glowing reports from two brothers, both physicians—Dr. A. B. Goddard of Mill Valley and Dr. Wilson Goddard of Bolinas. But when she came here in 1945 both brothers were off in war service, which hardly detracted from the warmth of welcome for she was greeted by their families and friends.

With her were two children, Sam, then 7, and Martha, 8. She started teaching with emergency credentials and served at the Park Elementary School in Mill Valley for three years. As time went on she fulfilled the requirements for life credentials.

Then she taught speech and English at Tamalpais High School until in 1952 she moved to Drake High School as a teacher of English. It was from Drake that she found it necessary to take leave for illness during the 1962-3 year, before deciding on an enforced disability retirement.

"I am sure," she says of the Tamalpais district, "that no other faculty knows the security, understanding, regret and appreciation, as well as the academic freedom, that are afforded ours.

"As a professional person and an individual I have experienced justifiable pride in serving the students of this district. Tamalpais is the finest—there is no finer anywhere."

CAMPUS RECITAL—Violinist Mary Ellen Mullan will appear with pianist William Armstrong in a recital of sonatas in Angelico Hall on the Dominican College campus in San Rafael Monday at 8 p.m. The recital is a presentation of the college's music department.

School Board To Act On Contaminated Well

Trustees of the Bolinas-Stinson Union School District Wednesday declared they will either have to chlorinate or dig a new well at Stinson School and decided to look into chlorination.

The well has been closed off for two months since it was found to be contaminated with bacteria in the water. Paul Ryan, Bolinas plumber, was asked to discuss chlorination with the County Health Department.

Trustees also discussed revisions in the 1963-64 salary schedule, including a 3 per cent across-the-board increase in salaries and upgrading of plateaus on the schedule. No action was taken. The subject will be discussed again at a budget meeting to be held at 8 p.m. May 22 at Bolinas School.

Trustees voted to continue speech therapy with the county for $2,100, of which about $1,800, according to clerk Arthur E. Carpenter, will be reimbursed by the county.

Crown Painting Co. of San Rafael was awarded a contract of $2,965 to paint Bolinas School, inside and out, the job to be done this summer.

Registration for first graders will be held between noon and 3 p.m. at Bolinas School Tuesday, Carpenter said.

Sausalito's Planning Head Going To Europe

Mel Wax, chairman of the Sausalito Planning Commission, will leave Wednesday for a three and one-half month European trip. Wax said he will be accompanied by his wife, Charlotte, and daughter, Martha, and that he plans to vacation and do some writing.

Robert L. Nissen, vice chairman of the commission, will act as chairman during Wax's absence.

ENJOYING A breathtaking panorama of lower Marin and San Francisco on a hilltop not far from their home in Mill Valley is the John Hopkins family. The Hopkins adopted their two sons, "Shag" William Francis, left, Joey and daughter "JJ" Jennifer Jeanne through the offices of the Children's Home Society of California, a statewide, non-profit, private adoption agency now in its 77th year. (Bob Hax photos)

A Family That Loves To Love Most Of All

This will be the third time in court for John and Lorraine Hopkins. First it was to complete the adoption of "Shag," William Francis, 3½ years, then for "JJ," Jennifer Jeanne, 2½ years, and next Wednesday it will be for "Joey," Joseph Ignatius, not quite a year old. The informal hearing before a Marin County Superior Court judge will conclude a procedure which began last July with the arrival of Joey in the Hopkins household.

"AS SOON AS Shag was placed with us we made known our desire for another child," says John Hopkins, a successful young attorney who, with his wife and their three adopted children, lives in a hillside home in Mill Valley with a commanding view of lower Marin and a breathtaking panorama of San Francisco. "Frankly, our original goal was three children, but now our minds are far from closed," he says.

The Hopkinses adopted their two sons and daughter through the good offices of the Children's Home Society of California, a state-wide, non-profit, private adoption agency which is now in its 77th year of service.

Charming Lorraine Hopkins points out that all of the children were under two months of age when first placed in their home by Children's Home Society.

"Procedurally, agency adoption is quite simple, despite the insistence upon certain safeguards for the protection of the children and the natural and adopting parents, says attorney Hopkins, who has himself handled adoptions for clients in Marin and other counties. He recently represented the Beardsleys in their "mass adoption" in Monterey County which involved a total of 19 children.

IN URGING prospective parents to consider adopting through an agency in preference to a so-called "private" adoption, Hopkins points out that the intermediate activities in an agency adoption which lead up to the relinquishment of the child by the natural parent and which thereafter determine the placement of the child, performed by skilled and sympathetic social workers, tend to provide a better system for evaluation of the natural parents, the children, and the adoptive parents, and convince him that an agency like Children's Home is best suited to perform these services. Hopkins stresses that "doctors and lawyers are not by nature or profession skilled social workers." Moreover, unlike in most private adoptions, anonymity of all parties is assured in an agency adoption through Children's Home Society.

HIKING IS AN activity which the entire family enjoys. The Hopkins were referred to the Children's Home Society by the Catholic Social Service. Hopkins, a San Francisco attorney, recently represented the Beardsleys in their "mass adoption" in Monterey County which involved a total of 19 children.

A Salute To Women In The Service

By DOROTHY NEWELL

Attention is being focused on the men and women at Hamilton Air Force Base as Armed Forces Week is observed all over the nation next week. The women in the Air Force (WAF) are an integral part of the base.

The WAF was established on June 12, 1948 with 32 of the 44 airmen specialties open to the women.

At Hamilton, WAF are assigned as air traffic control and warning specialists, medical and dental assistants, parachute rigging, communications specialists, administrative clerks, stenographic technicians and as an off duty assignment, four of the WAF are members of the Base honor guard which takes part in ceremonies and parades and public events in the Bay Area.

The local unit also claims the only WAF to be stationed at the radar station at Mt. Tamalpais and a reserve WAF officer who is a lady provost marshal.

TAKING THEIR basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, the girls divide their time between drill, marching, scrubbing dormitories, polishing shoes and keeping themselves well-starched and presentable.

Young women who have a college degree can apply for a direct commission and if selected, attend a short course at the Officer Training School at Lackland. They are selected for promotion comparable to promotion for men. The air force also has the airman commissioning program which is operated on a co-educational basis.

COMMANDER OF the WAF Squadron Section, 78th Bomb Combat Support Group is Lt. Doris J. Patterson, formerly of Pennsylvania. She served during a previous tour at Hamilton and came back to Mill Valley to make her home. While attending College of Marin, and as an active reserve, she was asked to return to active duty as commander of the WAF squadron at Hamilton.

As commander, her duties are much the same as a dean of women's position in college. Her main job is to oversee the welfare of the women, the standards of clothing, uniforms, behavior, and counsel on personal problems.

M/Sgt. Betty L. Arnold, the first sergeant of the squadron, assists Lt. Patterson in her duties. Among Sergeant Arnold's duties are inspection of quarters, directing new personnel in squadron policies, and showing the new arrivals the advantages in the area in regards to hobbies, shops, trips, theaters and entertainment. A great deal of office work is also included in Sergeant Arnold's duties.

Sergeant Arnold will be retiring July 31, following 20 years in the service. She said she would change to just plain Miss as of that date, but if she found an eligible bachelor she wouldn't mind changing it to Mrs.

Her favorite hobby is bowling and she will be in Colorado Springs this week competing in the division bowling tournament. If the team wins it will be eligible for the world wide tournament at Dyess, Tex.

A tour of duty during the occupation in Japan, and stationed at Yokahama was one of the best times she had while in the service, Sergeant Arnold said.

A/3C Brenda Ogle of North Carolina is one of the many airmen stationed at Hamilton. Living on WAF hill, where the view is superb, the girls have their individual rooms in the barracks. The girls are encouraged to decorate their rooms in any way they choose, with pastel shades of paint given to them. Airmen must live on the base unless they are married. Brenda is an administrative helper, or clerk typist with the 78th Combat Support Group.

The oldest women's branch within the air force is the Air Force Nurse Corps.

CHIEF NURSE at Hamilton hospital is Lt. Col. Edna L. Phariss, a veteran of battlefield service with the 47th Field Hospital in Europe. Assisting her is Maj. Mary A. Tonne, a flight nurse who served with air evacuation units during the Korean War and is among a selected group of nurses assigned to air force recruiting duty. Maj. Tonne is also chief nurse of Ward 6 at Hamilton Hospital.

Lt. Nancy Richardson is among the many married nurses at Hamilton. Her husband is a pilot with the 41st Air Rescue at Hamilton, whom she met after coming to Hamilton.

Serving as a corpsman or nurses aid with the hospital group is another young airman, A/2C Judy Burson of Peoria, Ill. Judy will be married in July to A/3C Grant Bailey, whom she met while stationed at Hamilton. Her reason for joining the Air Force was to travel and learn while earning some money.

According to a spokesman at Hamilton, there are 13 men to every woman at Hamilton.

ANOTHER DIVISION at Hamilton is the manpower organization. Assistant Chief is Capt. Marjorie Balch, a University of Washington graduate who stated that she had been no further east than Chicago when she joined the service 11 years ago. Since that time she has traveled half way around the world.

The manpower organization division determines the number of workers needed in any area. In essence, the number of cooks, bakers, etc. required for base operations, Capt. Balch said.

CAPTAIN BALCH was formerly commander of the WAF at Hamilton, the job now held by Lt. Patterson. She will be leaving Hamilton this summer for a three year tour of duty at Mildenhall Air Force Base in England.

Armed Forces Day will be celebrated at Hamilton on May 18 with the public invited to attend.

LT. NANCY Richardson, right, checks A/2c Judy Burson as she gives a bottle to 9 months old William A. Lopez, Jr., son of A/2c and Mrs. William A. Lopez. William was one of six child patients in Ward 6 at Hamilton Air Force Base hospital. (Independent-Journal photos)

Republican Women Will Sponsor Study Group On Legislation

The Marin Federation of Republican Women will sponsor a study group on "Congress and Legislation" on May 21 at the home of Mrs. Robert T. Brown in Greenbrae. This is a departure from the club's usual monthly luncheon meetings.

Ray Paschke of Santa Rosa, field representative for this area for Congressman Don H. Clausen (R-Crescent City) will address the group, after which two groups will be formed for discussion and study. Our discussion unit will concentrate on Congress and how we can help our Congressman, while the other studies current legislation, according to Mrs. Robert S. Milmoe, vice president and program chairman.

Coffee and rolls will be served upon arrival at 9:45 a.m. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Matt A. Graham, Mrs. Patrick Ness or Republican headquarters.

Paschke, who has established the local Congressional office in Rosenberg Building in Santa Rosa, was formerly legislative assistant to John Busterud, who represented San Francisco's 21st District in the California State Assembly. He is a graduate of UCLA.

Three members of the club attended the Northern Division meeting of the California State Federation of Republican Women in Richardson Springs on May 6 and 7. They were Mrs. Lee Sherry of San Anselmo, vice chairman of the Marin County and the California State Republican Central Committees, Mrs. J. Lee Chaille of Sleepy Hollow, president of the local club, and Mrs. Genevieve C. Longley of Larkspur, local parliamentarian.

The club's next event is a champagne-tea on the grounds of the D. C. Gabrielsen estate in Ross on May 23. General chairman is Mrs. William Ghilotti of San Anselmo.

Sausalito P-TA President Enjoys Music, Traveling

When Mrs. Eugene M. Huggins assumes the presidency of the Sausalito Central-Bayside Parent-Teacher Assn. for the next year, she will be no stranger. A member of the P-TA for six years, she served as chairman of the "Family Night Dinner" in 1962 and was historian in 1958.

Mrs. Huggins feels the P-TA is a vital organization of the school in that the ultimate purpose should be to improve communications between parents, teachers and school administration.

She and her husband have lived in Marin for nine years. He is technical liaison officer with U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. Edmonton, Alberta, Canada is her birthplace, and she received her basic education there and in Calgary and attended Edmonton Business College.

Three children, Chrissie, 10, Eugene, 6, and Rachel, 3, and her husband are the big joys of her life, but she also likes music in all forms and traveling. Collecting art catalogues of exhibitions of the past 20 years is also a pet hobby of hers along with restoring and refinishing furniture.

Hopkins Referred To Society By Catholic Social Service

Service. They attended a group meeting at the San Francisco office of the Society and sat with other couples interested in adoption. "A pleasant and relaxed experience," was how Lorraine Hopkins put it.

"The social worker who took our first case was a revelation," Mrs. Hopkins said. "She understood our needs and helped us to realize that the agency's primary thought is for the child and how he or she will fit in or relate to the prospective parents."

LORRAINE HOPKINS confessed that many of her friends doubted that Children's Home would approve their home for child rearing, sitting as it does on a steep slope in Mill Valley. "But we learned that people come first," she said. The Hopkinses also learned that income is not of primary importance in an adoption, either. "A good home is more important," John said, "and if the couple's income is such that the adoption fee would be a hardship, the fee can often be adjusted."

"SHAG" AND "JJ," brother and sister, resemble Lorraine Hopkins very strongly. Joey has dark eyes and hair like his Dad, John. Shag and JJ love puzzles and reading, and the whole family loves to hike. All of Mount Tamalpais lies right at the Hopkins' front door, and few trails remain unexplored. John and Lorraine look forward to the day when the children can join them on the ski slopes and tennis courts.

MANY ARE THE activities of this busy family, but most of all it loves to love. Guess that's what does make the world go round after all, especially a little world on the top of a hill in the sleepy town of Mill Valley.

Strawberry Round-Up To Feature Games

Stanley J. Gallagher, president of the Strawberry Point School Parent-Teacher Assn., will be head "Cow Poke" when the association presents "Round-up Day" on May 18 from 1 to 5 p.m.

A new game, the "Fishing Pond," will be provided for the toddlers this year and the smallest "fry" may fish for prizes. Other games will be Grab Bag, Goldfish Booth, Swing the Villain, Shooting Gallery, Baseball, Rope-a-Steer and Wet Sponge. Sixth grade Girl Scouts will run the Wet Sponge booth and serve as targets for the soggy missiles. Mrs. Roy Montgomery and Mrs. Alden Wuoltee are games chairmen.

Other chairmen are Mrs. Richard Burns, fun house; Erland Koski, hayride; Verne Bonette, golf; Mrs. Herbert Maher, make-up; Harold Roberts, hamburgers and hot dogs; Mrs. Bliss Woodland, cake and coffee; Mrs. Edward Smith, ice cream and milk; Mrs. Horton Hinshaw and Mrs. Kenneth Duffin, candy; Mrs. Leon Willat, cotton candy; Mrs. John Linker, popcorn; Mrs. John Reidel, sno-cones; Mrs. Ed Shugart, balloons, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert McGough, food.

Cub Scout Pack 33, which is sponsored by the P-TA, will set up its Indian teepee and display hand crafted articles made by the Cubs.

Especially for adults is the plant booth featuring driftwood arrangements, cuttings and plants gathered by Mrs. John Binkley and Mrs. William Praun, co-chairmen; the white elephant sale run by Mrs. Charles Drolla and the art and hobby show run by Dr. and Mrs. William L. Clark.

Chuck wagon dinners will be served by chief chef Mrs. C. B. Crowell and her assistants, Mrs. William Moschette and Mrs. James Sullivan, from 4 to 6 p.m.

Mrs. Lindy Kell, sixth grade teacher, will ride herd on the "teachers' bake sale" with parents and teachers donating.

Others helping are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Toso and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Van Houten, decorations; Mr. and Mrs. John Fixes and Mrs. Edward Dill, finance; Mrs. Burns, tickets; Mrs. Alfred Goldberg, publicity; Koski, construction; Thomas Merrill, electricity, and Jay Fiske, public address system.

The Wrist Is Focal Point

The simple, untrimmed lines in women's clothes are an excellent background for the new fashions in gold filled jewelry, according to the Jewelry Industry Council. These exciting jewelry creations were designed to meet today's fashion needs and are most effective in dramatizing a Spring ensemble — without fracturing even small budgets.

THE FOCAL POINT in today's new gold filled jewelry is the wrist, with bracelets in a variety that blend with the trend toward shorter sleeves and the simple lines of women's dresses and suits. Gold filled bracelets styled in today's new fashions lend themselves beautifully to these new simple lines.

Combinations of good taste may be attained by the use of three or four bracelets from any of the following groups; bangles, plain or engine-turned, turned tubes, scarabs, twisted wire, and a variety of chains.

ALL OF THESE are available at your jewelers' and may be selected from a wide variety, including bracelets of cultured pearls and gem stones.

Earrings, a "must" in every feminine life, may be selected to complement the bracelets and necklaces. When used as a classic or conversation piece for the hip, shoulder, or glove cuff, pins of contrasting or harmonizing design are effective.

Marin MAGAZINE
Bright reading for the whole week

Featured this Saturday:

National Hospital Week will be observed in Marin and throughout the country starting Sunday. The theme this year is the vocational and professional opportunities which are open to young people in the hospital field. In keeping with that theme, the Independent-Journal Marin Magazine salutes the four general hospitals of Marin tomorrow with a story about their junior volunteer programs.

Marinites are an artistic—and a versatile — lot. Tomorrow's Marin Magazine will feature stories about practitioners of two of the more unusual and interesting art forms. Mrs. Audrey York of Fairfax will tell you about her hobby of silk-screening. And the second article will deal with the many professional dancers who reside in the Bay Area and continue here their study of dancing.

Among the most popular features in the I-J Marin Magazine are the frequent pictorial stories it presents on some of Marin County's finest and most unusual homes. Tomorrow's magazine will offer a "tour" of one of the most attractive and most extraordinary dwellings yet covered—the residence of Dr. and Mrs. Morris R. Katkov and family, especially planned for its sylvan Ross setting.

Marin's own magazine . . . picturing and reporting life in Marin today . . . personalities, recreation, coming events, book reviews, gardening, music, home improvement, weekly TV log. A week of good reading. Look for it, Saturdays.

Low Tide At Bolinas, From High Up

Bolinas is in the foreground, San Francisco in the far background, of this lofty aerial photograph including a considerable part of western and southern Marin County though stopping short of the national seashore-to-be on the Point Reyes Peninsula.

Most of the immediate foreground is actually under water, but it's at low tide which clearly exposes the narrowness of existing channels leading in from Bolinas at the lower right closely confronting the tip of the Stinson Beach sandspit. New homes on the sandspit may be seen extending up from close to its tip. At the upper portion and to the left of the spit is the newly dredged lagoon, a haven of quiet water to be surrounded by luxury dwellings all boasting the finest marine facilities.

Above, the town of Stinson Beach may be seen with the Shoreline Highway snaking along the cliffs to the south, then emerging to pass the lagoon enclosure and finally reaching, at lower left, the Audubon Society's Canyon Ranch and tidelands bird refuge. Ultimately it is expected that this road will be carried above the town of Stinson Beach to prevent mixing of through and local traffic. The lower Panoramic Highway also may be seen.

At upper left may be found Angel Island beyond the tip of the Tiburon Peninsula, with Strawberry Point also visible and Mill Valley homes inland. Marinship may be detected but the main part of Sausalito lies behind the high ground of Waldo.

Towers of the Golden Gate Bridge are barely perceptable over the hills. Point Bonita is the most projecting Marin point at the south. Rodeo Lagoon lies back out of sight but Tennessee Point can be observed this way from Point Bonita.

Various San Francisco areas stand out clearly, the most obvious being the Presidio and the long dark strip of Golden Gate Park, with Lincoln Park including Fort Miley between. Mount Sutro and the Twin Peaks may also be found.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Difficult To Determine If Patient Should Continue Cathartic Habit

VAN DELLEN

Many oldsters have spent a lifetime fighting the battle of constipation because of the laxative habit. It is difficult to determine whether they ought to continue as before or try for more natural movements. In my opinion, they should follow the line of least resistance and continue with the laxative, provided it is not irritating the intestine.

Most of these men and women have used a variety of cathartics. It is the same old story: Constipated today; a laxative tomorrow. This results in emptying the entire bowel. No stool on the following day because there is nothing to pass. The man then regards himself as constipated and the cycle repeats itself. The regular use of a massive colonic irrigation is even more vicious. Such practices remove completely the desire to let nature take its course.

THERE ARE OTHER causes of constipation among the aged. The muscles involved in the act of defecation may lose their tone with the passing years. In many instances, this follows or becomes more noticeable after a prolonged illness or because of obesity.

Poor dietary habits or lack of teeth may reduce the amount of bulk consumed. An inadequate fluid intake also plays a role. The oldster also is prone to neglect the signal that a movement is in order. In time, the reflex is lost and constipation ensues.

MOST CONSTIPATED individuals have no distress except gas or a feeling of fullness. Others develop a dull ache in the lower abdomen. Headaches and dizziness are noted occasionally but these symptoms are not the result of auto-intoxication, or the absorption of poisons from the intestine as once was thought.

No one dies of ordinary constipation but the oldster should not ignore the condition, especially if two or three days elapse without a movement. There always is a possibility of an impaction or that the hardened material will aggravate rectal disorders such as hemorrhoids. A suppository or small enema usually does the trick. Thereafter, an attempt should be made to correct the cause.

(Dr. Van Dellen will send leaflet on constipation if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

BOARDER LIKES GARLIC

L. P. writes: I board an elderly man who insists on eating raw garlic every night because he thinks it helps hardening of the arteries. I'm much against this practice because it smells up the house. Does garlic really affect arterio-sclerosis?

REPLY

No, but you might find it difficult to convince your boarder, especially if he is Italian or Greek.

CAN'T TAKE THYROID

W. K. writes: Why is it some people can't tolerate thyroid tablets after a thyroid operation?

REPLY

Because they may not need them. In such instances, enough thyroid tissue remains to maintain normal metabolism.

BALDNESS INHERITED

I. V. writes: Is baldness due to anxiety and hypertension?

REPLY

No. The majority of male baldies can blame their ancestors.

NO CURE YET

A. S. writes: Is it true that newspapers, radio, and TV soon will announce a definite cure for arthritis?

REPLY

Not to my knowledge. If a cure is found, I hope you will read about it first in this column.

Today's Health Hint — The oldster who has dizzy spells should get out of bed carefully and slowly.

Graduation Is First In Eight Years

The first graduation in eight years will be held at the Union Elementary School, the board of trustees decided at its meeting Wednesday night.

This year the school will graduate three eighth grade students, said Mrs. Eleanor Pomi, clerk of the board. Tentative plans call for graduation ceremonies to be held at 1 p.m., June 14, at the school, she said. Dr. Virgil Hollis, county superintendent of schools, will be the speaker.

For the past eight years there have been no graduates, because pupils have moved away before reaching the eighth grade.

The school registered three first-grade students for next year, she said. However, there will be a drop in enrollment for next year from 13 to 11 students because two students are moving from the district, Mrs. Pomi said.

Radio, TV Award

Robert H. Glassburn of Greenbrae, program director of KRON-TV, last week accepted the "Outstanding Industry Award" from the Radio and Television Guild of San Francisco State College, for the documentary series "Assignment Four."

Youth 'Mayor' Announces Staff

Appointments of city staff members for "Youth in Government Day" on Monday have been announced by San Rafael "Mayor" Rick Raznikov.

San Rafael High School students will tour city offices with their counterparts. The San Rafael Kiwanis is sponsoring the day.

The appointments are: Bob Gunnarson, city manager; Doug Childress, planner; Karen Childress, superintendent of schools; Tom Degenhart, recreation director; Steve Smith, director of public works; Bruce Wold, fire chief; Sue Knopf, building inspector; John McKinnon, city engineer, and Mike Riggs, photographer.

Census Bureau figures indicate that only 3 per cent of the population spends an entire lifetime in one dwelling and only 15 per cent remain in the same county throughout their lives.

'Eddie's Father' A Family Comedy

By LESLIE DARD

A look at what is new this weekend in the Marin movie houses:

RAFAEL THEATER

"The Courtship of Eddie's Father" is a good family comedy. It stars Glenn Ford, Shirley Jones, Stella Stevens, Dina Merrill, Roberta Sherwood, and a 7-year-old newcomer, Ronnie Howard, who plays Eddie.

Eddie and his father's lives have been shattered by the sudden death of his mother. After a while Eddie realizes their luxurious apartment needs something more than a motherly housekeeper.

He sets out to find daddy a wife.

The boy plays cupid, as he gets guidance from grown-ups with a series of precocious questions. In fact the engaging boy steals the show from adults of the cast.

MOTOR MOVIES

"Damn the Defiant" is a sea drama filmed with color, scope and skill, starring Alec Guinness and Dirk Bogarde with an all male cast.

Based on Frank Tilsley's novel, "Mutiny," it sketches the barbarous conditions under which British seamen labored in the early 19th century. It illustrates Britain's battle with Napoleon.

Guinness, as captain of the HMS Defiant, is an advocate of the "happy ship" theory. Bogarde plays the sadistic type who believes in laying on the whip with the rope.

When Guinness is injured in battle, Bogarde assumes command, and his brutality brings about mutiny.

"Best of Enemies" stars David Niven and the Italian comic Alberto Sordi, and is a delightfully amusing comedy.

SEQUOIA THEATER

You'll never feel quite the same about your pet canary after you've seen Alfred Hitchcock's "The Birds".

You could enjoy "The Birds" half way through as if it were a good romantic comedy set in the more glamorous environs of San Francisco, then moving to the quaint fishing village of Bodega Bay. But suddenly—from out of nowhere—bam! comes the Hitchcock horror.

Starring beautiful blond newcomer Tippi Hedren, Rod Taylor, the male lead, Suzanne Pleshette as his ex-girl friend, and Jessica Tandy as his neurotic mother.

LARK THEATER

Held a second week are two British comedies.

"Kill or Cure" starring Terry Thomas as a slightly myopic private eye retained to operate in a health-fad sanitarium. He's a bumbling gumshoe, and the "health" treatments take constant kidding.

Co-featured is "All at Sea" with Alec Guinness managing to portray a mere seven roles: a retired salt and his sea-faring ancestors.

101 DRIVE-IN

Jerry Lewis romps again in "It's Only Money".

The hare-brained comedian plays a TV repairman who has a yen to be a private detective. His first case is to uncover the heir to an electronics fortune. It turns out to be—you guessed it—Lewis himself.

Co-featured is "Girls, Girls, Girls! with Elvis Presley, in which he manaegs to sing no less than 14 songs.

NOVATO

Hollywood is justifiably proud of its film translation of the six-million copy best seller "To Kill a Mockingbird". It is one of the most moving and eloquent pictures of this or any other year.

Essentially, it is the story of how two motherless children learn the values of life as they grow up in a sleepy Alabama town during the depression.

Gregory Peck received for his role as a lawyer and widowed father of the 10 year-old boy and his 6 year-old sister.

The children's lives are greatly altered by appointment of their father to defend a young Negro accused of raping the simple-minded daughter of a shiftless white farmer.

While the trial of the innocent Negro is but a small part of the film, it nevertheless contains the most profound meanings for the children, and thus the audience.

TAMALPAIS

"My Six Loves" and "Advise and Consent" combine to make a fine evening's entertainment.

In the former Debbie Reynolds plays a musical comedy star heading for a rest at her Connecticut home. There, she finds six abandoned waifs camping on her property — and the fun begins.

"Advise and Consent" brings to life the novel by Allen Drury with all the force of history in the making.

It has a star-studded cast, and specifically the story deals with a Senate investigation for secretary of state, and the pressures and prejudices brought to bear upon it.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

"State Fair" has a big, bright, and brilliant cast which includes Pat Boone, Bobby Darin, Pamela Tiffin, Tom Ewell, Alice Faye, in her first picture in many years, Wally Cox, and the new beauty, Ann-Margaret.

This fine musical includes melodies like "It Might As Well Be Spring" "It's a Grand Night For Singing" and at least five new songs.

Co-featured is the satirical farce "I like Money," which Peter Sellers directs and stars in.

FAIRFAX THEATER

"Miracle Worker" and "Manchurian Candidate" holds forth at the Fine Arts.

The former is the stirring story of blind, deaf, mute Helen Keller and her first awareness of the world around her. It concerns the 7 year-old child and her encounter with Annie Sullivan, the Irish girl who was her first teacher.

Anne Bancroft won best acting honors and Patty Duke the best supporting actress Oscar for their exceptional performances as the teacher and the young Helen, respectively.

"Manchurian Candidate" stars Laurence Harvey, Frank Sinatra, Angela Lansbury and Janet Leigh in the film about brainwashed GIs.

Tam High School Sets 'Bermuda Day'

May 22 will be "Bermuda Day" at Tamalpais High School, a senior function to raise money for the senior ball.

Students in all classes may buy tickets which entitle them to wear Bermuda shorts. Any student wearing Bermudas without buying a ticket may be subject to a fine.

Bermuda Day is an annual affair. However, last year the event was not held because in 1961 some students became over-exuberant, resulting in water balloon fights.

Grocers predict that within 10 years 75 per cent of the nation's potato crop will go to processors.

Showman Is Divorced

LAS VEGAS (UPI)—Showman Harold Minsky, producer of girlie package shows in New York, Las Vegas and at the Seattle World's Fair, was divorced here yesterday by his wife of 16 years on grounds of mental cruelty.

Now being shown at the gallery are paintings by Glenna Bolland of Stinson; driftwood and stone sculpture by Ernest Stainton of Stinson; jewelry by Winifred Stewart of Bolinas, and pottery by Farhad Moezzi of San Rafael.

Also being shown are paintings by Kent Rupp, Belvedere; paintings by Margaret Brunn, Bolinas; ceramics by Betty McClure, Inverness; jewelry by Nina of Sweden; photographs by Jurgen Snyder, San Francisco; scarves by Jane Olds, Stinson; batik by Joann Grohman, Stinson, and shell dolls by Sarah Baroni, Bolinas.

West Germany is about the size of Oregon.

AT PARK SCHOOL

Players Open Season With 'Tea, Sympathy'

The Homestead Players will open their third season May 25 with "Tea and Sympathy" at 8:30 p.m. at Park School auditorium in Mill Valley. Following performances will be June 1 and 8.

The play, by Robert Anderson, is being directed by Lew Levinson, drama teacher at San Rafael High School. Initially it was to have been presented at Brown's Hall but the site was shifted after the damaging March 14 fire.

Cast members are from Mill Valley, Tiburon, San Rafael, Novato and Hamilton Air Force Base.

Bob Landis, a San Rafael High School senior who resides at Hamilton Air Force Base, plays the lead role of Tom Lee, a victim of cruel treatment of his prep school classmates. Julie Shearer of Mill Valley plays Laura Reynolds, the headmaster's wife; Jack Eshleman, Mill Valley, her husband, Bill.

Steve, Al and Ralph, Lee's classmates, are played by David Suhl of Tiburon, Joe Robinson of San Rafael and Pete Rockwell of Novato. Others in the cast are Mac McDonald as Herb Lee, Sylvia Bijok as Lilly, and Leo Liederman as Harris, all of Mill Valley.

Tickets may be obtained through Mrs. Barton W. Shackelford of 219 Meda Lane, Mill Valley, or at the door. The Players, according to president Barbara Aleshire, welcome production crew volunteers. They are invited to see Mrs. William Kelly of 143 Carlotta Circle, Mill Valley.

Mill Valley Chamber Board Gains Three

Lawrence A. Mayer, Herman Boldetti and Granville L. Beedle were appointed Wednesday by the Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors to work with a city council subcommittee discussing a council proposal to raise business and professional licenses in the city.

The proposal has been suggested in an effort to keep the 1963-64 budget down. Council subcommittee men are councilmen Michael Wornum and George D. Monardo and City Mgr. A. E. Almerants.

California is the leading honey-producing state in the nation.

Large Tiburon Group Talks Of Incorporation

About 30 persons, a large group compared to previous similar meetings, showed up Wednesday at the first in a series of six public meetings of the Tiburon Peninsula Incorporation Committee.

Among them were representatives from the Bel Aire, Belveron Gardens and Paradise Drive property owners.

Although previously announced that boundaries would be discussed, the meeting was devoted to answering questions about plans for incorporating the proposed city of Tiburon by the committee and its legal counsel Leland H. Jordan.

"The large attendance shows increased interest by the property owner associations in such questions as the second bridge crossing and the proposed annexation of portions of the Tiburon business district to Belvedere," Mrs. Elva Paske, chairman, said.

Families Needed For Emergency Children Care

Marin County's Welfare Department is receiving applications from families wishing to provide emergency temporary care to children from newborn to adolescence, according to announcement today.

Because such homes are on call at all times they are paid a $100 monthly subsidy additional to $2 a day for each child received. Homes must be able to accommodate a minimum of three children, at short notice.

"Children who need receiving home care," says a department announcement, "are in a crisis and need to have foster parents who can lessen the shock."

Two of three present homes are closing shortly, it was explained, creating an immediate need.

Paper Salvage Drive Announced

A newspaper salvage drive May 25 and 26 has been announced by the Terra Linda Guild of the Boyd Natural Science Museum to raise money for the museum's Christmas bazaar.

The drive to which the I-J has donated 1,000 pounds of paper, will take place in Scotty's Market parking lot, Terra Linda.

Goal of the drive is to fill two 10-ton vans, bringing an estimated $120 to the Guild, said drive chairmen, Mrs. Edwin P. Brennan and Mrs. Urban E. Wild Jr. of Terra Linda.

The drive will last from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. May 25 and 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. May 26. Approximately 25 members of the guild will participate

German Shepherds Win Prizes

Two young German shepherd dogs, owned by members of the San Geronimo Valley 4-H Club, were prize winners at the fourth annual San Mateo County Guide Dog Puppy Field Day held at Half Moon Bay.

Portia, owned by Melinda Tarr won a second prize, and Ryme, owned by Mary Gilstrap, won a fifth prize. Their dogs were among entries from 57 4-H Club members from nine counties.

Army Captain In On Intelligence

HEIDELBERG, Germany (UPI) — The Army announced yesterday that Lithuanian-born Capt. Alfred Svenson, who crossed into East Germany Saturday, was a former intelligence officer who has some access to security information.

An Army spokesman said the 30-year-old Svenson had been intelligence officer of his unit, the Second Medium Tank Battalion, First Cavalry, Third Armored Division, until January, when he was made assistant executive officer.

Svenson has not been classed as a defector by the Army, although the East German news agency ADN has claimed he asked for political asylum.

Water District Lets 3 Contracts

Marin Municipal Water District directors Wednesday awarded three contracts and accepted a deed from the Housing Authority of Marin County for right-of-ways for a water tank, access road, and pipeline.

The board accepted the following bids:

1. $3,295.23 for 23 tapping valves and sleeves from the Goeniger Materials Supply of Oakland.

2. $1,937.32 for electrical materials to furnish three pump installations from the Graybar Electric Co. of San Francisco.

3. $336 for a microscope from the Aloe Co. to use in the laboratory to analyze water.

Liquor License Fee Share Is $62,479

Marin County and its cities have been paid $62,479 by the State Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control as their share of liquor license fees and fines collected during the six months ending on Feb. 28 of this year.

The allocation included $18,865 for the unincorporated area of the county.

Hub Youth Admits Two Car Thefts

A 14-year-old San Anselmo youth was questioned by San Anselmo police Wednesday and admitted two car thefts and two petty thefts, according to Chief Raymond Buchignani.

The youth was booked at juvenile hall on the charges.

A pint of vodka was removed from the glove compartment of a car belonging to Thomas Anderson of 69 Legend Road, Sleepy Hollow in the Magnolia Avenue parking lot.

Also stolen Wednesday by the youth was a half-carton of cigarettes and two Golden Gate Bridge commute books from the car of Joseph Evanchek, parked in the same lot.

The youth admitted to the theft of a car belonging to Fred Gowan of 75 Gustafson Avenue, Novato, Wednesday and another car taken on April 17 and later recovered on Crescent Road.

Three Suspected Of Stealing Gas

Three teen-aged boys in Marin City are suspected of stealing gasoline and damaging trucks of the Marin County Housing Authority Tuesday night or Wednesday morning.

Robert W. McAllister, maintenance superintendent, told sheriff's deputies the trucks are parked at the housing authority's maintenance yard in Marin City.

A wallet, found in one of the trucks, led Deputy William N. McKillop to track down the youths, aged 14, 16 and 17. The boys are cited to appear before juvenile authorities next Tuesday.

Hub Couple 'Adopt' Vietnamese Boy

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Case of 258 Butterfield Road, San Anselmo, have "financially adopted" Truong Van Dong, an 8-year-old Vietnamese boy, through Foster Parents' Plan of New York.

This involves a pledge to contribute $15 monthly toward the child's support for at least a year. A photograph accompanied by complete case history is provided. Letters to foster parents report on school progress monthly, explaining improvements in physical condition afforded by the gifts.

Car Wash Slated

A "Lavage a la Francais," or French car wash will be held by Terra Linda High School French Club students tomorrow from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Mobile Gas Station in the Terra Linda Shopping Center. Funds collected will go to the school's American Field Service student exchange program.

San Rafael Girl Gets $25 Science Award

A certificate and $25 cash award was made to a San Rafael girl last night for accomplishment in natural science.

Directors of the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum were recently asked by the Explorers Club of San Francisco to select a recipient of the Dr. Carl Eklund Memorial Award in this field.

Eleven-year-old Donna Louise McHugh of 129 Clorinda Avenue was announced today as the winner.

Museum officials said Donna had attended all classes conducted by the museum including marine life, reptiles and lapidary work. She was rated highly for her accomplishments in each class.

Hospitals Says No Drugs Gone

San Rafael police will not charge Dale Lyle Addison, 40, of 911 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, with stealing drugs because they are unable to find a hospital which is missing them.

Addison, facing a forgery charge in Marin Municipal Court, told police Sunday when he was arrested that he stole the drugs, which include procaine, from Ross General Hospital last week.

That hospital and other county hospitals, according to police, have not found any of their drugs missing. The drugs, taken after the arrest, will be destroyed because of spoilage after being taken out of refrigeration.

The large white pelican has a wingspread of more than nine feet.

Terra Linda Weed Control To Start

Weed control in Terra Linda will begin next week along Las Gallinas Avenue, recreation-parks district director Richard T. Conzelmann announced today.

The district board Wednesday authorized continuation of the weed spraying program which has already been completed under contract on Manuel T. Freitas Parkway.

The board agreed to ask Terra Linda merchants about the possibility of operating the district's snack bar at the swimming pool on a concession basis. If no private operator is interested, the snack bar will be managed by pool employees.
